$5 TO $300 DAILY LOSS IN OPERATING MOTOR BUS LINE

General Superintendent of Company Says Receipts Since February Were $45,000, Expenses $70,000.

"FRANK W. MARTIN" DIRECTED FINANCES

Large Sums, It Is Said, Were Paid to Him for Busses, but No One Knows How Many Were Delivered.

Officers of the Missouri Motorbus Co., operating the double-deck bus line between Sixth and Locust streets and Delmar boulevard and Hamilton avenue, testified, in depositions given today, that the company's dealings as to the purchase of equipment, were badly tangled, and that the line is being run at a daily loss. This loss has ranged on various days, it was stated, from $5 to $300, and has amounted to $25,000 since the line was instituted in February.

The cost of running the busses in that time, it was stated, has been about $70,000, and the receipts from fares, at 10 cents a person, have been $45,000.

The depositions were taken in the suit of the Commonwealth Finance Corporation of New York for a receiver for the Motorbus Co. and a restraining order to prevent the Tower Grove Bank from foreclosing mortgages which, it is alleged, it holds on property of the company.

"Frank W. Martin," president of the Martin Motor Truck Co., 2800 Pine street, whose real name is Arthur Raymond, and who disappeared from St. Louis June 6, after borrowing $200,000, was named in the testimony as having directed the financial operations of the company, and it was said that large sums were paid to him for busses, the number of deliveries of which no one could state. He is treasurer of the Motorbus Co.

Bought 40 or 50 Trucks.

Harry E. Prettyman, 5316 Pershing avenue, who stated that he invested $50,000 in the preferred stock of the Motorbus Co., and who was secretary of the company for a time, declared that he signed checks for large sums in payment of trucks. He said that his best recollection was that the company bought between 40 and 50 trucks. "Martin" was St. Louis agent for a company selling a number of the trucks to the Motorbus Co. Eleven busses are being operated here, and 10 others recently were attached in a Dayton, O., plant where bodies were being built on them.

Benjamin W. Marshall, 4206 McPherson avenue, president of the motorbus company, testified that he signed a mortgage for $30,000 given to the Tower Grove Bank to pay for trucks bought from "Martin," but that "Martin" did all the talking in the deal and that he did not know the number of chassis involved.

Marshall later testified, however, that he had been a receipt signed by "Martin," for 45 chassis, belonging to the Missouri Motorbus Co.

Signed Notes and Mortgages.

Marshall also testified that he signed notes and mortgages to the Commonwealth Finance Corporation for money with which to pay for trucks, but he did not know the number of trucks involved.

"Martin handled the whole thing himself," Marshall declared.

Prettyman described the manner of the formation of the motorbus company. "Some of the organization meetings were in the office of Oliver Frazier," he said. Frazier is an attorney in the Pierce Building who has acted as local agent for the Commonwealth Finance Corporation which now is suing him for an accounting of $400,000 which, it alleges, it placed in his hands to be loaned on automobiles. The corporation says that $100,000 of this money went to the motorbus company, of which he is a director.

Prettyman Was Secretary.

"Some of the meetings were in automobiles and some on street corners," Prettyman continued. "I paid for my stock with $20,000 cash and some securities, and I understand that the cash went to Martin for payment on motor trucks. One day we were in the Motorbus Co.'s office in the Wainwright Building. Marshall and Martin were passing around the offices. They asked me what I wanted. 'Anything you've got,' I replied, and they made me secretary.

"I retired from that office in March, however, and have since not concerned myself with the affairs of the company. I got no salary, no fees, not even a dinner or a drink. I don't know whether they had a minute book. If so, I didn't have it. We had no regular meetings at which there were motions and similar order of business. I signed the checks because the word 'secretary' was printed on them, but

U. S. Population Put at 105,000,000; Gain Below Other Decades'

WASHINGTON, June 25.

By the Associated Press

THE population of Continental United States is estimated at 105,000,000 by J. A. Hill, chief statistician of the Census Bureau. His calculation is based on the combined populations of 1406 cities and towns for which statistics have been announced.

The increase over 1910 is placed at about 13,000,000, showing the growth of the country has not kept pace with previous decades. Almost complete cessation of immigration during the war is the chief reason assigned for the falling off. Other suggestions were the two influenza epidemics, return of aliens to their native lands and deaths of soldiers during the war.

The population of the cities and towns on which the estimate was made is 41,029,354. This is an average gain of 26 per cent, compared with 35 per cent in the previous decade.

FIRE DAMAGES VARNISH PLANT; CAPTAIN INJURED

Interior of Building at 213 South Second Destroyed; John O'Rourke Hurt When Roof Falls In.

Fire Captain John O'Rourke of Engine Company No. 22 was injured by being struck on the head by a falling scantling today at a general alarm fire which destroyed the interior and part of the roof of the three-story brick building at 213 and 215 South Second street, owned by the Nu-Back Manufacturing Co., manufacturers of leather and mohair dressings, and partly occupied by that company and the Coverall Co., manufacturers of paints and varnishes.

He was on the third floor when a part of the roof fell in. He was carried out and sent to the city hospital, where it was found that he had two scalp wounds. Three other firemen received scratches.

The building, valued at $20,000, was purchased by the Nu Back company, two months ago and had been prepared for the occupancy of the two firms, both of which had moved into it stock valued at $25,000.

Arthur V. Schopp, president of the Coverall company, and William Emmert, a laborer, were the only ones in the building when Emmert discovered the flames in a rear room on the second floor at 10:15 a. m.

There were no varnishes or other inflammable material near where the fire started, which was a part of the building in which dressing rooms for employes had been constructed.

E. V. Wilkinson, president of the Nu Back Co., stated that 50 barrels of alcohol and a quantity of varnish had been moved into the cellar. The efforts of the firemen were concentrated toward preventing the flames reaching this inflammable material. Wilkinson said that the building and contents were insured. The present offices of the company are at 114 North Commercial street.

ALLEGED SUGAR AND SARDINE PROFITEERS HELD UNDER BOND

Brooklyn Grocer Charged With Making 7⅛ Cents a Pound on Sugar, Another 31½ on Can of Sardines.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, June 25.—Henry Boerchers, a Brooklyn grocer, indicted on 112 counts for profiteering in sugar, was held in $5000 bail when arraigned before United States Commissioner McCabe today. He is charged with making 7¼ cents a pound profit on 30,000 pounds.

Henry Vette, another Brooklyn grocer, was charged with selling an 18½-cent can of sardines for 50 cents and was held in $2500 bail.

Their examinations were set for July 7.

AGENTS FIND STILL FACTORY; SAY MEN OFFERED A BRIBE

Two Large Stills and Number of Smaller Ones Found in Tinshop at 1904 Cooper Street.

$1000 PUT IN HANDS OF LEADER OF RAID

Warrants Charging Bribery Issued for Two Men; Volstead Law Charges to Be Made Later.

Federal prohibition enforcement agents, who have been hunting for the place of manufacture of the well-made stills which they have been finding in raids throughout the city, last evening found two large stills and a number of smaller ones in the tinshop of Sam Russo and John Pellegrini, 1904 Cooper street.

The agents, three in number, say that Russo and Pellegrini tried to bribe them to "forget" the matter, and that Pellegrini placed $1000 in the hands of Chief Agent Digges, who headed the party. Warrants charging bribery were issued against Russo and Pellegrini today, and these will be followed by warrants charging the unlawful manufacture of apparatus for distillation.

Agents Tully and Nolan were with Digges at the time of the alleged attempt at bribery, which was followed immediately by the arrest of the two men.

Examination of some of the stills which have been taken in raids has caused the agents to believe that they were not home-made, but were the product of skilled workers. When they called at the Cooper street shop yesterday afternoon and found the stills, Pellegrini professed to know nothing about them. Russo came in, the agents say, and declared that the facts might as well be admitted.

"We'll square it with you," the agents say Russo promised them. "John and I will give you $500 apiece. If you will take him to his house, he will get the money."

Nolan drove Pellegrini to his home, 5123 Patterson avenue, and Pellegrini, after stepping into the house, reappeared and remarked, "Let's go." When they returned to the shop, the agents say, Pellegrini pulled a roll of bills, mostly ones, twos and fives, out of his pocket, and counted out $985.

"It's $15 short," they say Pellegrini remarked. "How about it?"

The agents say they made no reply and that Pellegrini reached into his pocket again and got another roll, from which he took $15 more. Russo, they say, then took the bills.

"Who'll I give this to?" the agents say Russo asked.

No response from the agents. Thereupon, it is charged, Russo handed the $1000 to Digges, who now has it as evidence. The two men were in the mounted district station soon afterward, for the night. They furnished bond today. The stills, and material for the making of more stills, were confiscated. The two large stills appeared to have a capacity of 100 gallons a day.

'LADIES AND GENTLEMEN' BARRED

English Clergyman Declares Words Have No Meaning.

By the Associated Press.

PORTSMOUTH, England, June 25.—The use of the words "ladies" and "gentlemen" is to be discontinued in the parish so far as he is concerned, says the Rev. Bruce Cornford in his parish magazine.

"The words have now absolutely no meaning," he writes. "Foolish class distinctions should have no place in the church. Even the Master called His mother 'woman,' while no one would insult St. Peter by calling him gentleman. The parochial council consists of men and women."

MRS. TODD LEAVES ESTATE TO FOUND ANIMAL HAVEN

Widow of Former Judge Directs That Institution Be Established in St. Louis County.

PHOTOGRAPHIC COPY OF WILL IS FILED

Most of $60,000 Will Go for Proposed Refuge — Document in Quaint Language and Hand Written.

A photographic copy of the will of Mrs. Mary Caroline Todd, formerly a resident of St. Louis, who died at the age of 90 at Daytona Beach, Fla., a week ago, has been filed in the Probate Court. The quaintly worded, hand-written document provides that the greater part of Mrs. Todd's estate, the value of which is estimated at $60,000, shall be used to found a haven, shelter or hospital for disabled, homeless, friendless and distressed dumb animals, in St. Louis County.

Mrs. Todd was the widow of Judge Albert Todd, one of the authors of the city charter of 1876, and a resident for many years of the Compton Heights region. He died in 1884. She has lived at Daytona Beach in recent years, and her will was made there in June, 1917. The original, which has been sent to Florida to be attested by a witness, is to replace the photographic copy.

Rassieur One Trustee.

In the will, Mrs. Todd appoints Leo Rassieur, former Probate Judge, and B. J. Dieterick of Springfield, Ill., as executors and trustees, with power to create a corporation for carrying out the purpose of building the haven for animals and carrying out the necessary business arrangements. If this corporation fails to carry out its purpose, the will declares, any citizen may sue "to remedy shortcomings."

Instead of the usual legal phraseology, the will begins by quoting the remark of a friend, as follows:

"Hiram J. Grover spoke the truth when he said, 'You have made every dollar you possess.' Thus I have a feeling of freedom, that I am indebted to no one for my small estate. By slow degrees, self-denial and heaven's blessing, I have it.

"From my childhood," the document continues, "I have had an earnest wish to lessen the wrongs of the world and inhumanity to animals. It is my intention to erect a haven or hospital in St. Louis or St. Louis County (the county is specified at another place in the will), for dumb animals."

Bequests to a Sister.

She leaves to her sister, Mrs. M. A. Davis, the life use of "the home which I made for her," and $8000 in trust, this to revert after her death to the institution for animals. The home is in Leavenworth, Kan. She leaves her Florida home to the benefit of the Caroline Johnson Memorial, a mission institution in Chu Ching, China.

In a series of bequests of personal articles to friends, this odd paragraph appears:

"I bequeath my god to my friend, Judge Leo Rassieur. Don't think me profane. It's a Chinese god, thousands of years old, of bronze that is a lost art."

The will says that if any beneficiary is dissatisfied, "I ask such, what are you leaving me in your will? Only a trifle, to one of refinement, gives pleasure and awakens gratitude."

The residue, after the personal bequests, goes to the proposed animal haven. Mrs. Todd, when last in St. Louis a few years ago, lived at the Park Hotel in University City. Her funeral was held at a St. Louis undertaking establishment Wednesday. The body was cremated.

LABOR REJECTS BOLSHEVISM

British Party Against Joining Moscow Internationale.

By the Associated Press.

SCARBOROUGH, England, June 25.—The Labor party conference here declined today by a card vote of 2,940,000 to 225,000, to affiliate with the Moscow Internationale.

The conference also refused to secede from the Geneva Internationale by a vote of 1,010,000 to 516,000.

The conference, by overwhelming majorities, rejected prohibition resolutions, but carried a resolution favoring local option.

Parcel Post Building for Chicago.

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, June 25.—A $650,000 parcel post building is to be erected as a temporary relief from the mail congestion in the postoffice, it was learned today. A 10-year lease was made by the Government at $800,000 rental.

ALDERMAN HALL NOT SEEN AT THE CITY HALL IN SIX WEEKS

Last Pay Check Sent to Chicago Address—Mail Later Delivered to Messenger.

Because of the continued and unexplained absence of Alderman Nathan H. Hall, the Twenty-first Ward has been without a representative at the last six weekly meetings of the Board of Aldermen.

Hall was last seen at the City Hall May 15, when he went to the Treasurer's office and drew a half month's pay. Aldermen receive $150 a month and a deduction of $10 is made from their salaries for each regular meeting they miss.

On June 1 a messenger delivered a note to the City Treasurer, asking that he forward Hall's salary to a certain address in Chicago. He made no claim for his pay of June 15, but two days later, a messenger went to the Clerk of the Board of Aldermen with a note asking that Hall's mail be given to the bearer of the note. The signature on the note was Hall's, but it was observed that the writing was unsteady, as though he were ill or nervous when he wrote it.

Friends of Hall, who were accustomed to meet him about town almost daily, say they have not seen him for about six weeks. He was not on the Aldermen's annual excursion on the harbor boat last Wednesday. His wife, who is suing him for a divorce, was there and told President Aloe of the Board of Aldermen she did not know where he was. He has not lived at his former home, 3934 Palm street, since his separation from his wife several months ago.

Ollie Boehm, employed in the Comptroller's office, a brother-in-law of Hall, today said he did not know Hall's whereabouts.

THOUSANDS LOST IN WAITERS' AND WINDOW CLEANERS' GAME

"If Each Can Lose $2000, I Want to Be Either Right Away," Says New York Prosecutor.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, June 25.—"If a waiter and a window cleaner can sit in a game of poker and each lose $2000, I want to be either right away," declared Deputy Assistant District Attorney Driscoll in Jefferson Market Court yesterday in opposing the discharge of the waiter, Harry Weiss, who was charged with maintaining a gambling house. Detectives testified that they saw Weiss and a score of window cleaners playing cards Wednesday night with a considerable amount of money before them.

Weiss' attorney admitted some "thousands of dollars passed in the game," but stoutly maintained the amount involved did not supply the "necessary element" to constitute a violation of State statutes. Weiss was discharged, as were several other players.

NO MONEY TO PAY DAMAGES

Auto Owners Can't Collect Claims in Collisions With Mail Trucks.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, June 25.—Damages asked for by owners of motor vehicles in collision with Government mail trucks cannot be paid because of absence of any funds for reimbursement, James S. Blaksley, Fourth Assistant Postmaster-General, declared today in a letter to H. B. Leary Jr. of this city, following a claim by the latter for damages.

Only an appropriation by a special act of Congress could meet the situation, the Assistant Postmaster-General said.

M'ADOO'S FRIENDS FOR AN AGGRESSIVE FIGHT; NEW MOVE BY "WETS"

BIG DELEGATIONS REACH FRISCO FOR CONVENTION

Delegates of Moist Sentiment Seem to Fear Result of Fight With Bryan on Plank.

WORK GOING AHEAD ON TEMPORARY ROLL

Reed's Case and the Georgia Contest Expected to Be the Only Ones of Much Difficulty.

By the Associated Press.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 25.—This was arrival day for delegates to the Democratic national convention. The first great in-rush began early in the morning and continued all day.

Among the delegations reaching their headquarters during the day were those from New York, four parties of them, from North Carolina, Montana, Missouri, Alabama, and Pennsylvania. While they were getting settled at their hotels first formal scenes of the party rally began at the great Municipal Auditorium the city has placed at the disposal of its guests. National committeemen are busy there making up the temporary roll under which the convention will organize Monday.

Three contests have been called to the committee's attention, but only one, that involving efforts to give Senator Reed of Missouri a seat with the delegation from that State, promised more than routine interest. Only one contest, that from Georgia, has been officially filed with the committee.

The Georgia contest results are expected by party leaders to be settled in favor of delegates friendly to the candidacy of Attorney-General Palmer for the presidential nomination, the decision carrying with it confirmation of Clark Howell as National Committeeman from that State. There appears to be no question as to the result in what is described as a "clear case" where statutory provisions in the State and party rules dictate the course of the committee.

The Reed case may prove more difficult to deal with. An effort to place the Senator on the floor of the convention, although the Missouri State convention rejected him as a delegate at large, is expected and, because of his attitude toward the administration during Senate battles over the peace treaty, it is said to be possible that strong resistance will be met before the committee.

Rejected by His State.

The Missouri State convention rejected the selection of Reed as a delegate by the Fifth district Democrats. The Fifth district re-elected Reed at a subsequent meeting. According to Executive Secretary Hollister of the National Committee, it is claimed Reed's re-election was illegal, and for that reason his name was not placed on the temporary roll for approval by the National Committee. It is also said by Hollister that James T. Bradshaw of Kansas City, an alternate, will be recognized as Senator Reed's substitute. The other regular delegate from the Fifth district is Joseph B. Shannon, Kansas City.

It is said that if Senator Reed's credentials are not recognized, an effort will be made by him to obtain a proxy in order to get on the floor and fight the administration plank on the League of Nations. Supporters of the Wilson administration make no secret of their intention to resist Reed's efforts to participate in the convention proceedings.

The third contest, from Oregon, is not regarded as a serious case and may not, it is said, materialize at all. In fact, National Committee officials do not know before assembling to examine credentials what appearance is to be made in any of the contest cases.

Overnight Developments.

Overnight developments show two matters that have been in a nebulous stage since the first Democratic leaders arrived here to be approaching more definite shape. These are the mysterious and persistent boom for nomination of William G. McAdoo, even against his flat declaration that he is not a candidate, and the conflict as to a prohibition enforcement plank in the platform. McAdoo adherents are said to be shaping their plans to withhold his

Weather Is Clear and Cool for Democrats Reaching San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO, June 25.

THE weather man produced another clear, cool, comfortable day, typical of San Francisco's best summer efforts, to welcome the train-weary Democratic travelers. A light sea breeze, cooled by the fog that rolled its masses far off the coast, tempered the brilliant sunshine and stirred the blood even of men who had spent a week crossing the continent.

HITCHCOCK WOULD DECLINE SECOND PLACE ON TICKET

Nebraska Senator Says He Is Not Candidate for Democratic Vice Presidency Nomination.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, June 25.—Senator Hitchcock of Nebraska announced today that he would not accept the Democratic vice presidency nomination.

Senator Hitchcock's announcement was made in a telegram to Arthur F. Mullen, member of the Democratic National Committee from Nebraska, answering a letter in which Mullen had said the Senator was being prominently mentioned for the vice presidency.

"I am not a candidate for Vice President and would not accept the nomination for second place," the telegram said.

The Democratic platform will not contain either a wet or dry plank, in the opinion of Senator Hitchcock, but he expressed the conviction today that it will include a strong League of Nations plank.

"I cannot conceive that the Democratic party will place a plank in the platform declaring for or against prohibition," he said. "Prohibition is not properly an issue between Democrats. If a dry plank were inserted it would mean the reading out of the party those Democrats who had not favored prohibition. If a wet plank were adopted it would mean that the men who believe in prohibition must be outside the party."

U. S. MARSHAL, SHERIFF AND DETECTIVE CHIEF ROBBED

Officers on Car on Way to Democratic Convention, Which Is Looted of $1000.

By the Associated Press.

DES MOINES, Ia., June 25.—Various Iowa Democrats on the special train to the national convention at San Francisco were wiring their homes for money, according to reports here today. One of the cars in the special train was robbed yesterday, the report says, and about $1000 obtained. The theft occurred out of Grand Junction, Colo.

The thieves selected the car in which three peace officers were on their way to the convention. The officers are H. F. Shoemaker of Council Bluffs, a United States Marshal, Sheriff W. A. Hogan of Anamosa, and Jack Brophy, chief of the Des Moines detective force.

BRYAN SAYS HE IS NOT FOR ANY PARTICULAR CANDIDATE

Going to Convention to "See That Platform Is Exactly Opposite Republican."

By the Associated Press.

OGDEN, Utah, June 25.—William J. Bryan, who joined a trainload of delegates here yesterday en route to the San Francisco convention, said:

"I am going to San Francisco to see that we get a platform and a candidate that can win. I have no interest in any particular candidate. I shall see that the platform is exactly the opposite of that adopted by the Republican party at Chicago."

Bryan conferred with Senator Walsh of Montana and other Democratic leaders and delegates.

PALMER SAYS HE IS CONFIDENT OF RECEIVING NOMINATION

"But Even if I Should Not, It would Not Preclude Democratic Victory," He Declares.

By the Associated Press.

RENO, Nev., June 25.—"I am confident of being nominated for the presidency, but even if I should not be nominated it would not preclude an inevitable Democratic victory in November," said Attorney-General A. Mitchell Palmer during a 10-minute stop in Reno last night. His confidence was seconded by Mrs. Palmer, who clung to his arm.

He said he would have a detailed statement to make upon reaching San Francisco.

DETERMINED TO PUT FORMER HEAD OF THE TREASURY IN NOMINATION

Men Favoring Him Go Ahead With Militant Organization Despite His Protests, Declaring That He Owes It as Duty to Country to Run.

MRS. M'ADOO OPPOSES ENTRY INTO RACE

Some Talk of Victor Murdock for Vice Presidency, but the Preferencs Is for a Ticket of "McAdoo and Cox."

By DAVID LAWRENCE,
A Special Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

(Copyright, 1920.)

SAN FRANCISCO, June 25.—The veil of doubt concerning the McAdoo candidacy is lifting. Friends of the former Secretary of the Treasury have formed a militant organization, determined to nominate him over his own protest. Telegrams are coming to several of these men to stop their activity and take Mr. McAdoo at his word, but they are unavailing. Indeed, the latter is reliably reported to have told Senator Glass in a conference in New York last week that if his name were presented for nomination, the Virginia Senator was authorized to say it was being done without his consent or sanction.

Nevertheless, Senator Glass is openly for McAdoo's nomination and will make a fight for it. The story told by men in the confidence of Mr. McAdoo bears out the reasons given publicly by the former Director-General of Railroads. They say he has considered the question from every angle and that he has a horror of having the "Crown Prince" argument and criticism of a similar vein concerning his relationship with President Wilson flung at him and his family during a political campaign.

Mrs. McAdoo Opposed to It.

They declare, moreover, that Mrs. McAdoo has been consistently opposed to the return of her husband to public life. She knows the extent to which public and private criticism, together with the almost superhuman burdens of the White House itself, can interfere with personal comfort and happiness. Her own father broke down in health and her mother died while in the White House.

Every friend of McAdoo here says he is thoroughly sincere in his disinclination to run for office. Why nominate him then?

To that question comes the uniform answer from these same McAdoo men that in a time like this, personal tastes or convenience cannot outweigh the duty that a man may owe to his party and his country. They are absolutely determined that McAdoo is the man of the hour and must make the race, and with that idea in mind they are planning to draft him for the nomination.

No Word From Wilson.

So far as President Wilson is concerned, nobody here has had a word from him on candidates, and Senator Glass, who talked with Mr. Wilson about plans for the convention, especially the platform, is authority for the statement that the name of Mr. McAdoo or any other candidate didn't come from the lips of the President during the entire conversation.

The same holds true with respect to the Wilson office holders and faithful supporters. They haven't had any word from the White House, so they are backing Palmer, or Cox, or Meredith, while the original group which has been for McAdoo from the start is standing firmly for his nomination. The men in this group insist that McAdoo, himself, has recognized that the call of the country must supersede personal considerations, for they point to his public statement made at the time of the withdrawal of his name from the Georgia primaries, namely, that no man could

PLATFORM ISSUES TAKING SHAPE AT FRISCO GATHERING

After the Wet or Dry Fight Comes the Course as to Stand on the League of Nations.

LEADERS EXPECT AN IRISH PLANK

Declarations on Welfare of Women and Children in Industry and Profiteering Are Discussed.

By the Associated Press.

SAN FRANCISCO, JUNE 25.—William J. Bryan, who is generally regarded as the field marshal of the dry forces, in the expected clash at the Democratic National convention over the enforcement plank in the party's 1920 platform, may also function as supreme commander of interests opposed to President Wilson's platform views on some other subjects. With his arrival today it is expected that the battle lines for the whole platform will become sharply drawn.

While the enforcement question remains the outstanding issue, with the factions far apart, interest in other platform questions is stimulated by the presence of Senator Glass of Virginia, who is known to be fully advised as to the President's views on what the party should do on the League of Nations issue and similar questions.

Supporters of proposals to modify the Volstead enforcement act are claiming presidential favor for their proposition, but Glass has not indicated what views Mr. Wilson may have expressed in this regard during the conference which preceded the Senator's departure from Washington.

Bryan Has Plank of His Own.

Bryan has disclosed that he has a plank of his own to present on the enforcement question. He is understood to favor putting the party on record for rigid enforcement of the prohibition act, to the full limit of the Volstead measure.

The bone dry have a working majority on the committee. They also are credited with a slight majority in the convention itself but the would-be rainmakers, who view with alarm the present drouth, are very hopeful this can be upset.

There is pressure to expedite proceedings. It is said that if an enforcement plank is framed by the committee, probably it will be allowed to go to the convention with virtually no time devoted to committee debate by its opponents, but accompanied by a flatly contradictory minority report that would bring the whole subject into the open forum of the convention itself.

Issue of League of Nations.

Leaders have not modified their opinion, as expressed by Chairman Cummings of the National Committee, that no other platform issue would fail to be adjusted in committee. Cummings has knowledge, it is believed, of the course both administration forces and the Bryan faction propose as to the league issue. In some quarters his statement is taken as a hint that a compromise program on which harmony could be based has already been worked out for submission to the committee.

There is no anticipation that differing views on the labor plank, profiteering, radicalism or any other subject cannot be brought into accord.

Leaders here now apparently are prepared to accept President Wilson's views as to the League of Nations question, some of them because they are in fact in accord with him and others for reasons of political expediency; but if Bryan, as has been suggested, plans to urge what would amount practically to acceptance of Republican reservations to the league covenant as framed in the Senate, there is likelihood that hopes for a committee compromise would go glimmering.

It seems probable that men of importance in the party councils are quite fully advised as to what the President thinks on questions to be solved and the extent to which his personal influence or that of his office might be expected to be felt in next week's proceedings. There is nothing to indicate that Mr. Wilson has gone beyond a simple statement of his attitude to Senator Glass for the information of leaders here.

Senator Owen, discussing the platform, says the platform should declare in clear language for faithful execution of the eighteenth amendment. The Democratic party, he adds, should not let itself be split over the prohibition question.

Monopolies and Profiteers.

Emphasis should be laid on a declaration for the curbing of monopolies and the elimination of profiteering, the Oklahoma Senator says. The platform should also emphasize the "all embracing" doctrine of popular government and should contain planks declaring for the stimulation of production and the improvement in distribution, he added.

Fight for Irish Plank.

Friends of Irish freedom, whose representatives came to San Francisco to urge a plank in the Democratic platform pertaining to Ireland, announced that, because of the activities of the Irish sympathizers, under the direct guidance of "President" De La Valera of the Irish insurgent government, they will not propose any declaration to the convention Resolutions Committee.

The announcement generally is regarded as aggravating the possibility of a determined fight over the Irish question. Privately the officials of the friends of Irish freedom have advocated a plank which they say they regarded as less pronounced than the declaration which will be requested by De Valera. He will arrive here Sunday to lead the fight for Democratic support for Irish independence. Democratic leaders here say they believe an Irish plank will be incorporated in the platform. They resist any suggestion that Irish-Americans as a group are opposed to the League of Nations.

Planks on welfare of children in industry, that a meeting of Democratic women tonight may ask the Democratic national convention to incorporate in its platform, were taken up by the Women's Democratic Club of California. One of these planks recommends that Federal Government schools be established for children of American men killed in the war.

HOOVER URGES REPUBLICAN SUPPORT OF LEAGUE WITH ARTICLE TEN ELIMINATED

Wants Party to Advocate Use Only of Moral and Economic Power to Guarantee States' Integrity—Calls Talk of New Treaty 'Bunk.'

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, June 25.—Speedy ratification of the treaty of Versailles, after the elimination of article 10 of the League of Nations covenant, is urged by Herbert C. Hoover, in a statement published today in the New York Evening Post, as the platform on which the Republican party should stand in the coming presidential election.

Hoover takes the stand that this implied threat of employment of military force to guarantee the integrity of foreign states is out of place in a league which he declares is "the product of the liberal ideals of the world." The league's power, he declares, would be more potent if the threat of military force were removed and the league relied wholly on its "moral and economic power."

"It appears to me to be time to raise the question," said Hoover, "as to whether this same cause—I refer to the guarantees and to the use of military force—that has brought about the dissension in the United States is not also undermining the league in Europe. I put to the friends of the league in all countries, has not experience and discussion shown that the time has arrived to reconsider this part of the league foundation?"

Reduction of Armaments.

The basic need for such a "military alliance" as he sees in the League covenant with article X, in fact, Hoover points out, is to "control states which persist in armament which renders them capable of aggressive action."

While he expresses the belief that economic measures eventually would prevail even against such states, he declared the "first and foremost duty of the League" is reduction of all armaments, and he suggests that America's continuance as a League member be conditional on the achievement of a reduction within a specified time.

Hoover declares that sooner or later the United States must ratify the treaty of Versailles in some form, and that talk of negotiating a new treaty is "bunk."

"The treaty of Versailles," he said, "is the charter of independence of Poland, Czecho-Slovakia and Finland, and the warrant of increased national territory of several great nations, and they are now going to reopen discussion as to their titles. It is the guarantee of the disarmament of four great autocracies, and no European nation is going to risk their revival. It is a mortgage upon the enemy states, and they are not going to offer the opportunity to Germany, Austria, Hungary, Turkey and Bulgaria to escape their debts by intrigue at a new peace conference.

Essential Part of Treaty.

"The League of Nations covenant is an essential part of the treaty. It does possess two functions: First, it gives the title to mandates; it today governs certain neutralized areas; it ramifies the score of details of settlement with enemy states. Its second function is its provisions for prevention of future war. The first phase can no more be reopened than the treaty itself. The second function relates to the future and is subject to amendment. It can be amended by the league organization itself.

"In the face of these conditions," he concludes, "cannot the Republican party strengthen its own position by adopting the definite constructive policy of ratification subject to the minor reservations and a wider vision of strengthening the league by excluding the guarantees and their military enforcement—and making membership in the league conditional upon disarmament within a given period? Such policies will protect American independence, free us from every entanglement except the use of our moral and economic strength to enforce peace. It will leave our democratic friends fencing upon the ground of advocacy of a practical military alliance—upon which their safety devices only further endanger the real value of the league."

MOVEMENT BEGUN FOR DAMP SILENCE ON DRY QUESTION

name from the balloting throughout the early stages. They have learned that the former Secretary of the Treasury has still a strong following, but are said to feel that, in view of his attitude, it would not be expedient to present his name unless the expected deadlock between the leading candidates, Palmer and Gov. Cox of Ohio, should develop.

In that event there appears to be little doubt that McAdoo will be put forward to break the deadlock, with the assurance of considerable strength at the start. His friends are said to have put their heads together to formulate plans of this nature and map out strategy of the subsequent campaign to obtain for him the two-thirds majority on which Democratic nominations must rest.

Palmer, Cox and Davis.

Neighborly considerations, it is said, are apt to play a part in the course of delegates from Pennsylvania, Ohio and West Virginia. Each state has a candidate, Palmer from Pennsylvania, Cox from Ohio and John W. Davis from West Virginia. Should early balloting make it apparent that the necessary two-thirds majority to nominate cannot be obtained for Palmer or Cox, Davis supporters claim that he would inherit the Pennsylvania and Ohio delegations. They anticipate a general surge toward Davis under the impetus furnished by these powerful blocks of votes. Supporters of Vice President Marshall for the nomination look at the situation much as do the Davis adherents. They think Marshall would figure very prominently if a deadlock developed, and their plans are drawn with that in mind.

On the prohibition enforcement question, heretofore the most prominent subject of discussion in convention circles, there developed yesterday a sudden movement to ignore the question entirely in the platform.

Wet or Dry Plank.

Suggestions of this nature came to Chairman Cummings of the National Committee from camps representing various shades of opinion ranging from bone dry to almost as completely wet. These feelers toward a harmony program were not clear enough, however, to show that all parties to the contest had arrived at the conclusion that such a course would be wise.

While it is possible that the Virginia Democrats followed the course of silence on the Volstead enforcement act in framing the platform which President Wilson has approved, which may indicate the administration attitude, it is suggested, much depends on the course W. J. Bryan plans to follow on his arrival today. He is credited with having determined to carry the war into the enemy's country in meeting the "wet" drive at the platform which began more than a week ago, and offer an emphatic bone dry declaration.

The movement for platform silence on the enforcement measure is said to have sprung, in part, from consideration of this report as to the Nebraskan's plans. Some at least of the advocates are said to desire now to head off a vote on such a bone-dry program as a matter of expediency. If the issue were forced to a conclusion on the platform struggle, these strategists argue, it might be more prejudical to their hopes for modification of the Volstead act than beneficial, while complete silence would leave party representatives in Congress free to act.

There is increasing activity on all sides today among workers for various presidential candidates. The first of the large delegations will arrive within the next two days, and preparations for missionary work among the members are in progress. Various combinations for the ticket are being talked over with a view to arranging to secure for this or that aspirant votes to be brought to his standard through a prearranged agreement as to the vice presidency. None of these tentative tickets appears, however, to have more behind it than the speculation of campaign managers.

Each day next week a breakfast for convention women will be held and the various aspirants for the presidential nomination have been asked to speak. Senator Robert L. Owen of Oklahoma is to address the first breakfast Monday.

Entertainment plans include afternoon and evening receptions each day at California headquarters at the auditorium. California fruits and flowers will be distributed.

TURKS REFUSE TO SIGN TREATY IF DEPRIVED OF SMYRNA

Also Object to Loss of Adrianople or Eastern Thrace, but Agree With Other Terms.

By the Associated Press.

CONSTANTINOPLE, June 23.—The Turkish peace delegation in Paris has been instructed from Constantinople that the Turkish Government will uncompromisingly refuse to sign any peace treaty which deprives Turkey of the Smyrna district, Adrianople or Eastern Thrace.

In the main, it is indicated the Government agrees with the other territorial limitations fixed by the Entente.

Smithsonian Station in Arizona.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, June 25.—A solar observing station will be established by the Smithsonian Institution in the Haqua Hala Mountains in Arizona, to secure data for forecasting weather conditions and temperature. Dr. C. G. Abbot, assistant secretary of the institution, has gone to Arizona to supervise the setting up of the station, to be situated in the heart of the desert.

ELVINS DENIES HE ATTEMPTED TO BUY HIRAM LLOYD OFF

Republican Candidate for Lieutenant-Governor Accuses Rival of Making Statement to Aid Babler.

TELLS OF DINNER AT THE JEFFERSON

Asserts National Committeeman Theatened to Ruin Him if Demand for Resignation Was Published.

Politte Elvins of Bonne Terre, former Congressman, now a candidate for the Republican nomination for Lieutenant-Governor, said to a Post-Dispatch reporter, at Hotel Jefferson today, that Hiram Lloyd of 1212 Clara avenue, the only other candidate for the same nomination, twice asked Elvins to lend or give him money, on condition that Lloyd would withdraw his candidacy. One of these requests was made before the filing time for the August primary ended, Elvins said, and the other was made last Monday. "I guess that makes it an issue of veracity between us two," Elvins added, referring to the fact that Lloyd, in a statement given out yesterday, accused Elvins of having offered him $2000 to withdraw.

The salary of the Lieutenant-Governor is $1000 a year for a four-year term.

"I'm not going to sue anybody," Elvins continued. "I'm simply going out and beat Lloyd for the nomination.

Conversation With Babler.

"Lloyd, in this matter, merely represents Jake Babler. Wednesday evening, at dinner here in the Jefferson, I told Babler that I was going to make public my letter demanding that he keep his promise, made at Chicago, to resign as national committeeman. I told him it would appear in the newspapers Thursday.

"'If you do that,' he said, 'I'll ruin you. I'll have the story printed that you tried to buy Hiram Lloyd off.'

"'Liv' Morse was at dinner with us, and heard what was said. He didn't say anything at the time, but after Lloyd's story came out in print, he told me, and several others, that it was a dirty trick on Jake's part, and that he had never supposed Jake would do such a thing.

"I have heard a good deal, in the last few weeks, about Lloyd's financial troubles and needs. I knew that Babler was interested in trying to get him some sort of a job, and I have been informed that Babler went to Nat Goldstein, only a few days ago, and said: 'Nat, what can we give Lloyd?' Nat replied, 'I'd give him a swift kick.'

Called by Telephone.

"Lloyd called me up by telephone a few weeks ago and asked me to come here to see him. I came to St. Louis a day or two later, and went to his office. He began to tell about his money difficulties, especially the back taxes he owed. The penalties were accumulating, he said, and if he couldn't pay up he would lose his property. He mentioned his being a candidate against me, and said he thought I ought to arrange with him to withdraw, by loaning him $2000. If I was elected, he said, he wouldn't consider that he had to repay the loan.

"That was his proposal as I understood it. I didn't let him go into any further detail. I shut him up, telling him I would not consider any such idea, that if he thought best to run against me he should go on and do so. At that time it was still possible for anyone to file. After the filing time closed, and when no one had filed but us two, I suppose Lloyd thought he might have a better chance of interesting me. So he called me up again, while I was in court at Farmington, and asked me to come up and see him. I supposed it would be another proposal of the same sort, and when I called on him Monday I found that was what it was.

"Lloyd said he had settled the matter of his taxes, but he still needed money, and thought it would be only fair for me to split the salary of the office with him, by paying him $2000, which would be one-half of what I would draw in four years as Lieutenant-Governor. I didn't let him get definite as to when or how I was to pay him. I shut him up, and told him there was nothing doing."

Tax Payments Mentioned.

Elvins said he could not recall the exact time of the first interview with Lloyd, but he said the time might be approximated by the record of Lloyd's payment of his taxes, which, he understood from Lloyd, was between the two visits. He suggested that this matter be looked up on the Collector's records.

Following this suggestion, it was learned that Lloyd, on May 29, paid $3567.32 in settlement of tax bills for 1918 and 1919, with accumulated penalties. These tax bills were against Lloyd personally, the Triangle Realty Co. and the Hiram Lloyd Construction Co. Lloyd is the head of both companies, which have their joint offices in the Odd Follows' Building.

Lloyd Explains Tax Case.

Lloyd today told a Post-Dispatch reporter that he was enabled to pay his taxes, amounting to about $3500, by the sale of two lots at the intersection of Etzel, Belt and Page avenues May 28, to Clarence Howard for $18,200. The taxes were paid the next day.

He asserted with some vigor that he had not received any Lowden money, nor so much as a postage stamp from the campaign funds of any presidential candidate, and had not received any money from Babler. "I was a Wood man, but I didn't make a fight," Lloyd said, "because it didn't seem to be any use in Missouri under the circumstances."

Lloyd said yesterday afternoon that Elvins asked him, before Lloyd filed, June 1, to refrain from entering, but made no money proposal at that time. Lloyd filed June 1. Last Monday, Lloyd said, Elvins called at his office and asked him to withdraw.

"He proposed," Lloyd said, "that he would give me $1000 down, and $1000 in case of his election, if I would withdraw. I told him I wouldn't consider it.

"Then," Lloyd continued, "Elvins said he would give me $2000 cash, and that I could return $1000 to him if he should fail to be elected in November. I again refused."

Babler was not at the Missouri Athletic Association this morning, when he was sought for a statement as to Elvins' declaration in the Lloyd matter.

WOMAN ONE OF SNIPERS WHO KILLED POLICE SERGEANT

One Member of Family Wounded, Two Arrested After Fight at Hamilton, O.

By the Associated Press.

HAMILTON, O., June 25.—Charles J. Stegemann, Police Desk Sergeant, was killed by snipers in a fight between officers and the Bolen family north of the city early today. James Bolen was shot several times and it is believed he will die. Lee and Elin Bolen are under arrest. James Bolen fired the shot which killed the policeman, according to the police.

The trouble started following an investigation by the police of a disturbance there last night. Policemen armed with riot guns surrounded the house this morning and Stegemann and Detectives Dulle and Jones started up the steps to make the arrest when, the police say, Bolen opened fire with a shotgun.

One of the snipers was said to be a woman.

"What More Can I Do?"

When McAdoo asked, therefore, "What more can I do?" the answer made by forces opposed to McAdoo was that he could say he wouldn't take the nomination if proffered to him. This, however, it is argued by his friends, would be inconsistent with his first declaration at the time of the Georgia primaries.

So, while McAdoo is earnestly trying to prevent his friends here from putting him in the embarrassing position of appearing as a candidate, they are going ahead with remarkable steadfastness to put him in nomination. It may be excessive zeal and it may prove a mistaken compliment, but the folks who are working for McAdoo here are a loyal set who will not take "no" from McAdoo. They have talked the situation over and have planned to go ahead to the finish.

Talk of giving the vice presidential nomination to Victor Murdock of Kansas, former Bull Moose leader, comes from the McAdoo supporters, though many of them would prefer Gov. Cox of Ohio to go on the ticket with McAdoo. They insist that the ticket "McAdoo and Cox" would be a winner.

Reports on Dry Issue.

The majority report of the Platform Committee of the Democratic national convention will declare for the enforcement of the prohibition amendment as the law of the land.

Senator Carter Glass, chairman of the Resolutions Committee, is a dry, but more than that, he believes in respecting constitutional amendments. There will be a minority report favoring a modification of the Volstead law so as to provide for a liberal interpretation of the Eighteenth Amendment not inconsistent with its meaning as laid down by the Supreme Court of the United States.

The details have not been worked out, but asking Congress to fix a percentage of alcohol to be used in light wines and beer that could come within the category of nonintoxicating beverages, is one of the suggestions being made, while others would adopt a simple resolution commending President Wilson for his veto of the Volstead act.

Irish Question Considered.

With respect to the Irish question omitted by the Republican convention, there will be a plank on the subject here. The approach to the problem that is being most discussed is one not merely sympathizing with the aspirations of peoples struggling for liberty and independence, but concretely pledging the next chief executive, if he be a Democrat, to invoke article 11 of the covenant of the League of Nations in behalf of Ireland.

If America becomes a member of the league she would be able, under that article, to draw to the attention of the league or any member of it, the distressing situation in Ireland. It would not be possible for England to resent officially the entrance of the United States into the forum as a champion of the cause of Ireland, because article 11 says it is "the friendly right" of any nation to call attention to any matter affecting the good understanding between nations.

President Wilson has again and again referred to article 11 in his public speeches and in his answers to queries from Irish societies, but has never gone so far as to pledge himself to invoke article 11 in behalf of Ireland. This, it is pointed out, a convention platform can do. It would be a pledge to take up the matter of Irish self-determination in an official way with Great Britain through the medium of the league. The plan is meeting with the favor of many members of the Resolutions Committee.

RAIL STRIKE MOST SERIOUS SINCE WAR, UNIONS DECLARE

Head of Trainmen Says Complete Paralysis of Transportation Threatens Unless Board Acts.

PRESIDENT BLAMED FOR DILLY-DALLYING

Unions Do Not Plan Walkout, but Find Themselves Unable to Restrain Workers, Official Asserts.

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, June 25.—Heads of 15 railwaymen's organizations in conference today declared the rail situation the most menacing they have been called upon to face since the war and expressed doubt of their ability to prevent complete "paralysis of transportation" unless they are given co-operation by the Railway Labor Board now considering wage demands.

"The men have reached the breaking point in patience," declared W. G. Lee, president of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen. "Demands of my organization have been presented more than a year but the dilly-dallying policy of the administration has them still pending. In the meantime the men are leaving railroad work for more money or are being expelled from the trainmen's organization because of unauthorized strikes."

Difficult to Restrain Men.

President Lee said no strike is contemplated by union officials. "It is becoming increasingly more difficult to hold our members from drastic action, however," he said. "They are becoming prey to Red propaganda. The Federal Board has had our demands under contemplation in executive session for three weeks now, and they are clamoring for a ruling.

Lee charged that the President had permitted the railway administration to "dally along" for nearly a year after the men presented their demands, and that it took the President 40 days to appoint the Railway Labor Board after the Esch-Cummins bill, authorizing it, had become law.

"We are here to discuss some way of avoiding the danger because of the Government's delay in passing on our wage demands," Lee said. "Unless immediate action is taken we fear the transportation system will be paralyzed. We don't know why there should be any longer delay by the Railway Board. Every pressure possible has been brought to bear to get a decision.

"One of the biggest dangers to be faced now is the one big union idea, propaganda of which is responsible for the sporadic strikes now going on. It is up to the powers to decide whether they want the one big union idea, which caused strife in 1894, or whether they want the strong, sane organizations which have kept the men in a reasonable mood for many years."

Attempt to Arrange Conference.

Attempts were made to arrange a conference between the representatives of the workers and the Federal Board. Judge R. M. Barton, chairman of the board, issued a statement in which he said the wage decision would be made as soon as possible, but in justice to the roads, workers and the public, proper deliberation must be had.

W. N. Doak, vice president of the railway trainmen's organization, declared the board had demonstrated the futility of such methods of settling wage disputes.

"This board is sitting as advocates," he said, "instead of as judges. It should be bipartisan and allowed to argue out each side of the situation."

175 More Reading Yardmen Join Strike in Pennsylvania.

PHILADELPHIA, June 25.—Twenty-four crews of Reading Railway yardmen at Coatesville, near here, comprising 175 workers, joined the trainmen's strike today. It is said steel mills there will be seriously affected if the strike continues.

Reports from various Pennsylvania railroad points affected by the strike show little change in the situation over night. At company's offices it was stated a few men are returning to work, and some are quitting.

Strike leaders claim that by tomorrow night many shopmen will be out.

Marshall for "Safe and Sane Platform Written on Postcard".

SAN FRANCISCO, June 25.

By the Associated Press.

VICE PRESIDENT MARSHALL made known last night that his activities during the Democratic National Convention would be dirgcted toward working as a delegate-at-large from Indiana for a "safe and sane" platform.

"Put a good man on it and let him go to it," he added.

On his arrival late yesterday from Del Monte, Cal., the Vice President said he was not a candidate for office and had not decided whom he would support in the convention.

He said he would like to have the platform brief and explicit. Disclaiming knowledge of any move to place him on the Resolutions Committee or make him chairman of it, he said: "If I were making up the platform I'd write it on a postcard and in such terms that if we were wrong the whole country would know it."

Marshall said he did not anticipate any serious prohibition issue. "My personal views on this question are unchanged," he continued. "I was not in favor of prohibition originally, but it is incorporated in the Constitution and it should be observed."

BAKER ON WATER POWER BOARD

Secretaries Meredith and Payne Also Named by President.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, June 25.—Secretary Baker was named by President Wilson today to be chairman of the board provided for in the water-power bill to carry out the provisions of that measure.

Secretaries Meredith and Payne were named at the same time to be members of the board.

HARDING AND COOLIDGE WILL CONFER IN WASHINGTON JUNE 30

Vice Presidential Nominee Accepts Senator's Invitation to Meet Him at Capital.

By the Associated Press.

BOSTON, June 25.—Senator Harding and Gov. Coolidge, the Republican candidates, will confer in Washington on June 30. The Governor received an invitation today to meet Senator Harding on that date and immediately telegraphed his acceptance.

The presidential nominee said he was looking forward to meeting Gov. Coolidge with great satisfaction.

H. J. Kroeger Left $73,740.

Kroeger, secretary of the Gehner Distilling Co., who died May 2, shows personal property amounting in value to $73,740 and realty including his residence at 3540 Victor street, and Twenty-second street and Washington avenue. He left his estate to his wife and son, Henry.

$5 TO $300 DAILY LOSS IN OPERATING MOTOR BUS LINE

I never knew what the checks were for. On one occasion I swore the company had a bank account of $300,000 on affidavits necessary to obtain articles of incorporation, but I never saw a bank account of $300,000.

Marshall said that he had not been able recently to find any record of what the $30,000 borrowed from the Tower Grove Bank was for. He said that he had subscribed for 150 shares of preferred stock of the company. He said, in reply to a question, that he was not aware that a search for the common stock of the company had been made and that the stock had not been found. The common stock was to be issued without cost, to holders of preferred stock. He denied, in response to another question, that a group of men were trying to shoulder responsibility for the present condition of the Motorbus Co. onto "Matrin."

To other questions concerning the company's affairs, Marshall replied that he wasn't "sure." "I'm not sure of anything, nowadays," he said. "I left my car standing in one direction, yesterday, and when I came back it was standing in another direction," he added.

Thomas Knobeloch of the Buckingham Hotel, who said that he had invested $50,000 in the stock of the company, declared that he knew nothing of its affairs. Asked whether he regarded his investment as a loss, he replied: "Apparently some of it is."

The testimony concerning the operating losses was by J. Lucas Turner, 4642 Pershing avenue, general superintendent.

WATCHMAN HELD FOR INQUIRY IN TURNER KILLING

LICENSE ON HIS CAR SEEN ABOUT PLANT

Earl Miller, Private Detective, Identified as Driver of Machine by One of Striking Iron Workers.

Leo W. Clyne, 28 years old, of 2722 St. Vincent avenue, a watchman employed on the excursion steamer St. Paul, and formerly employed as a private detective by Joseph J. Ople, manager of the Interstate Syndicate Employers' Secret Service, was arrested last night in connection with the investigation into the murder in Granite City May 20, last, of Clarence W. Turner, growing out of the strike at the St. Louis Coke and Chemical Co.

A Missouri license tag numbered 104-841, on a Ford car owned by Clyne, was responsible for the latter's arrest. That number was mentioned at the Coroner's inquest, by George Montigne, 1468 Blackstone avenue, one of the striking structural iron workers, as being on a Ford car which had been hauling provisions to the commissary at the coke plant.

Montigne yesterday identified Earl Miller, a private detective formerly employed by Ople, as the driver of the Ford. Montigne testified that he was one of a crowd of strikers who chased Miller across McKinley Bridge to St. Louis five hours before the Turner shooting. Clyne denied that his car was ever in Granite City.

Coroner Thought It Unimportant.

At the time that Montigne gave his testimony Earl Miller's name had not been mentioned in connection with the murder and Coroner Krill attached little importance to the testimony as he did not regard it as throwing any light on the identity of the occupants of the two automobiles which figured in the shooting.

Yesterday afternoon detectives who have been investigating the murder reviewed a transcript of the testimony and traced the ownership of the Ford bearing license 104,841 to Clyne. The latter was arrested last night as he was about to enter his car at Levee and Washington avenue after leaving the steamboat on its return from an afternoon excursion.

Last night Clyde R. Anderson, 204 East Church street, Collinsville, Ill., and Henry C. Sands, 2412 C street, Granite City, both strikers identified Clyne's license as one they had seen on the car driven by Earl Miller on his trips in the coke plant with provisions.

Flourished a Revolver.

Montigne, Anderson and Sands positively identified Miller as having flourished a revolver at strikers doing picket duty near the plant on the day of the murder. Montigne said that when Miller, in an automobile, was chased across the bridge in the afternoon the latter drew a revolver and said: "I'll burn you up."

Anderson and Sands said that Earl Miller was driving the Ford car with Clyne's license when he flourished a revolver at a crowd of strikers the day before the Turner killing and on the day of the killing, each time threatening to shoot them if they did not stay away from the plant.

Clyne said that he had not been in Ople's service since May 15, five days before the murder. He said that he never worked at the coke plant and that on the night of the killing he was at Forest Park Highlands. He said that he could prove the latter statement by a detective sergeant with whom he conversed at the Highlands. He said that his work as a private detective had been confined to "shadowing" and investigating and that he never carried a revolver.

Operated Service Car.

In response to questions, he said that before entering the employment of the steamboat company he had at odd times been in the service car business, but he stated that he never at any time hired his car out for service at the coke plant.

Ople and Miller, who have been under arrest here since Wednesday, were taken from police headquarters this morning to the Court of Criminal Correction for arraignment on charges of being fugitives from justice, but at the request of detectives, who told Judge Krueger that they were not yet through with their investigation of the Turner murder, the arraignment was continued to July 2 and the prisoners were sent back to police headquarters.

In a warrant charging murder, issued at Edwardsville yesterday against Ople, the latter's name was incorrectly spelt "Opyl," and when the mistake was discovered last night Deputy State's Attorney Steele at Granite City announced that he would have a new warrant issued today.

Wounded Man Coming.

Application for a warrant against Miller was held up, pending the expected arrival today in St. Louis of Willie O. Cline of Anna, Ill., who was shot in the leg the night Turner was murdered. The police wanted Cline to see if he could identify Miller as the driver of one of the two automobiles from which shots were fired at a crowd of strikers when Turner was killed. The warrant against Ople was sworn to by William L. Martin, 1827 G street, Granite City, who identified Ople as the driver of the larger of the two cars, which figured in the shooting.

SCHMOLL AND WANDER ALMOST FIGHT AT CLUB MEETING

Central Committee Chairman Calls "Lie," When Charged With Naming Hubele.

During a meeting last night of the Seventh Ward Republican Club at Tenth street and Morrison avenue, Henry Wander, former vice president of the club, declared that Director of Public Welfare Schmoll, who is chairman of the Republican City Central Committee and who was present, had dictated the appointment of William Hubele as committeeman from the ward against the wishes of a majority of the Republicans in the ward.

As he finished he walked to where Schmoll was standing and said to him that he was "sorry" he had to make the statement, but that it was true.

Schmoll replied that it was a lie and drew back his arm. No blow was struck.

Schmoll said today that Hubele's choice was made by a vote of all but two of the precinct men and that he had had no hand in it.

ILLINOIS WOMAN MISSIONARY REPORTED CAPTURED BY TURKS

American Commissioner at Constantinople Ordered to Investigate Rumors.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, June 25.—The State Department has instructed the American commissioner at Constantinople to investigate a report that Mrs. Paul Nilson, an American missionary, has been captured by Turkish Nationalists at Tarsus.

Information as to the capture of Mrs. Nilson reached the department in a telegram from her father, F. A. Fisher, of Wheaton College, Ill.

2 FINED FOR CARELESS DRIVING

Mail Truck Chauffeur and Doctor Penalized $25 Each.

Edward M. Cunningham of 1211 Chambers street, a mail truck chauffeur, and Dr. J. C. Lyter of 3804 West Pine boulevard were fined $25 and costs each in Police Court today for careless driving.

Dr. Lyter testified that he was driving east on Chestnut street at Seventeenth, on June 11, when a number of mail trucks approached, going west. One turned at the corner and cut in behind his automobile, Lyter said, striking and damaging the rear of his car. The doctor said he was driving 15 miles an hour. Cunningham said the physician was driving 20 or 25 miles an hour while he was driving six.

LIVES IN TENT TO SAVE RENT; THIEVES GET $475 IN JEWELRY

Man's Temporary Home Robbed—Lace and Linen Valued at $1000 Stolen From Locker.

To avoid the high rents, Charles A. Willmann set up his abode in a tent at the rear of a lot he owns at 4826 Goodfellow avenue while workmen were erecting his home on the front part of the lot. Yesterday while the family was absent from the tent sneak thieves ransacked the place and stole jewelry and clothing valued at $475, Willmann reported to the police.

Mrs. Frank Mulford, 4906 Argyle place, reported to the police yesterday that during the week burglars had broken into a locker in the basement of her apartment and had stolen lace curtains and linens valued at $1000. She discovered the theft yesterday when she visited the locker to get some curtains from a trunk.

"Truck burglars" early yesterday took waists, dresses and skirts valued at $1000 from the dry goods store of Harry Pinful, 1021 North Vandeventer avenue. Other burglaries reported were in the homes of Roy Woodworth, 2263 Blendon place, jewelry valued at $150, and Mrs. Agnes Faulkner, 5746 Maple avenue, $75 and two bank books.

PRESIDENT URGES SUFFRAGE ACTION IN NORTH CAROLINA

Wires Governor and U. S. Senators That Ratification Is "Critically Important."

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, June 25.—President Wilson has sent messages to Gov. Bickett and Senators Simmons and Overman of North Carolina suggesting that he need not point out to them the "critical importance" of the action of the North Carolina Legislature on the Federal suffrage amendment when the assembly meets in special session next month.

The President previously had asked Gov. Roberts of Tennessee to call a special session of the Tennessee Legislature to act on the amendment. The President's message was sent after Acting Attorney-General Frierson had ruled that the Supreme Court decision in the Ohio referendum case had invalidated the section of the Tennessee constitution prohibiting the Legislature from passing on an amendment if the members were elected before the amendment was submitted to the State.

BONDS FROM O'FALLON BANK TAKEN FROM MEN IN NEW YORK

$25,000 Worth of Stolen Securities Identified Through Federal Reserve System.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, June 25.—Fifty-three Liberty bonds, aggregating $25,000, found on four men arrested today, were said to have been identified as part of securities taken from a bank at O'Fallon, Mo., last February.

Identification was established through the Federal reserve system, the police stated.

The Bank of O'Fallon, at O'Fallon, Mo., was entered in the early morning of Feb. 17 last, the safe deposit vault blown open and 70 deposit boxes robbed. The thieves got away. Officers of the bank estimated that about $80,000, mostly in Liberty bonds, was stolen.

GREEKS CAPTURE TURKISH ARMY OF 8000 NEAR SMYRNA

Many Guns and Other Spoils Also Taken When Entire Army Corps Is Surrounded.

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, June 25.—The Greek legation here has received official information that the Greeks campaigning against the Turkish Nationalists in the Smyrna district surrounded a Turkish army corps in Philadelphia (Ala-Shehr, 83 miles east of Smyrna), taking 8000 prisoners with guns and other booty.

NEW BRAZILIAN CONSUL COMING

Aluisio Martins Torres will arrive in St. Louis Sunday or Monday to become consul here for Brazil, succeeding Sebastao Sampaio, who will depart soon to become commercial attache of the Brazilian Embassy at Washington.

Torres has been consul at Norfolk, Va., and previously was assistant consul at New York City. His wife, a native Brazilian, had lived in this country some time when they were married two years ago. Both belong to distinguished families in Rio de Janeiro. Sampaio was in St. Louis about two years. He had been editor of the "Jornal de Commercio," or Journal of Commerce, in Rio de Janeiro.

J. B. RENO SUED FOR DIVORCE

John B. Reno, an attorney with offices in the Wainwright Building, formerly instructor of law at St. Louis University, was sued for divorce today by Hazel K. Reno, who gave her address as their family residence at Bismarck and Berry road in Webster Groves. The petition, filed at Clayton, says she and her husband separated Jan. 18 last. Incompatibility is her charge.

Mrs. Reno asks for the custody of their two young children, Mary K. and John K. Reno, and for alimony. They were married Jan. 8, 1916, at Springfield, Ill. Soon after the marriage her husband began to manifest ungovernable temper, Mrs. Reno says.

JUSTICE FINES HIMSELF $1

TOPEKA, Kan., June 25.—F. B. Bumgardt Hays, Justice of the Peace, fined himself, his son-in-law, his brother-in-law and five other dealers in produce, $1 and costs each, for failure to candle eggs.

By the Associated Press.

GENEVA, June 25.—Recent statistics published in Germany on that country's war losses state that 1,350,000 men were killed.

There are today 520,000 war widows, according to the statistics; 1,130,000 war orphans and 500,000 maimed or consumptives supported mostly by charity.

PHOTOGRAPHER FINED $100 ON COMPLAINT OF GIRL, 13

Sam Nellis Arrested When He Met Hazel Nicholson by Appointment on Broadway.

Sam Nellis, a photographer and picture salesman of 1101 Franklin avenue, was fined $100 in Police Court this morning on the charge of having disturbed the peace of 13-year-old Hazel Nicholson, whom he had invited to meet him downtown after finding her alone at her home, 3136A Brantner place, on the morning of June 16.

The little girl said that Nellis pushed his way into the house when he found that she was alone, showed her some photographs and then asked her to meet him downtown. To get rid of him, she said, she agreed, and informed her father, Sam Nicholson, a machinist, when he returned home.

The next day she went to Broadway and Franklin avenue, her father and two detectives following at a distance. When Nellis approached the child, and, after vainly asking her to go to East St. Louis with him, gave her 50 cents and told her to await his return, he was arrested.

Nellis denied he meant any harm to the child, but said he intended to have her photograph taken. He paid his fine.

STUD CUT FROM TIE OF MAN HELD UP AT APARTMENT DOOR

Watch and $23 Also Taken From Stanley Goldman by Two Men at 4009 Lindell.

Two men wearing handkerchief masks and carrying revolvers, stepped from an alcove in the rear of the main entrance to the Woodrow Apartments, 4009 Lindell boulevard, as Stanley Goldman was about to ascend the stairs to his suite at 12:45 o'clock this morning, and ordered him to throw up his hands.

One of the robbers then drew a knife and cut off a portion of Goldman's necktie containing a diamond stud valued by him at $500. Goldman's watch, valued at $50, and $23 in cash also were taken from him.

COUPLE DIVIDED FAMILY LARDER AT SEPARATION

Mrs. Nannie A. Houchin, 53, Tells of Disagreement With Husband, Who Is 73.

Mrs. Nannie A. Houchin, 53 years old, of 4938 Wise avenue, testifying on her application for temporary alimony in the Circuit Court today, told of the division of the family larder which was made when she and John B. Houchin of Jefferson City separated a month ago. She testified that Houchin's age was 73, but he took the stand and said:

"One Bible says I was born in 1846 and another has it 1847. One of them is right, but I don't know which."

Houchin is the father of James A. Houchin, president of the Star Clothing Co. of Jefferson City, who has several times been a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Governor.

Mrs. Houchin told of her marriage to John B. Houchin March 11, 1918, and said the marriage was not happy because her husband was quarrelsome. When they separated, she said, it was agreed that each should take half of the food.

Wife Came to St. Louis.

"I came to St. Louis to live with a son," she said, "and I brought with me 150 cans of fruit, three sides of bacon, eight gallons of lard and 11 hens and a rooster. He kept the same for himself, except that he gave me stale lard and kept the good lard. I had to throw mine away."

Asked if she had left her husband because he refused to give her $2000, she said: "No, I wouldn't li with him for $100,000. My life has been a torment for two years."

The elder Houchin testified that he had "very little property." "I didn't want my wife to go away," he said, "and I want her to come back to me now." He said he had a "little country place," near Jefferson City, and raised chickens and cattle.

James A. Houchin, testifying as to his father's possessions, said: "Dad really hasn't got anything but what I gave him. I pay him $20 a week, and when he needs it I give him $100 to $500.

Son Witness for Father.

Houchin said the books of the Star Clothing Co. show a credit of $14,000 in his father's favor, but he denied his father owned $30,000 of the company's stock. "I own all of that company's stock," he said, "and I put that $14,000 credit on the books so that my father would have something in case I should die."

Asked if it was true that his father was manager of his two large farms, Houchin replied: "Why, that's ridiculous. I pay him $20 a week to keep away from my farms." As to his father's business, he said: "Dad will buy anything in the livestock line. If you looked into his barn you would think it was Noah's Ark."

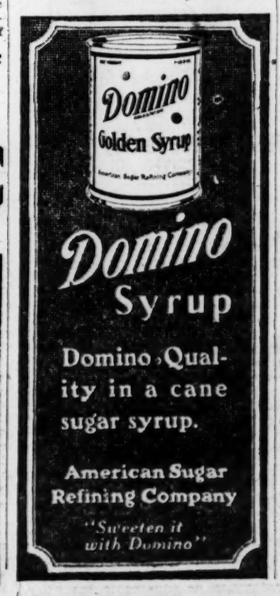

Judge Calhoun awarded to Mrs. Houchin $10 a week temporary alimony and $125 for attorneys' fees.

LEGION POST TO SEEK C. OF C. REFERENDUM ON BONUS ISSUE

Members of Walter M. Blakely Post, American Legion, will circulate a petition for a referendum of members of the Chamber of Commerce on the soldier bonus question. This was announced today by Frank Lee and John L. Kickham, the latter representing the post on the City Executive Committee of the legion and a member of the committee of four appointed by the Executive Committee to handle the bonus question.

The Board of Directors of the Chamber of Commerce passed a resolution May 28 disapproving the bonus. William H. O'Brien, an attorney, gave an interview denouncing the action and questioning whether the board expressed the views of the majority of the members. Secretary Bunn wrote to O'Brien suggesting a referendum. The Walter M. Blakely Post adopted a resolution challenging the Chamber to debate the question. Bunn replied that the board of directors had not seen fit to take any action on the challenge.

In order to have a referendum it is necessary to obtain the signatures to the petition of five members of the board of directors or 50 active members. The legion men say they expect to get the signatures of the 50 active members.

BOY WINS $3500 WHEN JURY DECIDES HE ISN'T 'TOUGH KID'

Lad Pictured as "Toughest Kid in Hell's Kitchen" Sued Russell Sage Foundation.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, June 25.—A Supreme Court jury decided yesterday that William McCue was not "the toughest kid in Hell's Kitchen" and awarded him $3500 damages against the Russell Sage Foundation and publishers of a book entitled "Boyhood and Lawlessness," in which his picture appeared over this caption.

In asking $30,000 damages, the boy's complaint set forth that in 1914 a photographer appeared in the Hell's Kitchen district where he lived and took his picture on the ground that he wanted "Boy Scout pictures." McCue, who is now 18 years old, said he was an altar boy in St. Ambrose's Church.

In denying a motion to set aside the verdict, Justice Ford said: "There is not a scintilla of evidence that he was tough at all, it is a wicked libel.

"That is the great trouble with these movements. They think that where there is poverty there must be criminality. As a matter of fact in those humble little homes in the section pictured in this book will be found more Christian piety, more devotion to real duty, more of the sterling qualities of humanity than will be found in the mansions along Fifth avenue.

"These people from their great height of self-conscious righteousness and superior excellence peer down on and discuss these humble beings as though they were so many cobblestones in the street, without any regard at all for their feelings or their rights in the community."

GREAT-GREAT-GRANDMOTHER DIES IN MAPLEWOOD AT 89

Mrs. Parlia A. Ayles, a Widow, Lived With Four Generations of Descendants.

Mrs. Parlia A. Ayles, 89 years old, who resided at 3333 Cambridge avenue, Maplewood, with four generations of descendants, died at her home at 3 a. m. today of bronchial pneumonia. She had been ill three days.

She was the widow of Elias S. Ayles, and came to St. Louis from Fairfield, Ill., in 1918, two years after the death of her husband, to reside with her granddaughter, Mrs. J. N. Harris, in Maplewood. With her came her daughter, Mrs. Anna Jackson, 69 years old. At the same address lived Mrs. Paul H. Britt, a great-granddaughter. Paula M. Britt, a great-great-granddaughter, was born three weeks ago today.

Mrs. Ayles is survived by 13 direct descendants; three children, six grandchildren, three great-grandchildren, and one great-great-grandchild. Funeral services will be at 3:30 p. m. tomorrow, with interment at Fairfield, where Mrs. Ayles was born.

CLOVER LEAF EARNINGS FOR 1919 CUT STANDING DEFICIT

Government Had to Pay $80,108 to Make Good Guaranteed Rental.

By the Associated Press.

TOLEDO, O., June 25.—The annual report of the Toledo, St. Louis & Western Railroad for the year ended December 31, 1919, shows surplus after taxes and charges of $78,204, equivalent to 78 cents a share earned on the $9,952,600 of preferred stock, as compared with a deficit of $49,454 in 1918. The report was filed by Walter L. Ross, receiver. After charging out lapover items, amounting to a net debt balance of $173,637, there was a deficit for the year of $95,433, against a deficit of $387,066 on the same basis in the previous year.

Federal operating account shows net income of $334,186, which compares with guaranteed rental of $994,294, or a Government loss of $60,108. Without the benefit of the Federal compensation the showing for the year would have been a surplus after taxes and charges of $18,096, as compared with a surplus of $642,830 in 1918, says a statement accompanying the report.

LLOYD GEORGE TO UNDERTAKE REFORM OF HOUSE OF LORDS

Will Try It During Present Parliament, He Announces—"Kaiser Not Safe Yet."

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, June 25.—The reform of the House of Lords will be undertaken during the present Parliament, Premier Lloyd George announced in the House of Commons yesterday.

In reply to questions, the Premier said that Germany would be invited to join the League of Nations when that country showed a desire to fulfill obligations of the peace treaty.

To one person's question respecting the fate of the former German Emperor, Lloyd George retorted: "Your friend is not safe yet."

MAN GETS YEAR FOR DESERTING WIFE AND SIX CHILDREN

Fruit Peddler Was "Tired of Buying Shoes for Them," Wife Says He Told Family.

Joseph Cusumano, a fruit peddler, of 1400 North Eighth street, was sentenced to serve one year in the workhouse by Provisional Judge Grodsky in the Court of Criminal Correction today upon conviction on a charge of wife and child abandonment. He had been given an opportunity to return to his family, but had failed to do so.

Mrs. Annie Cusumano, the wife, and her six children appeared in court, testifying that Cusumano told them he was leaving because he was "tired" of buying shoes for the children. The children are Ben, 13 years old; Rose, 11; Mike, 9; Caspar, 7; Mary, 4, and Lena, 2.

YARDMEN WILL RETURN IF SENIORITY IS GIVEN

In Appeal to Public, "Insurgent" Strikers Say Nothing of Pay Increase.

The St. Louis Yardmen's Association, insurgent switchmen's organization, whose members went on strike April 8 for higher pay, without the sanction of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, today issued an appeal to the public, setting forth that the members were willing to return to work if assured of their former seniority standing. Nothing is now said about increased pay. The old rate, against which the men struck as insufficient, was 59 cents an hour, $4.72 a day. Their original demand was for 95 cents an hour, $7.60 a day.

The Terminal Association and the different railroads have, in part, filled the strikers' places, but the issuance of embargo bulletins by the Chamber of Commerce traffic bureau shows that the strike still interferes with traffic. Bulletin No. 52, issued today, states that the Missouri Pacific and Frisco terminals here are "congested," and that the Biddle street depot of the Missouri Pacific and the Broadway depot of the Frisco, C. & E. I. and Rock Island were closed yesterday for this reason.

East Side members of the Yardmen's Association met this morning at Dupo, Ill., and meetings at New Club Hall, Thirteenth street and Chouteau avenue, and in East St. Louis, are scheduled for tonight.

The strikers refused to return to work at the time when their seniority rights had not been canceled by the roads. At that time, they insisted that their demand for increased wages should be taken up by the Railroad Labor Board, before they would return to work. The board refused to give them a hearing so long as they were not working. In filling the places of a part of the strikers, some of the railroads gave promises of seniority rights to the new employes, having previously notified the strikers that their seniority would be forfeited.

BAPTISTS QUIT WORLD MOVE

Dandruffy Heads Become Hairless

If you want plenty of thick, beautiful, glossy, silky hair, do by all means get rid of dandruff, for it will starve your hair and ruin it if you don't.

It doesn't do much good to try to brush or wash it out. The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop, and your hair will look and feel a hundred times better. You can't get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and four ounces is all you will need, no matter how much dandruff you have. This simple remedy never fails.

CARMAN TESTIFIES LIVING COSTS MORE THAN ENTIRE WAGE

Says Family of Wife and Two Children Spent $2700 Last Year, but He Earned Only $1700—Wife Works

MEN RECEDE FROM STRAIGHT RUN DEMAND

Receivers of U. R. Offer Exhibit to Show Average Wage for Carmen in 23 Cities Is 53.1 Cents an Hour.

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, June 25.—Street car conductors and motormen of St. Louis testified yesterday to their cost of living before the Missouri Public Service Commission, which is acting as a board of arbitration of their demand for an increase in the scale of their wages from 50, 55 and 60 cents an hour to 75, 80 and 85 cents.

The hearing was closed this morning, and the matter was submitted to the Commission without argument. No date for a decision has been announced.

Emmett O'Brien, who has been a motorman for 18 years, declared that his family, consisting of himself, his wife and two children, consumed all of his annual wage of $1942 and lived very modestly. Asked who did the family washing, he replied: "I'm pretty good at that myself."

A. J. Hobbs, another carman, declared that the living expenses of his family, which includes his wife and two children, totaled $2700 a year, although he made only $1700 last year. He said that his wife earns $20 a week.

The results of a tabulation kept by an East St. Louis motorman, A. J. Hobbs, of his household expenditures between June 1, 1919, and June 1, 1920, was introduced as an exhibit. The sum of the expenditures of Hobbs, his wife and three children for the year was $2415. Hobbs described his manner of living as that of a man in "moderate circumstances."

Average Wage $1418.

Other St. Louis carmen testified that they were unable to live on their present wage. It is asserted by the carmen that the average wage last year of St. Louis motormen and conductors was $1418.56, which is $118 a month, or $27.28 a week. They estimate that their present demands, if granted, would give the average carman an income of $1899 a year, which is $158.25 a month or $36.52 a week.

Edward W. Foristel, attorney for the carmen, announced at the opening of the hearing that the men would recede from their demand for straight eight-hour employment. This phase of the men's demands was the chief basis of reiterated statements by Albert T. Perkins, manager for the receiver of the company, that full award of the men's demands would result in a 10-cent carfare in St. Louis. The straight eight-hour day would require a large increase in the number of men necessary to operate the cars.

Average for 23 Cities.

Perkins introduced an exhibit on the average wage paid street car employes in 23 other cities. The wages range from 41 cents an hour in Syracuse, N. Y., to 75 cents an hour in Cleveland and Detroit. The average minimum rate of wage of the 23 cities was 53.1 cents per hour, according to the exhibit.

The men are asking for an interpretation of the seniority rule to prevent the company, in periods of slack business, from laying off older and more expensive men. It is understood that the company will oppose such a rule vigorously.

FARM WAGES ARE COMING DOWN

Madison County Farmers Decide to Pay 10 Cents Less an Hour.

Farm wages in Madison County are coming down. The executive committee of the Madison County Farm Bureau, which has 3000 members, met yesterday at Elwardsville and decided on 40 cents an hour as the wages for harvest hands. This fixes the price on all but about 200 farms in the county. Last year 50 cents an hour was paid.

Men Who Know Clothes
Will Appreciate This Great Sale of "Kuppenheimer" Suits for Men and Young Men

Copyright 1920, The House of Kuppenheimer

BECAUSE they know "Kuppenheimer" Clothes can be depended upon for the best—best in fabric, best in style, best tailoring. For many years they have held a national reputation for their quality and all-round goodness.

And now you buy them at a great sacrifice in price, because the House of Kuppenheimer favored us with their over-production of several thousand Suits—Suits that will find a welcome place in the wardrobe of the most discriminating dressers. $37.50

The offer includes complete lines of this season's merchandise—in weights that, in many instances, are suitable for all-the-year-round wear, and there is an almost endless selection of materials and patterns. $47.50

Colors include browns, greens, blues, grays and fancy mixtures in young men's models, conservative models, as well as the snappy single and double breasted styles with the regulation or slash pockets. $57.50

We realize that this is a clothes-buying opportunity of great importance, and are urging our patrons to make selection now from the three groups that are priced at $37.50, $47.50 and $57.50.

These Warm Weather Frocks
Are Marked Very Low
$9.75 to $16.75

TO be in genuine harmony with a Summer day one must be wearing a Summer Frock. The desire becomes twice as compelling after viewing the Frocks we are showing at these prices. They are extraordinary in quality of material and in style conceits. Little touches of lace plaiting or fancy trimming, such as only an expert designer could originate, furnish the completing touches. Dark coloring, pastel shades and white come in Dresses of voile, gingham, crepe de jour and tissues. Figured affairs, too, such as pin dots, foulard designs, polka dots, coin spot and trailing flowers make up cleverly in these Frocks.

Sizes 34 to 46 are offered, styles of appropriate design.

A Special Selling of Batavia Sports Hats for Summer
at $4.48

MADE up to our special order from the purchase of an entire stock of a manufacturer's material. These Sports Hats come at a much lower rate than usual. Batavia cloth takes the delicate colorings desirable for Summer wear most effectively. These Hats are made of tailored fold upon fold of the cloth, the double brim often showing a white hemp facing. They come in large droop mushroom shapes, straight sailors, roll sailors and various other sports shapes in white, navy, black, onion, Copenhagen, rose, orchid, jade and combinations of colors.

Hats of real style and quality are these to be secured for this very reasonable sum. (Third Floor.)

Pongee Blouses—Cassaque Style
Are Especially Desirable
at $5.00

WHEN a markedly favorite material is made up in an exceedingly becoming and wearable style, they present a combination worth seeking after. Such is the case when splendid quality natural color pongee is made in cassaque style. The round or square neck and three-quarter length sleeves are braided or embroidered in rose, Copen., green, navy or brown, and the waistline is finished with a belt or cord. Three different designs are shown in this desirable Blouse.

True to prediction, it has proved one of the best liked popular-priced Blouses we have offered. It is indeed a splendid value at this price. (Third Floor.)

'HOUSE CLEANERS' TO CARRY FIGHT TO CHAIRMAN HAYS

Committee to Be Named to Go to Him if Babler Refuses to Resign at Demand of Meeting.

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

SEDALIA, Mo., June 25.—Resentment of Missouri Republicans against transactions in the campaign funds of presidential candidates by National Committeeman Jacob L. Babler and W. L. Cole, chairman of the Republican State Committee, expressed in the "house cleaning" mass meeting here yesterday, resulted in a demand for the immediate resignations of those two men and of all city, county, congressional and State committeemen who have accepted money under similar circumstances.

Two committees are to be appointed within three days by former Circuit Judge Matt G. Reynolds of St. Louis, chairman of the meeting, to carry out its program. One committee is charged with demanding in person of Cole that he resign, and in the event of his failure to do so, to present to each member of the State Committee a demand that a meeting of the committee be called to remove Cole. Failing in that, the fight will be carried, under the leadership of this committee, into the August primary, to prevent the re-election or election of men who would support Cole in his purpose of seeking a second term as State chairman, or who would support a man for chairman whom Cole or Babler could control.

Would Go to Will Hays.

The other committee is instructed to go to Babler and demand his resignation. Should he refuse to do so it then is to carry the resolutions of the meeting to Chairman Will Hays of the Republican National Committee.

Few adherents of E. E. E. McJimsey, candidate for Governor, who has had the support of the Kansas City and St. Louis organization leaders, or of United States Senator Spencer, similarly supported for Senator, attended the gathering.

Most of the approximately 240 present were supporters of Arthur M. Hyde for Governor, and James L. Minnis and Dwight F. Davis for Senator. Hyde did not attend. Minnis was here, but took no active part in the proceedings, and E. F. Regenhardt, manager for Davis, was here also.

Few of the men whose names have led in Republican organization affairs were in the meeting. A number were candidates for legislative nominations. Others were local politicians, and business men, who feel bitter about existing party conditions.

There was no division of sentiment in the meeting, the few differences which arose being over the choice of words in which to phrase resolutions, and similar matters. In determination to make an end of the Babler-Cole-Morse regime there was complete harmony.

Five speeches, made by W. C. Pierce of Maryville as temporary chairman, by Reynolds as chairman, and by William C. Irwin of Jefferson City, candidate for Congress in the Eighth District; Ike D. Kimbrell of Kansas City, candidate for Attorney-General, and David M. Procter of Kansas City, candidate for State Senator, heaped maledictions upon the heads of Cole and Babler and declared that unless they resign, Republican nominees cannot hope for success in November.

Drastic resolutions, drafted by a committee of which Procter was chairman and which included a representative of every congressional district in the State except the Eleventh (St. Louis district in which Nat Goldstein lives) were adopted unanimously without debate.

Messages Arrive All Day.

Letters and telegrams to the meeting kept arriving all day. A letter from former Gov. Herbert S. Hadley, outlining previous transactions in presidential campaign funds by the Babler-Cole-Morse group, and a telegram from A. L. Shapleigh of St. Louis, commending the movement, attracted special interest.

Few of the "housecleaners" hold any hope that either Cole or Babler will resign, both having said that they intend to hold to their jobs.

Pierce, who is a Maryville banker, and originator of the mass meeting idea, said that the entire expenses of the movement will be between $500 and $1000. He said he had borne all the expense out of his own funds, "to prevent those fellows from having any comeback."

"I hold no office and want none; I just want to see the party cleaned up," he said.

Reily Says Babler Should Quit to Insure Success.

E. Mont Reily of Kansas City, Western manager for Senator Harding in the recent contest for the Republican presidential nomination, who is in St. Louis for conferences with local Republican leaders, said last night that National Committeeman Babler should resign to insure Republican success in November.

Reily admitted that Babler had sought intervention of the Harding forces in his behalf in the fight being waged upon him in Missouri, but that this help had been refused upon the theory that it was a matter for Missourians to settle without interference.

CHARGE PURCHASES made tomorrow and remainder of the month will appear on July statements, payable in August.

A Special Sale of New Organdie and Silk Frocks

—for misses and small women at $18.75

THIS charming lot of Summer Frocks, that has just come to us by an unusual purchase, brings fresh new styles in the much-wanted darker street shades that are most fetching and youthful.

The sprightly organdies, in fashionable navy and brown, are exceptional at so favorable a price—one model has a deep hem, extending to the hips and topped with a scalloped ruffle—which gives the 1920 silhouette. The fichu collar, sleeves and sash are also scalloped and bright little flowers at the waist and on the sleeves give a gay dash of color.

The other organdie model has an apron front, tuxedo collar and cuffs of white organdie, which is decorated with hemstitched blocks of self color.

There is a charming model with accordion plaited taffeta skirt and smart overblouse of figured Georgette, bound in taffeta. Another delightful affair is made entirely of figured crepe Georgette. It has a slightly gathered hem and slender sash of grosgrain ribbon. Sizes are from 14 to 20 years.

STATE'S REPLY TO DEMURRER IN U. R. PETITIONS THEFT

Asserts Court Must Hear Evidence in McCulloch-Cameron Case Before Deciding Property Question.

BURGLARY OFFENSE DECLARED COMPLETE

Prosecution Says Breaking Into Building to Steal Constitutes Crime Regardless of Value of Loot.

The reply of the prosecution in the McCulloch-Cameron referendum burglary case, to the brief filed by the defense in support of its demurrer to the indictment, was filed today by Circuit Attorney McDaniel and his associate counsel in the Greene County Criminal Court in Springfield.

The case, in which Richard McCulloch, president of the United Railways Co., and Bruce Cameron, former superintendent of transportation, are charged with burglary in the second degree and larceny, is set for trial before Judge Orin Patterson in Springfield Aug. 30, unless Judge Patterson should uphold the demurrer, on which he is to pass July 26. In case the demurrer is upheld, the State will have the privilege of appeal to the Supreme Court.

The demurrer represents the effort of the defense to obtain dismissal of the case on technical grounds, without hearing the evidence. The defense argues in its brief, filed recently, that the referendum petitions against the United Railways franchise ordinance, which were stolen from a safe June 15, 1918, were not property within the meaning of the law, having no money value and not being subject to individual ownership; that the stealing of referendum petitions, not being punishable at common law, will not be a crime until the Legislature, by a special statute, makes it so; and that breaking and entry, for the purpose of taking articles without property value, do not constitute burglary, but at most, only malicious destruction of property.

Value Placed at $22.87.

In the indictment, the referendum petitions are described as "paper pamphlets, the property of Edward H. Heilman, of the value of $22.87." The defense argues that the articles must be treated by the Court as referendum petitions, and not as mere paper, and denies the statements as to their ownership and value.

The reply of the State's counsel to this argument is, that the allegations as to ownership and value are allegations of fact; that it is the business of the State to establish these facts by evidence when the case comes to trial, and that the Court cannot, without having heard the evidence, pass upon the question of ownership or value.

"The defendants," says the State's brief, "have manifested great solicitude lest the finances of the State be impaired by the cost of a trial on the facts. The State of Missouri is more concerned in seeing that its law-abiding citizens are free in the exercise of their legal rights, and in the security of their private property, than in the sum that will be expended in the trial of the case."

Motive to Be Established.

"As to the question of intent, and the motive of gain, which have been

POSLAM MADE TO HEAL YOUR BROKEN-OUT SKIN

If you attend to Pimples, Rashes and all skin troubles with Poslam, and do so promptly, they will not develop and spread.

Unless you have actually seen Poslam's work and know how readily it takes hold, stopping the itching at once, you will hardly believe its effects possible in so short a time.

In Eczema, Poslam's action appears all the more remarkable when the trouble is persistently stubborn and nothing else seems to bring lasting relief. Poslam is harmless always.

STATE'S REPLY TO DEMURRER IN U. R. PETITIONS THEFT

raised by the defense, the State holds that this is a matter to be established by the evidence. Burglary, the State argues, is breaking and entering any building, with intent to steal therein, the value of the things stolen being immaterial.

"The charge of burglary, as laid in this indictment, has been repeatedly approved by our Supreme Court," the State's brief says. "The gist of the offense of burglary is the breaking and entering with intent to steal. The offense is complete the moment there is a breaking and entering with the intent present in the mind of the defendant, which intent is a question for the jury."

As to the crime of larceny, the language of the statute is quoted as being as broad and comprehensive as words could make it. The language is "money, goods, rights in action, or other personal property or valuable thing whatsoever."

"Pamphlets" Private Property.

The "pamphlets," until filed with the Election Board, were private property, and not public documents, it is argued. "If they were public documents, and if Heilman had possession of them and they were taken from him, the thief could be indicted for larceny and the ownership laid in Heilman; if another thief stole them from the first thief, the second thief would be guilty of larceny, and the ownership could be laid in the first thief. * * * Possession is sufficient title against a thief.

"There is no uncertainty in this indictment. There is no allegation that the things stolen are petitions. The only uncertainty arises from the attempts of defendants to confuse the issue. The specific charge is the theft of 369 paper pamphlets. Could a charge be more definitely laid?"

The defense has 10 days in which to file its final brief. The counsel associated with Circuit Attorney McDaniel, whose names appear with his on the State's brief, are William Baer and A. C. Maroney of the Circuit Attorney's office; O. J. Page, Prosecuting Attorney of Greene County; and Sam M. Wear of Springfield.

SEVEN PERSONS HURT IN AUTO ACCIDENTS

Woman Crossing Street Is Struck by Truck Overturned in Collision.

Seven persons were injured in automobile accidents yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. Elizabeth Alvino, 40 years old, of 2723A Cass avenue, and Gus Brown, 21, of 3101 Rutger street, a negro, were seriously injured at 4 o'clock when a truck driven by Brown was wrecked by an automobile driven by John Reagan, 1415 Olive street, at Nineteenth and Morgan streets. Mrs. Alvino was crossing the street when she was struck by the truck as it turned over. She was injured internally. Brown was buried in the wreckage. He suffered several fractured ribs, fractured collar bone and internal hurts. Reagan was arrested.

William Benish Jr., 14, of 2452 De Kalb street, was internally hurt, cut and bruised at 3 o'clock, when struck by an automobile driven by Dr. Joseph E. Doll, 2217 South Broadway, on Seventh street, near Soulard.

Katherine Grandinetti, 7, of 1514 North Seventh street, was struck by an automobile driven by William Daugherty, 5302 North Market street, as she ran across the street in front of her home at 2 o'clock. She suffered internal injuries and scalp wounds.

Oliver Yandi, 13, of 2015 Ann avenue, trying to pass a wagon on his bicycle in front of 1426 South Broadway, swerved and fell off the wheel in front of a truck driven in the same direction by John Donovan, 2539 Benton street, at 3 o'clock. He suffered a fractured left leg, scalp wounds and internal injuries.

Rosalie Allen, 17, of 1526 South Seventh street and Herman Erickson, 21, 2818 Washington avenue, were knocked down by an automobile driven by William Geisler, Maplewood, as they crossed Seventh street at Marion at 5 o'clock. Both were cut and bruised.

PEOPLE VENTURE INTO STREETS AGAIN IN LONDONDERRY

Irish City Approaching Normal Condition After Week's War — Fighting Now Confined to Sniping.

By the Associated Press.

LONDONDERRY, June 25.—Londonderry, since last Friday, the scene of violent street warfare between Unionists, Nationalists and Sinn Fein factions, today is approaching a normal condition. The banks and many shops were open and people ventured into the streets. The food supply in short, however, and the town still without gas.

Fighting between the warring factions since midnight was confined to sniping, the rival elements evidently fearing to attempt massed activities in view of the increased military forces.

The soldiers, in trying to ferret out snipers, took over St. Columba's College. The trees in the campus had sheltered a number of snipers.

At about midnight the firing became so intense that the searchlight on the destroyer anchored in the harbor was turned on the city in an endeavor to locate the men engaged in the fighting.

A former soldier was killed while crossing a street.

Yesterday the troops drove the warring elements off the streets and out of their strongholds. Before midnight machine gun fire was heard in various parts of town, but later only isolated shots were heard.

The death toll since the riots started last Friday now stands at 17, two persons having died yesterday. They were Patrick Mallet and a youth, named Peter Campbell.

At a meeting of the magistrates yesterday Gen. Campbell gave assurance that the Government would provide sufficient troops for the protection of law-abiding citizens in Londonderry. He issued a proclamation putting the curfew order into force from Saturday between 11 o'clock in the evening and 5 o'clock Sunday morning.

A 10-year-old boy named George Caldwell was shot yesterday while looking from a window. This morning the body of Patrick Plunkett, a commercial traveler was found in Bishop street. He was killed immediately after sending a telegram to his wife informing her of his safety. A woman named Moore was shot yesterday.

The looting Wednesday night was extensive. Numerous cases were reported of armed and masked men calling at the homes of Unionists and Nationalists and giving them notice to clear out.

Sinn Feiner Killed in Bed and Homes Burned at Bantry.

By the Associated Press

BANTRY, County Cork, Ireland, June 25.—What was apparently a concerted series of outrages against Sinn Feiners occurred here last night, one death and the burning of several homes and shops resulting.

Cornelius Crowley, 20 years old, was shot dead in bed by masked men who later set fire to the shop and dwelling of a local merchant. Both Crowley and the merchant were reported to be prominent in Sinn Fein circles.

Only Two Arrested for Carrying Firearms in Londonderry.

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, June 25.—A dispatch to the Evening News from Londonderry says: "In four days in this city, in which every house was an armory with a magazine, only two youths have been arrested for carrying firearms. The reason is that the military is insufficiently powerful to protect those they disarm from attacks by their enemies. Until re-enforcements arrive in greater numbers disarming of the people probably would lead to greater bloodshed."

NEW NONPOLITICAL CABINET OF EXPERTS FORMED IN POLAND

By the Associated Press.

WARSAW, June 25.—Poland's new Government, the Ministers of which were announced yesterday, is known as an official expert Cabinet, and is headed by Ladislas Grabski, former Minister of Finance, and a member of one of Poland's best-known and wealthiest families. Announcement is made that the Cabinet is nonpolitical in character and will be directed by resolutions accepted by the Diet.

Gen. Joseph Lesniewski continues as Minister of War, and five other members of various departments relating to interior affairs continue as chiefs. The Socialists, who, for months, have insisted upon peace and upon being recognized in a new Government, have already announced their lack of confidence in the new Cabinet, while the National Workingmen's party is also opposing the ministry.

The Cabinet crisis lasted 15 days, several leaders, including former Premier Skulski, having failed in their efforts to bring about a reorganization.

COUNTRY PHONE GIRLS SCORN FREE BOARD HERE

Manager of Bell Co. Tells of West End Home Failing to Attract New Help.

The Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. in confessing lack of service efficiency to subscribers, has stated on circulars inclosed with monthly bills that imperfections of service are due largely to inability of the company to get and retain operators. This inability the company makes basis of an application to the Public Service Commission for an increase of 50 cents in the monthly rental of residence telephones, declaring its purpose to spend the additional revenue to add attractions to switchboard operation as a vocation for women.

In this connection, F. O. Hale, general manager of the company, stated to a Post-Dispatch reporter today the effort the company has made to get operators.

"The application for the new rate increase is a last resort," he said. "When the company began to experience difficulty in retaining trained operators and hiring new ones, we ran short motion pictures in theaters depicting the life of an operator. That didn't bring the desired additions to the ranks.

"Next we started 10 girls scouting among girls of St. Louis for operators. We prepared a list for personal calls. We obtained the names of girl acquaintances from all our operators. When the scouts called on these girls, they obtained from them the names of their girl acquaintances, and from those acquaintances the names of others. In this way we built up a list of 12,000 girls, but the list didn't yield the needed number.

"Next we offered a reward of $6 to all of our employes who brought new employes to the company, and still we did not get enough girls.

"We purchased a residence at 3759 West Pine boulevard and equipped it as a home for operators. Then we went into out-State towns and to our operators there made this offer: 'If you will accept employment in St. Louis, we will pay your railroad fare, pay you the same wage you are now getting after your arrival there, and in addition will furnish you good board and comfortable lodging free of charge.' The capacity of the home is about 40 girls. The maximum number we have had in the home has been 33."

OPTIMISTS SEE BALLOON FLIGHT

Aeronaut Makes Trip to Entertain Visiting Delegates.

Delay in starting the balloon flight of Capt. Roy F. Donaldson, which was given this morning from Meramec Park in honor of the visiting delegates to the Optimist Clubs' convention at Hotel Statler, caused a corresponding delay in the convention program, as many delegates remained at the park until the balloon started at 10:05 a. m.

Donaldson expected to start his flight to Springfield, Ill., at 8:30, but was delayed by adverse winds. He used a balloon belonging to the Missouri Aeronautical Society, named "Springfield," in honor of the occasion, and was accompanied by G. B. Searcy of Springfield and a boy, Edward King of St. Louis.

Optimist literature was taken in the balloon to be scattered along the route.

UTILITIES PRESERVATION URGED

WASHINGTON, June 25.—Efforts to incorporate a plank in the Democratic platform declaring for preservation of public utilities will be made tomorrow before the Resolutions Committee in San Francisco, according to an announcement by the American Gas Association.

A committee headed by Judge George A. Cooke of Chicago will present arguments in favor of such a plank. Shortage of essential materials and great increases in cost of labor and materials necessitate public regulation, the announcement said.

POLICE CALLED OUT. BARGAIN HUNTERS TIED UP TRAFFIC

North 7th Street, in the block in front of Goldman Shoe Co. Store, No. 410, Thursday morning, where a big shoe sale was advertised, was a solid mass of humanity.

Never before in this city's history was there seen such a crowd. We were obliged to call upon the police. It was a scene that will long remain in the minds of all who were among the crowd.

Shoes, Slippers and Oxfords were carried away in armsful and in the rapid way in which people purchased proved they found goods marked and selling at the same low prices as advertised. Not only did the low prices attract the great crowds to this sale, but the high-class footwear offered brought out the best people. To those who were turned away and could not get in, we wish to make known that many extra salespeople have been secured to meet the demands, and all will be served, so get in line tomorrow and join the crowd and get your share.

INDICTED OIL PROMOTERS TO BE ARRAIGNED TODAY

Dozen of 50 Caught in Net Laid for Operators Selling Fraudulent Stock Expected to Appear.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, June 25.—A dozen or more of the 50 persons caught in a net spread by postoffice inspectors for operators suspected of using the mails to defraud through the sale of worthless oil stocks, were expected to appear in Federal Court here today for arraignment on indictments returned yesterday.

The indictments, five in number, charge four oil companies, 10 brokerage concerns and 50 individual defendants in various cities with having used the mails to circulate "literature" which resulted in the purchase of valueless stock by hundreds of customers. Federal authorities said the total sales would run into the millions. Further indictments are promised.

Lewis C. Van Riper, formerly secretary to Thomas W. Lawson, was the only one of the indicted men who appeared in court yesterday. He appeared voluntarily and was held in $20,000 bail.

The indictment against Van Riper names also the United Securities Co. of New York and Boston, in which he is said to be heavily interested; the Ranger Oil Co. and Curtis, Packer & Co., New York brokers. All are charged with promoting the sale of Ranger Co. stock which, the indictment alleges, represents no more in assets than one dry well.

According to the indictment, George A. Lamb & Co. bought Great Western Petroleum stock for $1 to $2 a share and then disposed of it to investors at $5 on false representation that the oil company was paying dividends of 12 per cent.

It was misrepresented, the indictment charges, that its wells at Erie, Kan., were the fourth largest owned by an independent corporation in the United States, and that it had pipe lines. The indictment says it further misrepresented that at Burkburnett, Tex., a gusher had been developed yielding 1000 barrels of oil a day, while the company was said to have had only a fractional interest in some town lots there on which there were no oil wells at all.

It is charged that misrepresentations were made that the company would be earning $4,000,000 a year when its program of distribution was concluded, and that dividends would begin to be paid a week after purchase of the stock.

Misrepresentations in disposal to investors of stock of the Crown Oil Co. of Delaware, capitalized at $3,000,000, also is charged. Payment of "dividends" is charged out of money derived from sale of the stock.

WORKER FOUND CRITICALLY HURT

Carl Lawrence, 60 years old of 3576 South Broadway, a brewer for the American Brewery Co., 2825 South Broadway, was found with a fractured skull, both jaws fractured, collar bone broken, all his teeth knocked out and unconscious alongside the elevator shaft at the fourth floor of the plant at 3 p. m. yesterday. At the city hospital doctors said his injuries probably would prove fatal.

Employes who were on the third floor and heard a noise above found Lawrence. The elevator with Lawrence's cap on it was at the second floor. From the position of the body, they reported, they believed Lawrence had leaned over the gate on the fourth floor and had been struck by the automatic elevator, as it descended. A broken railing on the gate bore out their theory.

Makes Wrinkles Go "As If By Magic"

Want to banish every wrinkle—from face, neck, hands—easily, quickly, completely? Try the famous saxolite formula. Nothing else so nearly meets every requirement. Why? Because it is correct in principle and really, truly assists Nature. Possessing remarkable astringent and tonic properties, it both tightens the skin—thus naturally smoothing out the lines—and improves capillary circulation and nerve tone—tending to strengthen loose tissue and bring about a healthy condition. Yet, powerful as the saxolite lotion is, it won't harm your skin in the least. And it's so easy to get the simple ingredients at your druggist's, and so easy to mix them.

Just dissolve one ounce of pure powdered saxolite in one-half pint of witch hazel—that's all. Bathe your face in this—immediately every wrinkle and crease are affected, even the deepest. You are perfectly astonished, and delighted, with the result. You look like you've lost years from your age!

BODY OF DEAF FARMER, SLAIN, FOUND ON PORCH

Money Missing and Pockets Turned Inside Out—No Clew to Slayer.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

FULTON, Mo., June 25.—Samuel Halstead, 79 years old, deaf and dumb farmer residing in Boone County, two miles west of Boydsville, was found murdered on the front porch of him home late Tuesday evening, according to information reaching this city this morning.

A bullet wound in his head, just back of the left ear, caused his death. It was evidently inflicted by a high-calibered revolver. Discovery of the man's body was made by his son-in-law, Jacob Statts. No weapon of any kind was found on the premises.

Halstead was alone at home, his wife having departed last Sunday to visit relatives at Boydsville. When she left him, he had $70 on his person; when found, the money was gone and his pockets were turned inside out.

Halstead was to have gone after his wife Tuesday, and when he failed to appear, his relatives became uneasy and instituted search. Halstead did not have an enemy, so far as was known. Officers from Boone County have been detailed on the case but, so far, have not found any clew, although they are certain that he was murdered for his money. The condition of his body indicated he had been dead several days when found, and the belief is that he was killed shortly after his wife left home. The Halstead home is in a remote part of Boone County.

Halstead's family relations were said to have been pleasant. He was the second husband of Mrs. Halstead, but had no children. Mrs. Halstead had a number of children by her first husband. She was visiting at the home of one of her sons at the time of the murder. No evidence of a struggle of any kind was evident on the porch or premises, and officers are certain that, because of his deafness, Halstead was unaware of the murderer's approach.

THREE HURT IN FALL OF STAGE

By the Associated Press.

BUFFALO, N. Y., June 25.—A temporary platform at the Broadway Auditorium, on which about 100 delegates to the Northern Baptist convention were having their pictures taken, collapsed a few minutes after the close of this morning's session.

Three persons were severely hurt and several others were cut and bruised.

27 TAKEN TO PENITENTIARY

Twenty-seven prisoners, including three women, were taken to the penitentiary at Jefferson City today.

One was Joseph Henry, 18 years old, of 1812 North Twelfth street, under sentence for a total of 45 years, who was one of the robbers who shot Chief of Police O'Brien. Another was Erwin L. Wieland, former cashier of the Skinner & Kennedy Stationery Co., who embezzled $10,000 from his employers. He will serve two years.

Many Newlyweds Select Furniture on Saturday

Tomorrow, Saturday, is the last day for newly married couples to select their furniture.

Last Saturday dozens of young people looked over the attractive bedroom, living-room and dining-room suites which this store is offering this month at special reductions.

The Prufrock & Litton furniture Company have fitted out rooms which they invite you to see, even if you are not ready to purchase at the present time.

Should you decide to take advantage of these prices now you can have the furniture delivered any time between now and September 1.

One-fifth, or 20 per cent, of your purchase can be paid this month and the balance in equal payments in the next thirty, sixty, ninety and 120 days. If you prefer to pay all cash, you may deduct an extra discount of 2 per cent.

The Prufrock-Litton store will be open Saturday afternoon until 5 o'clock.

Picking A Man To Beat Harding

"Bryan might swallow McAdoo, but he won't swallow Cox or Edwards. Cox is both able and popular; he would probably poll a larger vote than McAdoo, who has aroused opposition among the business interests of the country. If there is a deadlock at San Francisco a 'dark horse' may be nominated. John W. Davis has been mentioned as a possibility. Senator Underwood, of Alabama, altho he comes from the 'Solid South,' would make an ideal president"—thus the Birmingham Age-Herald presents a bird's-eye view of the situation at San Francisco. And these are not the only men who have a chance, according to the American press.

Should there be a strong provision in the platform endorsing the League of Nations, with or without reservations? Should the platform contain a "wet" or a "dry" plank? Should there be an appeal to the labor vote?

In THE LITERARY DIGEST for this week, June 26th, the Democratic platform and the various planks that it should contain, as proposed by Democratic editors, is discust, as well as a summary of the chances for nomination of various men who have been put forward.

MISS JULIA E. NICHOLS IS MARRIED AT HOME

Wedded to Percy Stewart Anderson in Quiet Ceremony—Will Reside Here.

THE marriage of Miss Julia E. Nichols and Percy Stewart Anderson was solemnized quietly at 8 o'clock last night at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Nichols, 4059 Westminster place. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. Ivan Lee Holt in the presence of only the immediate relatives. The bride's gown was or orchid tinted faille of an afternoon model, and she carried white roses and valley lilies. There were no attendants. Following the ceremony the couple departed on a bridal trip and will be at home, after Aug. 1 at 701 Westgate avenue.

The bride is a graduate of Lenox Hall and a sister of Mrs. Pollock, who was Miss Adele Nichols, and of Miss Katherine Nichols.

Mr. Anderson is the son of Mrs. W. S. Anderson of Denver, Colo., and has made his home in St. Louis for several years.

FRENCH ENVOY TO GERMANY NOTED FINANCE ADMINISTRATOR

Charles Laurent Has Served Government in Financial Positions Since 1889.

By the Associated Press.

PARIS, June 25.—Charles Laurent, the new French Ambassador to Germany, has had a most distinguished career, principally as a financial administrator. He was educated at the polytechnic school, served for some time as an officer of artillery, and afterward entered the Ministry of Finance.

He was appointed by President Carnot in 1889 to organize the finances of Tonking, and in 1895 became Director-General of Public Accounts, three years later being named Secretary-General of the Ministry of Finance. In 1918 he was appointed by Premier Clemenceau to be financial counselor of the Ottoman Government. During recent years Laurent has been engaged in private businesses. He is 64 years of age.

JEWISH HOSPITAL ZONE LAW CHANGE IS ORDERED FILED

Legislative Committee of Board of Aldermen Unanimously Takes Action Virtually "Killing" Bill.

The bill for the amendment of the zoning ordinance to permit the erection of a hospital by the Jewish Hospital Association west of Skinker road, in the vicinity of the residence subdivision known as Hi-Pointe, was filed by the legislative committee of the Board of Aldermen yesterday afternoon. This action has the effect of killing the measure and was by a unanimous vote of the committee.

Three factors influenced the committee in its action.

Alderman Udell stated that the Board of Aldermen, having passed a zoning law two years ago establishing certain districts as reserved for residences exclusively, was pledged to keep faith with those property owners who had purchased residences in restricted localities.

The second factor was the manner of the effort to amend the ordinance. The ordinance contemplates that changes in the zoning ordinance shall be submitted first to the City Plan Commission. The Jewish Hospital Association previously had endeavored to get the Commission's approval to an amendment permitting the erection of a hospital about 1000 feet north of the tract later selected. After a hearing, at which interested citizens appeared, the Commission withheld approval. A second site then was selected, but instead of first going to the Commission, the Hospital Association went directly to the Board of Aldermen.

Mayor Had Indicated Veto.

The third factor was the announcement of the Mayor that in general he would veto any change in the zoning ordinance not approved by the City Plan Commission, and the understanding that he would veto the specific change proposed.

Aaron Waldheim, president of the Jewish Hospital Association; W. Frank Carter, president of the Chamber of Commerce, acting as the association's counsel, and others, had argued to the committee that sections fronting public parks should not be reserved by any restrictions to favored classes. The site desired was adjacent to the west side of Forest Park.

Opponents of the proposal to amend the zoning ordinance have pointed out that there are two sides of the park, the south and east sides, which are open, under the provisions of the zoning law, to hospital and apartment house construction. The north and west sides are closed to all except residence use. The argument has been made that a hospital site can be found on the south or east side of the park.

Examination of the Assessor's valuations of property on the different sides of the park shows that property on the unrestricted south side of the park, between Forest Park College and Skinker avenue, is assessed at $25 to $30 a front foot and $3000 to $3500 an acre. At Tamm avenue there is some property with a valuation as low as $15 a front foot.

The valuations on the restricted district at the west of the park run from $35 to $88 a front foot, and on the De Mun tract, where the Jewish Hospital management wished to build, the valuation was $5500 an acre. Neighboring acreage valuation is as high as $7000.

On the east side of the park, which is not restricted, valuations on King's highway, near Oakland, Chouteau and Gibson avenues, and farther north, run from $32 to $55 a front foot. The valuation north of the Barnes Hospital grounds is much higher, running to $200 and $250 a front foot at Forest Park boulevard and Laclede avenue, and to $500 at Lindell boulevard.

"Jay Walking" Bill Filed.

A bill forbidding "jay walking" was filed. "Jay walking" is defined as the practice of pedestrians in crossing streets at points other than crossings. The committee regarded the ordinance in category of "freak" legislation.

A bill imposing an annual license fee of $100 on dispensers of near beers and soft "wine" drinks was filed.

BUG-OLOGY

Bedbugs lay an average of seven eggs per day. Under favorable conditions they hatch in five days, of which two-thirds are females. They mature to adult size and are capable of laying in four weeks. How many bedbugs would you have in a year if you left one female or egg unmolested for one year? To rid the pesky bedbug, you can readily see how necessary it is to use a preparation that will kill the eggs as well as the live ones. P. D. Q. has been demonstrated by the leading Hospitals, Hotels and Railroad Companies—that the safest and most economical way to stop future generations of bedbugs, roaches, fleas and ants is to use the new discovery, Pesky Devils' Quietus.

A 35c package of P. D. Q. makes a quart, enough to kill a million bedbugs, roaches, fleas and cooties and at the same time destroy their eggs as well.

Impossible for them to exist when P. D. Q. is properly used. Free, patent stout in every package to get the pesky devils in the hard-to-get-at places.

Special Hospital and Hotel size $2.50—makes five gallons of P. D. Q. Your druggist has it or can get it for you, or sent prepaid upon receipt of price by the Owl Chemical Co., Terre Haute, Ind. Success of P. D. Q. has caused imitators. Genuine P. D. Q. is never peddled. Sold by Judge & Dolph, Wolff-Wilson, Johnson Bros., Merker's, East St. Louis, and other leading druggists.

This year, as in former years, the first of the larger entertainments for the benefit of the Post-Dispatch Pure Milk and Free Ice Fund was given by the Neville School of Dancing, Grand avenue and Palm street. Under the able direction of Mr. and Mrs. Neville about 55 children of varying ages presented a two-act entertainment, "The Real American Girl," at the Sacred Heart School Hall the evening of June 14, and cleared $93.50 for the babies.

With the exception of the $200 already given by the Post-Dispatch as its annual contribution, this is the largest single amount received for the fund thus far this season, and bids fair to be the highest record for the results of any amateur entertainment.

Little Clara Harlow disposed of 81 tickets for the benefit, and other children did exceptionally well in the sale of tickets. Ten-year-old Dorothy Oth, who had the part of the messenger boy in the performance, and Roma Schaeffer, who represented the Goddess of Liberty, have been especially commended for their work, but it was a hard task for a casual observer to draw any distinctions, as the children all did splendidly in spite of the exceedingly warm night.

Children Participating.

The children who participated were: Anita Coleman, Roma Schaefer, Dorothy and Minnie Freadrich, Lillian Magnuson, Marie Donovan, Margaret Flinn, Helen, Mabel and Emelda Gilmore, Bernice Jones, Loretta Grayson, Julia Piatte, Ruth Beckman, Anna Walsh, Clara Harlow, Esther Siebelts, Mary O'Donnell, Adele Fox, Frances, Schaub, Irene Borne, Margaret Wenzel, Norma Hamelman, Maxine Piatte, Edith Healy, Catherine Blake, Gertrude Schwedtmann, Harriet Hagen, Kathlyn Morgan, Mildred Ruhle, Eunice Hunt, Laurence E. Neville, Leo and Ruth Bennett, Junior Wamhoff, Tallen Headen, Percival Starke, Clara and Billie Burke, Anna Walsh, Bernice Jones, Mary and Margaret Faupel, Loretta Callahan, Evelyn Miesch, Genevieve Hogan, Ruth Pilate, Loretta Grayson, Margaret Boland, Cecelia and Leona Raisansnider and Lucille Pool.

Vaudeville Entertainment.

Another successful entertainment of the past few days was given at 2934 Flora boulevard under the supervision of Virginia Bennett, earning $17 for the fund. There were 11 acts of vaudeville and lemonade was sold between the acts by Bernice Collins. The stage setting was of smilax and roses and the scenes were lighted by Japanese lanterns. With the help of the mothers the affair was a success, more than 100 people attending. Ushers were Buddy Stroub, William Collins and Buster Bennett.

Frances and Georgia Huffington and Katie and Martha Jenkins of 4223 Hartford street donated $3.65 to the Milk and Ice Fund which they earned by selling lemonade and root beer.

An entertainment by Ruth and the Kirby twins at 5302 Union avenue on Wednesday evening netted $1.79 for the babies.

A steadfast friend of the babies, Alberta Scott, 317 North Boyle avenue, earned $1.25 for the Fund last week by giving a Cinderella play with the assistance of a few playmates from the neighborhood. The children assisting were: Mary Campbell, Janet Scott, Virginia Wiler, Peggy and Sarah Rothschild, Mary Jane and Albert Reidell and Clarence and George Renard.

Six Children Give Show.

Six children earned 75 cents by giving a show at Page and Union recently. They were: Iris Powell, Martha Stewart, Thelma Morrish, Billie Balwig and Dorothy and Naomi Kolbrener.

Joseph and Eugene Henschel of 4444A McPherson avenue reported 65 cents earned by selling chewing gum to their friends.

Ursula and Bernice McGrain of 3427 Hickory street earned $1.05 for the Milk and Ice Fund by selling lemonade at Grand and Chouteau.

Two anonymous cash contributions were among yesterday's donations. Five dollars was received through the mail marked "For the Milk Fund" and $1 came from a man who asked that it be acknowledged "Waterloo."

PESKY BED BUGS

Doctors declare that bedbugs and other vermin are the most-to-be-feared means of spreading such diseases as consumption, spinal meningitis and other infectious troubles. There is no disgrace in getting bedbugs in your home, because that can't be avoided, but it is a disgrace to permit them to remain and thrive when it is so easy to get rid of them with the new chemical compound, P. D. Q., which actually puts an end to these pesky devils.

A MILLION BEDBUGS

A 35-cent package of this golden chemical will make a quart of a mixture that is so deadly to bedbugs that it would kill a million of them if you could get that many together. If they were as big as your hand it would swat them just as well. And not only the live ones, but the future generation as well, because once it hits the eggs they are gone.

CUT THIS OUT

Your druggist has P. D. Q. (Pesky Devils' Quietus) and will be glad to furnish it for 35 cents. One 35-cent package makes a quart of the mixture, and is equal to a barrel of old-fashioned bug-killer. Some druggists may try to sell you something else. Don't accept a substitute. If your druggist hasn't P. D. Q., send us your name and 35 cents and we will send you a package postage prepaid to your address.

WILL NOT DAMAGE GOODS

P. D. Q. will not injure delicate fabrics, clothing, carpets, furniture, bedding, wall paper or woodwork. In fact, it is often used as a deodorizer and disinfectant.

KILLS FLEAS ON DOGS

If you have a pet dog who is infested with fleas, take a little P. D. Q. mixture in your hand and rub it into the fur. Then watch the fleas loot the loon. They will be deader than King Solomon before they bit the floor.

CHICKEN LICE DESTROYER

Have your chickens got lice? Don't hesitate. Get a 35-cent package of P. D. Q., make a gallon of lice-destroyer from it as directed, and then get busy in the henhouse. It's as easy you'll laugh, and so will the chickens. By the way, did you ever see a chicken laugh? Try this and watch 'em.

FOR ANTS AND COCKROACHES

The ants and cockroaches stand just as good a chance of surviving a treatment of P. D. Q. as a snowball in a justly famed Heat Resort. It swats them and their eggs with a wallop that puts their whole generation out of business. Use it on furs in storage to kill and keep out moths.

A BEDBUG SPOUT

Every package of P. D. Q. contains a patent spout that fits any ordinary bottle. It will enable you to reach the hard-to-get-at places and save lots of juice. When buying look for the Devil Heads on every package of P. D. Q., then you'll be sure to get the genuine.

MAN KILLS WIFE, SHOOTS HIMSELF IN MARKET ST. CAFE

J. W. Stephens, Switchman of Mart, Tex., Insists That He Fired at Man Who Was Accompanying His Wife.

A Coroner's verdict of homicide was returned today over Mrs. Lissie Stephens, 22 years old, whose husband, John W. Stephens, of Mart, Tex., shot and killed her and then shot himself, about 3 p. m. yesterday, in Joseph Daneri's Winter Garden Cafe, 1629 Market street. The jury recommended that Stephens be held for the grand jury. He is at the city hospital in a serious condition.

Stephens today held to the statement, which he made to the police just after the shooting, that he fired at a man who entered the cafe with Mrs. Stephens and that he intended to shoot the man and not his wife.

Cafe Manager Testifies.

At the inquest Harry Taylor, manager of the cafe, and Morris Meyers, a waiter, testified that Stephens and his wife entered the place together at 2:30 p. m. and had several drinks of near beer and seemed to be on good terms. Both witnesses said no other man entered with Mrs. Stephens, who was a frequent visitor to the cafe and was known there as "Dot Griffin."

In Stephens' coat pocket policemen found this note:

"If anything happens, have the Switchmen's Union of North America take care of me and my wife. Notify Mrs. L. F. Stephens of Mart, Tex., and A. F. Van Blum of Waco, Tex., secretary of the Switchmen's Union."

Arrived Here Yesterday.

After the shooting Stephens told policemen he and his wife were married in St. Louis March 22 last and that a short time later he went to Oklahoma to work as a switchman and she went to the home of her mother, Mrs. Mattie Neal of Forman, Ark. He was injured when at work June 19, he said, and while on a leave of absence he went to Forman and found that his wife had come to St. Louis. He had reason, he said, to suspect a man accompanied her.

He came to St. Louis, arriving here yesterday morning and near Union Station, he said, he met his wife on the street and she suggested they go to Daneri's cafe for a talk. There, he said, he demanded that she return her marriage certificate to him and she refused to return it.

Says He Shot at Man.

Stephens said he walked around until about 3 p. m., when he went back to the cafe and sat at a table in a rear room. He had been there only a few minutes, he said, when his wife entered, accompanied by a man. He said he opened fire on the man and accidentally shot his wife. After she fell with a mortal wound near the heart he turned his pistol on himself, shooting himself in the chest.

So far as has been learned no one else was in the room when the shots were fired. Daneri and a waiter ran in and found Mrs. Stephens dead. Her marriage certificate, framed, lay on the floor near her. It showed that she and Stephens were married by Justice of the Peace McChesney in St. Louis, March 22 last. The certificate gave her maiden name as Lissie D. Kelly.

TOWNE GETS $105,000 VERDICT

Former Senator Sued for $300,000 Over War-Time Contracts.

By the Associated Press

NEW YORK, June 25.—Testifying that he had been employed to "get the ear of Secretary Daniels" on torpedo contracts during the war, former United States Senator Charles A. Towne of Minnesota yesterday obtained a verdict of $105,000 against the E. W. Bliss Co. of Brooklyn.

Claiming $300,000 for professional services, Towne testified that he was able to obtain remission of the penalties after the company had failed to fulfill terms of its contract. The company denied that the Senator had been able to accomplish anything for them.

Nature Gives No 2-Inch Heels

YET many women slip a two-inch heel under the one Nature gave, and jam their five toes into a wedge-shaped box big enough for but two toes.

Thus they cramp and distort their foot bones and leg muscles, and suffer from the inevitable result: corns, bunions, callouses, weak arches, ingrowing nails; backache and other ailments.

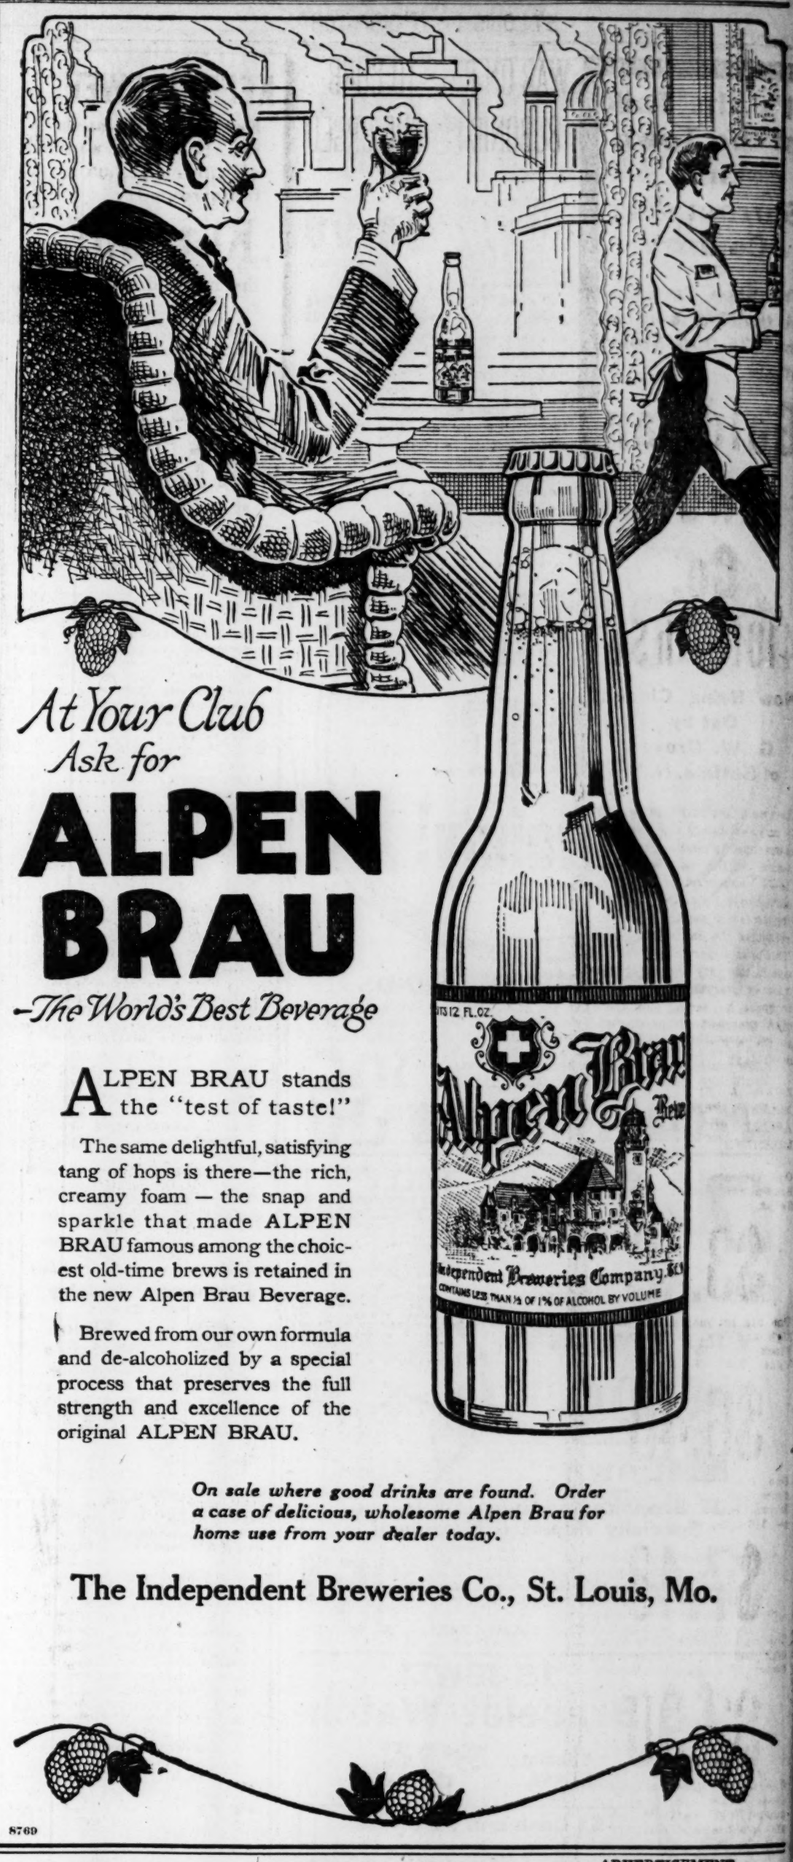

To such sufferers we say: "Treat your feet as Nature planned. Give your toes the room they need; drop your heels where they belong. Put on good-looking Educators." For Educators fit the foot correctly, and "let the feet grow as they should." We invite you to come in and see how your foot looks in an Educator.

WAR ON RATS TO CURB BUBONIC PLAGUE URGED

Surgeon-General Says Besides Carrying Disease Rats Cost U. S. $180,000,000 year.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, June 25.—Calling attention to the discovery of bubonic plague in several American and Mexican gulf ports and renewing his warning regarding the introduction of the plague from Mediterranean ports which are known to be infected, Surgeon-General Hugh S. Cumming today urged communities throughout the country and especially along the coast, to inaugurate rat extermination campaigns.

"Bubonic plague is primarily a disease of rodents, especially rats," said Gen. Cumming, "and the disease can be controlled effectively by measures directed against the rat. The extermination of rats also is to be desired because of the tremendous economic damage they cause."

According to conservative estimates by the Public Health Service based on numerous surveys, there is at least one rat for every person in the United States. The annual upkeep per rodent was computed by the same authorities as $1.80 in Great Britain, $1.20 in Denmark and $1 in France. The depredations of the rats in the United States will very probably exceed the estimate for Great Britain. One-half a cent a day considered conservative, but even on this computation it costs the United States $180,000,000 a year to support its rat population. This does not include mice.

"The United States Public Health Service is prepared to detail trained experts to assist communities in organizing the fight against rats," said Gen. Cumming. "Many of our officers have had extensive practical experience in this work and know how to make it really effective."

The health service has just published a bulletin dealing with methods for rat destruction. Copies may be obtained by addressing the United States Public Health Service, Washington, D. C.

POLICE ITEMS

JOHN DRESNER, 16 YEARS OLD, OF 917 Allen avenue, employed for a month at Butler Bros., Eighteenth and Olive streets, as a clerk, arrested as he was leaving the place yesterday with three pairs of men's garters in his possession, admitted stealing 14 shirts, two parasols and other articles found in his home. Three of the shirts he had sold to neighbors.

WILLIAM KING, 22 YEARS OLD, OF Toronto, Canada, arrested at midnight when the police found him and two other youths at Sixteenth and Market streets, told the police later he had been held up in Kansas City last Wednesday and robbed of $1600, his savings. He said he was trying to "beat" his way back home with Leo Stewart, when they stopped over here for a few days.

EDWARD JONES, 1422 WASH STREET, a negro, was arrested yesterday when he appeared at the furniture store of Morris Stern, 2800 Franklin avenue, and attempted to sell six rugs. An argument over the price caused Stern to call the police. Later the rugs were identified by Julius Kornblum of Hoffman & Kornblum, furniture dealers, 1413 Franklin avenue, as part of eight rugs stolen earlier in the day by a negro in their employment. Jones said he had received the rugs from another negro.

DETECTIVES INTERRUPTED A COIN-matching game between three men at Nineteenth and Locust streets, last night, when they recognized two of the participants. The third man was George Wicks of Dahlgren, Ill., who said that he met the other men at Union Station. He said that he had not lost any money. The two men with Wicks were arrested. They said they were Robert Carson and John Seymore, and gave their address as the Linmar Hotel.

MISCELLANEOUS

MRS. EMMA RUPPERT, 48 YEARS OLD, of 1913 North Fifteenth street, visiting at the home of Mrs. Anna Elliot, 1314 Obear avenue, yesterday fell on the kitchen floor, fracturing her left hip and suffering internal injuries. She was taken to the city hospital.

THE ST. LOUIS BRANCH OF THE FEDeration of United States Employes will hold a picnic at Forest Park Highlands tomorrow, the funds to be used for the entertainment of delegates at the national convention of the organization here next September.

A BALCONY CARNIVAL WILL BE GIVen by the Women's Auxiliary to Sergt. Joseph B. Fournier Jr. Post, No. 8, American Legion, June 26, at 8:15 p. m., at Battery A Armory, 1221 South Grand avenue.

FORMER SERVICE MEN OF ST. LOUIS are offered a two weeks' scholarship at the Y. M. C. A. summer school at Geneva, Wis., from July 7 to July 21. The course will be in leadership with the basics of the Christian attempted, reading matter as a basis of study. Application for scholarship and details of the plan may be obtained from Philemon Bevis, general secretary of the Y. M. C. A., at 1873 Railway Exchange Building.

TUCK POINTER FINED $400 ON TESTIMONY OF TWO GIRLS

John Andrew Cather, 25 years old, of 2004 Kraft avenue, a tuck pointer, was fined $400 in Police Court today on the testimony of Dorothy Haffner, 11 years old, 3966A Blaine avenue, and Loretto Hart, 13, of 4008 McRee avenue.

The girls said that in the morning of June 18 they were at Taylor and Maryland avenues when Cather, who was driving a motor truck, invited them for a ride. When they refused, they said, he swore at them. Later they pointed him out to a policeman.

Police records show that Cather was fined $200 in Police Court Dec. 31, 1917, for annoying two 9-year-old girls, and that he is wanted now by the authorities at Clayton on a similar charge. Cather testified that he had asked the girls to direct him to a factory but denied having asked them to take a ride.

Little Motor Kar Case Goes Over.

By the Associated Press.

DALLAS, Tex., June 25.—Trial of seven officials and stockholders of the Little Motor Kar Co. on 21 county grand jury charges of embezzlement was passed yesterday until the next term in District Court. A Federal indictment against the same defendants, charging misuse of the mails in connection with Motor Kar stock sales had been quashed on technicalities.

Many Newlyweds Select Furniture on Saturday

Tomorrow, Saturday, is the last day for newly married couples to select their furniture.

Last Saturday dozens of young people looked over the attractive bedroom, living-room and dining-room suites which this store is offering this month at special reductions.

The Prufrock & Litton furniture Company have fitted out rooms which they invite you to see, even if you are not ready to purchase at the present time.

Should you decide to take advantage of these prices now you can have the furniture delivered any time between now and September 1.

One-fifth, or 20 per cent, of your purchase can be paid this month and the balance in equal payments in the next thirty, sixty, ninety and 120 days. If you prefer to pay all cash, you may deduct an extra discount of 2 per cent.

The Prufrock-Litton store will be open Saturday afternoon until 5 o'clock.

A Place for Everything Everything in Its Place

Piggly Wiggly shoppers appreciate the fact that they can always find just the articles they are looking for always in the same location on the shelves. For example: Canned Fruits, the first group to the left as you enter; next the Canned Vegetables and Syrups. On the right as you enter are the Coffees and Teas. So it is with all the 1800 articles which comprise the Piggly Wiggly display. We believe that nearly every man, woman and child in St. Louis could find the sugar shelves blindfolded.

So much for order. In regard to clean stock, it is sufficient to say that no goods are permitted on the shelves more than 60 days, and most groceries are sold the same week.

Prices on each article are marked in plain figures on swinging price tags. These prices remain the same, only being changed as the cost goes higher or lower. Piggly Wiggly does not RUN "SPECIALS," i. e., marking down a few "leaders" as a bait to the buyer. Piggly Wiggly prices are consistently lower on everything. Compare these few items with what you have been paying elsewhere for the same quality and you will find that you save about $1 on every $5 purchased:

HOW TO GET HEALTH

When You Are Weak, Run-Down, Nervous and Tire on the Slightest Exertion.

This condition shows that Iron in the life and strength of your blood is wearing out, your nerve force is decaying and vitality is becoming low.

Disease acts only on those whose blood is thin and watery, impoverished or impure and never affects persons whose blood is rich and pure, with plenty of Iron in it. Dr. Chase's Blood and Nerve Tablets are a wonderful restorative because they contain Iron, Nux Vomica, Gentian, Capsicum and Zinc Phosphide, which makes them a most valuable tonic for the sick, convalescent and overworked. Each one means more energy, more nerve force, more strength. They put snap into you which makes life worth living. Sold by Druggists, 60 cents. Special (Stronger, more Active, 90 cents).

OLYMPIC TRIALS OPEN IN CHICAGO TOMORROW

CHICAGO, June 25.—Track and field stars who will strive for recognition in the Mid-West Olympic trials at Stagg Field tomorrow went through their final workouts today. It was announced that the first three qualifiers in each of the 19 events will be sent to Cambridge, Mass., next month to compete in the finals.

The performances of the stars who have been training here indicates they are in the best of condition. Sol Butler of Dubuque (Ia.) College, winner of the broad jump in the Inter-Allied games, has been leaping better than 23 feet in practice. Frank Foss of the Chicago A. A., holder of the world's pole vault record at 13 feet 3 9-16 inches, displayed usual form in his practice. Jole Ray, the Illinois A. C. Runner, will confine his efforts to the mile run tomorrow.

Three Tigers in Tourney.

GLENCOVE, N. J., June 25.—Three Princeton golfers, two from Yale and one representative each of Columbia, Pennsylvania and Williams remained qualified at the end of yesterday's playing to compete in the third round matches of the Intercollegiate Golf Association championship tournamen which are scheduled for today.

British Cup Team Named.

WIMBLEDON, England, June 25.—The British Davis Cup team was selected yesterday. It comprises James Cecil Parke, Herbert Roper, Parr Barrett, Algernon R. F. Kingstone and Theodore Michel Mavrogoroto.

Griffiths and Rostan Draw.

ALLIANCE, Neb., June 25.—Johnny Griffiths of Akron, O., and "Navy" Rostan of Chicago fought 10 rounds to a draw here last night.

NEW RULE ON HOMERS GOES IN EFFECT TODAY

CHICAGO, June 25.—A change in the baseball rules governing balls hit out of the playing fields will go into effect today, it was announced by American League headquarters last night. The rule is covered by paragraph 48 of the rule book and at present provides that a ball shall be judged fair or foul "according to where it passes over the boundary line of the actual playing field." The new wording will be the same as in 1919, which says that when a "batted ball passes outside ground or into the stands the umpire shall judge it fair or foul according to where it disappears from the umpire's view.

The latter interpretation of the rule would have robbed "Babe" Ruth of at least two home runs this year, baseball officials said.

Under the new ruling if an umpire sees a ball land foul it must be called foul, regardless of whether it passed over the boundary fence fair. The change applies to both major leagues.

U. S. OARSMEN TRY OUT HENLEY REGATTA COURSE

HENLEY, England, June 25.—American oarsmen entered in the Royal Henley regatta, which will be rowed June 30 and July 1, were out yesterday familiarizing themselves with the course. They have been doing good work since their arrival, the Union Boat Club of Boston, defenders of the Grand Challenge Cup, showing marked improvement. It rowed the full course last evening in seven minutes and 31 seconds, which was 24 seconds faster than the time made on Tuesday. In the opinion of experts this crew will hardly reach the standard of Harvard, 1914, but will nevertheless e a hard competitor to beat.

Checker Tourney Booked.

SANDUSKY, O., June 25.—The biennial American checker championship tourney, discontinued during the war, will be held at Cedar Point August 8 to 15, it was announced yesterday. Sixty of the leading players in the country have entered. The last tourney was held at Chicago in 1913, and the American championship was won by Hugh Henderson of Pittsburg, who since has died.

Cobb to Join Tigers July 7.

AUGUSTA, Ga., June 25.—Tyrus R. Cobb, who has been at his home here 10 days on account of injuries received in a game at Chicago two weeks ago, stated last night he would join his team in New York July 7 and expected to be in condition to play by July 15. Cobb says there are three ligaments torn in his knee, but they are rapidly healing.

Error in Schalk Record.

Statistician Al Munro Elias discovers that Ray Schalk did not catch his thousandth major league game on June 4. It was only No. 974, and Ray still has to go a few to reach the thousand mark. Doc White, by the way, wants to be remembered as the man who pitched the first game that Schalk caught for the White Sox.

Johnston and Tilden Beat French Davis Cup Stars, in British Event

Gobert and Laurentz, Doubles Team, Win One Set in Four From Yankee Opponents—Garland and Williams Come Through in Singles Matches.

WIMBLEDON, England, June 25.—R. Norris Williams of Boston won his match in the fourth round of the British lawn tennis championships here today. He defeated J. Brugnon, the brilliant young French player, in straight sets, 6—0, 6—2, 6—2.

C. S. Garland of Pittsburg, also won his way through the fourth round. He met A. S. Drew, an English player, and scored a comparatively easy victory in straight sets, 6—4, 6—2, 6—1.

U. S. Davis Cup Men Beat French.

William M. Johnston of California and William T. Tilden of Philadelphia, the American Davis cup pair, defeated Andre Gobert and William M. Laurentz of the French Davis cup team in their match today in the British championship. The Americans won, 6—2, 6—0, 4—6, 9—7.

Williams had been in rather erratic form in this tournament, but his play today more than fulfilled the promise of yesterday, when his game revealed a form very near his old standard.

Williams in Pre-War Form.

Williams reproduced much of his best pre-war form. He was remembered by the crowd owing to his visit to Wimbledon in 1913. He was a popular figure because all his strokes were standard models, always executed in a polished and finished manner.

Williams seldom outed or netted today, his driving being most steady and sometimes killingly forceful, both in his fore and back-hand play. He found the corners beautifully and sometimes won a point by sensationally smashing the second service far harder than the first. Although Brucnon fought pluckily, the result never was in doubt.

Garland played a fine game, revealing much better form than he displayed at the Queen's Club tournament last week. He missed very little off the ground, and occasionally, when in a tight corner, brought off an exceedingly speedy forehand drive which scored cleanly.

In the play among the eight tournament survivors Farland will meet C. R. Blackbear, the 20-year-old South African, who has been one of the surprises of the championship play. Blackbear arrived from South Africa a few weeks ago quite unheralded, but yesterday he beat G. Todd, the former South African champion and a member of this year's South African Davis cup team.

U. S. Mixed Doubles Team Loses.

In the second round of the mixed doubles championship, Gerald L. Patterson of Australia, the present holder of the British singles title, and Mlle. Suzanne Lenglen of France, winner of the British woman's championship last year, defeated the American pair, C. S. Garland and Mrs. Franklin Mallory (Molla Bjurstedt), 6—0, 6—3.

Hagen Qualifies 4th, Barnes 41st, In British Event

By WALTER HAGEN.
Open Golf Champion United States.

LONDON, June 25.—Well, the qualifying set for Great Britain's open golf championship is safely behind us, and by us I mean Jim Barnes and myself, who are here seeking a title of the links from the best in the world.

It was hard to work up much enthusiasm for these two rounds. The golf lacked the atmosphere of a big event, more particularly as the rounds were not played over the Deal course, where the final test comes next week.

Jim Barnes, who was decidedly off form Wednesday, with an 81, was more like his real self, yesterday, and quickly settled down to business. He could not afford to take any chances, but turned in a good 74, which gave him a total of 155 for the 36 holes, and left him safely inside the limit with a few strokes to spare.

I felt more like letting out at the ball yesterday morning over the Burnhill links than I did at St. George's, and turned in a round of 71. I felt that I should have beaten this two or three strokes, but did not get any "breaks" on the greens. However, I am well content to qualify by a safe margin with a 36-hole total of 147.

Mitchell Has Remarkable Card.

Abe Mitchell, who broke the course record at St. George's Wednesday with a brilliant 68, turned in a 71 yesterday on his second round at Burnhill, for the remarkable score of 139 for 36 holes. This, of course, led the field, and it seems almost a pity that it does not count for the championship.

Harry Vardon, Jim Duncan, Ted Ray, Alec Taylor and Arnold Massey, the great French player, were well out in front on both days' play and practically every man who was counted on to qualify came through.

Somehow or other, I feel that I have done nothing extra as yet, and am due for some good golf at Deal next week. It is there that Barnes and I must be at our best, else our golf invasion will go for nothing.

(EDITORIAL NOTE—Hagen's modesty forbade him to mention the fact that he qualified in fourth and Barnes in forty-first position, in the big field of candidates.)

FORMER ST. LOUIS BOY REACHES SEMIFINAL IN INTERCOLLEGIATE GOLF

GLEN COVE, N. Y., June 25.—Survivors of the Intercollegiate Golf Association championship tournament over the Nassau Country Club links, here today, were J. Simpson Dean, the Princeton captain; Jesse Sweetzer of Yale, a former St. Louis boy; James Ward of Williams, and J. A. Moss of Princeton. They will meet as named in the semifinal this afternoon.

Dean defeated A. L. Walker Jr. of Columbia, winner a year ago, in the third round by 5 to 4.

Sweetzer won from A. T. Buffington of Yale, 9 to 7.

Browns Send Sanders to Tulsa.

JOPLIN, Mo., June 25.—Pitcher Roy Sanders, who played with Joplin in the Western League several years ago, has been released to Joplin by the St. Louis Browns and will join that club at Tulsa during the present series there, it was announced here.

Harvard Varsity Eight Beats Yale In Regatta Final

Yale's Crew Leads for First Mile, but Harvard Forges to Front in Last Half.

REGATTA COURSE, New London, Conn., June 25.—Before onlooking thousands, Harvard's eight-oared varsity shell flashed past the finish, in front of the Yale Stalwarts, winning the four-mile feature of the fifty-second annual regatta between two university squads here today. In the morning Yale crews had captured the Freshman eight and the Junior varsity races, dividing the honors of the day.

Harvard crossed the finish fine in fine condition, winning easily six lengths to the good. The result was a surprise, as Yale was a 6 to 5 favorite to win.

The crews caught the water at 5:15. Water conditions were good, and the slight breeze favored the oarsmen.

Both crews rowed neck and neck for half a mile. Approaching the one-mile flag Yale was leading by a scant margin.

At the half way mark, with both crews rowing doggedly, in perfect rhythm, Harvard was leading by about one length.

Yale spurted after passing the navy yard and cut down the Crimson lead to about half a length, at the three-mile flags.

At the finish Harvard crossed the mark in front, easily, by six lengths.

The Eli oarsmen swept the Yale shells across the finish line of both the freshman and junior varsity two-mile races well ahead of their crimson rivals.

Weather and water conditions were extremely favorable, being reflected in the times, Yale winning the freshman contest by about a length in 10 minutes 3 3-5 seconds, while the Cambridge crew trailed home in 10:06. In the junior varsity, Yale's margin was close to a length and a half, with the official time announced as Yale, 10 minutes 6 3-5 seconds; Harvard, 10 minutes 10 seconds.

YACHT RACE CALLED OFF WITH RESOLUTE LEADING

NEWPORT, R. I., June 25.—Today's trial race between the Resolute and Vanitie was called off, after the yachts had completed the first round of the leeward and windward course and were half way to the outer mark on the second round. Resolute was 2½ minutes ahead, in beginning the second lap of the course.

The series now stands seven victories for Resolute, four for Vanitie.

Miss Gould Wins Way to Final in Clay Court Play

St. Louis Girl Will Oppose Miss Zinderstein for Championship Tomorrow.

DETROIT, June 25.—Miss Corrine Gould of St. Louis, U. S. clay-court champion, and Miss Marion Zinderstein of Boston won their way into the final of the woman's national clay court tennis championship here this afternoon.

Miss Gould, defending champion, defeated Miss Florence Ballin of New York, 6—2, 9—7.

Miss Zinderstein won from Miss Elanor Tennant of Los Angeles, 7—5 and 6—1.

The finals will be played tomorrow.

SPORT SALAD

BY L. C. Davis

There's a Reason.

BABE made his twentieth home run
While here the other day.
But yesterday he garnered none.
Because he didn't play.*

*Exhibition frolics don't count.

CIRCUMSTANCES ALTER CASES.

THERE was a man in our town
Who had a wondrous brain;
He registered a kick because
The game was called for rain.
The home team was so far ahead,
He said it was a shame,
And called the ump an ivory head
Because he stopped the game.

Next day while seated in the stand,
The home team in the rear,
A cloud no bigger than the hand
Was fated to appear.
A single raindrop chanced to fall
Upon his manly frame,
And straightway he began to bawl:
"Why don't you call the game?"

EASY GOING.

Babe Ruth made his twentieth home run of the season on June 23. Babe is running under "raps."

"What a Few Dollars Will Do."

Adv. They'll do about what a few quarters would do six years ago.

THE KICK.

California being the home of the raisin, there ought to be something stirring at the Democratic convention in Frisco.

QUITE SO.

The paramount issue at the Frisco convention seems to be, "What'll it be, gents, beer or grape juice?"

It is said quite a number of the former nineteenth hole hounds are depending on the locker shot to keep their game at par.

We are gradually approaching that 16 to 1 basis when it will take 16 iron men to do the work of one.

"Don't Discourage Phone Operators."—Head line. It can't be done.

The man on the sand box says a political platform can't be built without considerable log-rolling.

What became of the old-fashioned excursion boat that wouldn't land until the beer was all sold?

As we go to press light wine is still looking for a place to light.

MR. AND MRS. BABE RUTH.
Bats.
Hats.

To date all efforts to modify the stymie at the nineteenth hole have been more or less futile.

We felt it coming. Bills have been introduced in the City Council to increase the price of water.

TOO TRUE.

WATER, water everywhere,
But nothing's free excepting air.

BENEFIT BALL GAME TO BE AT SPORTSMAN'S PARK

The first game played by the St. Louis Cardinals on the diamond of Sportsman's Park since their arrangement with the Brown management, and the first appearance of Rickey's Knot-Hole balltossers after their tour in the East, will be for the benefit of the Tuberculosis Society of St. Louis.

Chairman J. F. Oberwinder of the committee in charge has announced that all tickets thus far sold for reserved seats or boxes in Cardinal Field may be exchanged for similar locations in Sportsman's Park if the holders will present them at the ticket sale window at the ball game headquarters, ground floor of the Kinloch Building, Tenth and Locust streets.

A razor and stropping device combined in one

A "new" sharp edge every day

No "pull," no "scrape" with this unique razor

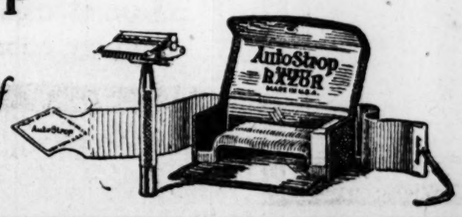

DOES your safety razor blade grow duller and duller with each shave until you cannot stand it any longer? Do you have endless bother and expense with new blades? If so, you are paying the penalty of shaving with an unstropped edge.

You don't need to put up with the "pull" and "scrape" of fast dulling blades—nor with the bother and expense of using a new blade every few days if you use the AutoStrop Razor.

Because of its unique, patented design, the AutoStrop Razor can be stropped without removing the blade. Just slip the strop through the razor head. Give the razor a dozen quick passes over the strop. In ten seconds you have a "new" sharp shaving edge! 500 cool shaves are guaranteed from each dozen blades.

Get an AutoStrop Razor today and know the joy of a "new" sharp edge every morning! Ask your dealer about the free trial plan.

Boston's Errors Give Cardinals Victory in Final

Rickeymen Break Losing Streak and Depart for Six-Game Series With Reds.

TEAM WON 9 OF 15 IN EAST

Pitching Enabled Phillies and Braves to Take Series From St. Louis Sluggers.

BOSTON, June 25.—Just before leaving Boston last night for Cincinnati and a six-game series with the world's champion Reds, Manager Branch Rickey of the Cards made a brief review of the team's first Eastern trip of the season.

"Fifteen games were played on this trip," said Rickey, "and we won nine, losing six—two to the Braves, three to the Phillies and one to the Dodgers. We took four from New York, three from Brooklyn, one from Philly and one from Boston. It seemed that we struck better pitching in Philadelphia and Boston than those teams had shown in previous series against Western teams.

"We feel that we have something on the Cincinnati club and believe we will go home in a better position as regards games won and lost than the one in which we leave Boston."

The Cards lost their first two games to the Braves because the Rollings band got exceptionally fine pitching. Ferd Schupp was hit roughly yesterday by the Braves right-hand batters, particularly Les Mann and John L. Sullivan, but the Rollings infield defense went to pieces, while the Cards played rather stubborn, tight ball behind Schupp and Goodwin, and the Cards took good chances on bases. That was the story of the Cards' 7 to 4 victory.

Praise for Rogers Hornsby.

This is the first series in which Hub fans have seen Rogers Hornsby steadily at second base. He plays that position better than any other infield position, according to Hub experts. He gets over the ground rapidly and has a good snap, side-arm or underhand peg to first base. He pivoted on a double play yesterday which was lightning fast. Johnny Rivers and Miller Huggins, to say nothing of Eddie Collins and Jack Barry, never improved on Rogers' technique in throwing as a pivot or a straight proposition.

One of the hardest clouts seen here was in the early stages of the game yesterday, when Roger whacked a double to the left field wall, the ball just barely hitting the wall and then taking a carom off the wall. Les Mann is a fast gent and he managed to play the rebound properly. It was the longest hit in that direction on record here. In any other ball park in the league, Cincinnati and Pittsburg included, that swat would have been a homer.

Heathcote Makes Star Play.

The banner play of the pastime was more or less accidental. Heathcote and Shotton nearly crashed on Meckel's hoist to left center in the fourth. It looked like a sure hit, but Heathcote went into the air, out of the tangle, and coralled the agate with his mitten.

Jacques Fournier was glad to leave Boston. He came here hitting well and zoomed into a terrible slump. He succeeded in getting one safety in three games. That was converted into a run in the Western victory.

ST. LOUIS SOCCER TEAM WILL SAIL ON JULY 9 TO TOUR SCANDINAVIA

NEW YORK, June 25.—The St. Louis footballers will sail for Scandinavia on the steamer Tunisian, which clears from Montreal on July 9. They are scheduled to leave St. Louis the eve- ning of July 6.

Secretary Cahill got the glad tidings just an hour before he received word from Washington that if he could make affidavit there was no other means of getting across he could take his charges over on the transport Pocahontas, which is scheduled to leave here July 5. Cahill, to save the War Department, had enlisted the aid of the Bethlehem Steel Co., some of the brightest lights in Pennsylvania's and Missouri's representatives in Congress and the Jersey friends of Secretary Tumulty.

Triple A Net Results.

Woodward H. Brown defeated Walter Finger in the Triple A singles tournament yesterday afternoon. The match took three sets and the score was 2—6, 6—4, 6—4. Brown overcame a two-game lead in the third set and then kept in front during the rest of the set. He showed excellent form yesterday and outmaneuvered Finger at the proper time.

Gordon Fennell also played nice tennis and forced Epstein to two love sets before losing. The match was settled at the net, which position both men seemed to like. Fennell was a little erratic at the crucial moment and Epstein took advantage of this opportunity to pull himself out of a hole place and win the deciding game in each set.

Results.

Singles—C. D. Jones defeated W. Wilson, 6—2, 6—3. W. H. Brown defeated W. Finger, 2—6, 6—4, 6—4. Ray Epstein defeated G. Fennell, 8—6, 7—5.

Doubles—Jones-Lambert defeated Janis-Finger, 6—4, 6—3. Jostles-Drewes defeated Jones-Morton, 6—3, 9—7. Hill-Pettus defeated Strainka-Skrainka, 6—1, 9—6, 10—8.

Cardinals Topped West in Clashes With East, Winning 9 of 15 Games

THE Cardinals, who started out their Eastern trip, which closed yesterday, winning seven of eight from the Superbas and Giants, topped the Western outfits, with a record of 9 victories in 15 games played. The Phillies, with 9—6, were the pacemakers for the East. Pittsburg, 5—7, was the only Western club under .500, while Brooklyn, 4—9, trailed in the East.

The Western teams had a slight advantage over their opponents, taking 27 games and losing 25.

The figures:

WEST.	W.	L.	EAST.	W.	L.
Cardinals	9	6	Philadelphia	9	6
Cincinnati	7	6	New York	7	7
Chicago	6	6	Boston	5	5
Pittsburg	5	7	Brooklyn	4	9

JULIUS AND RICHARDSON WILL MEET IN FEATURE AMATEUR BOUT TONIGHT

Leo Julius and Howard Richardson, a pair of 135-pound sluggers, are scheduled to meet tonight in the feature bout of the amateur boxing show of the Southern A. C., to be held at Mannion's Park. Six other bouts are scheduled to be held. The bouts:

Leo Julius, Southern Athletic Club, and Lawrence Richardson, Olympic Athletic Club, 135 pounds.

Eddie Taylor, National Athletic Club, and Walter Bourgorne, Olympic Athletic Club, 145 pounds.

Roy Kleinkamper, Wagner Athletic Club, and Elmer Farrar, Olympic Athletic Club, 125 pounds.

Teddy Corpasst, Southern Athletic Club, and Joe Raubeck, Star Athletic Club, 140 pounds.

Joe Bader, Southern Athletic Club, and Lasow Summers, Shaw Athletic Club, 108 pounds.

Morris King, Southern Athletic Club, and Jim Parker, Senate Athletic Club, 100 pounds.

Jim McEntee, Southern Athletic Club, and Tom Crowley, National Athletic Club, 100 pounds.

Walter Heisner will referee, while Judge Robert Hall and Seneca Taylor will be judges. General admission, 55 cents a person.

Ruth Hits Home Run.

COLUMBUS, O., June 25.—"Babe" Ruth, the New York Yankees' home run king, made a home run yesterday in an exhibition game which the Yankees won from the Columbus Panhandles, a local semi-professional team, 10 to 1.

Shamrock Has New Topmast.

SANDY HOOK, June 25.—Sir Thomas Lipton's Shamrock IV, challenger for the America's cup, had an informal spin off here yesterday. She carried a new topmast, which is shorter than her old spar. The rig improved the sailing qualities of the craft.

Piker Net Stars Will Not Compete In District Play

Majority of City's Leading Tennis Players Will Participate in Opening Tomorrow.

Nearly all of the leading tennis players in St. Louis will take part in the first annual championship of the St. Louis District Tennis Association, which starts tomorrow at the Triple A Club.

This tournament will be the first of its kind ever held in the city and will serve as a warm-up for entries in the Central States event which will open a week later.

A majority of private clubs have entered teams and it is expected that all of the municipal clubs will enter their players. The events will consist of both singles and doubles. Each club will be allowed to send two singles men and two teams of doubles and the singles entries may also take part in the doubles.

The strongest representatives will be from the Delmar Club, whose team consists of such stars as Fred Josties, Wray and Woody Brown, Gordon Fennell, N. C. Mershon, Fred Gardner and George Bishop.

Washington U. Defaults.

Washington University Tennis Club will not enter any players. The club has defaulted interclub matches already and is apparently without a leader to manage the team. With such men as Drewes, Satterfield and Niemoeller the university would have been well represented.

Triple A, with Arthur Reppert, H. M. Hess, Dr. E. M. Carson, M. D. MacDonald and Milton Stern, should make a good showing and may place a man in the singles final. The Boz Club has entered Herbert Bryant and Davison Obear in singles and doubles and Kenneth Schaberg and Ray White as the other doubles team. Kirkwood will send Robert Metcalf, former county champion, Ed Harris, Andrew Lynn, who forced Ted Drewes to a deuce set last year, and Joe Waddock. The Page Avenue Tennis Club will have a good squad, with Walter Bowman in singles and with Herbert Weege in doubles. Al Reiman will probably play the other singles and pair with Dr. George H. Rice in the other doubles.

Other clubs entering players include the following: Plumb A. C., Leschen A. C., Principia Tennis Club, Magnolia T. C. and Midland Valley C. C.

The Sunset Hill and St. Louis Country Clubs will not be represented. The Forest Park Tennis Club has not selected its team and the same is true of the other municipal clubs.

WRAY'S COLUMN

Curtains for Cardinal Field.

UNLESS the well-laid plans of President Sam Breadon of the Cardinals go "aglee," Cardinal Field, alias "Robison Field," alias "League Park," some time baseball field, merry-go-round race track, chute-the-chutes, will pass out via the building-lot route within the next few months.

Considerations not far removed from hopes of a National League pennant, compelled the local club to make arrangements with the owners of Sportsman's Park, whereby the remainder of the Cards' home schedule, and probably all future schedules of the local National League team, will be decided on the American League grounds.

The announcement made officially yesterday stated that the arrangements thus far concluded contemplated only the next home stay of the Rickeymen, which begins here July 1 against Pittsburg, on the occasion of the Tuberculosis Society benefit game. But the intimation made in President Breadon's published statement was to the effect that a permanent agreement with the owners of Sportsman's Park would undoubtedly be effected.

The move will be greeted with a tremendous hurrah by all fans, particularly the women followers of the game, who have long detested Cardinal Field for its unlovely surroundings and indifferent accommodations. Location, seating capacity, safety, economy and appearance all favored the transfer to the Grand avenue plant.

For the use of the park a nifty sum, undoubtedly in excess of $25,000 annually will be paid. But the upkeep of Cardinal Field was little short of this sum.

* * *

Cards Have Prospered.

THE fate of Cardinal Field, in case the transfer becomes permanent, would be a matter of real estate policy. The Cardinals own outright title to the large tract of ground at present used for a baseball park. By running streets through it, the plot will gain considerably in value for home site purposes.

When first acquired it had an estimated value of $75,000, and at present is held at $150,000.

The real estate feature of the transaction has made the Cards' financial outlook so rosy that a well-known downtown broker in the Boatmen's Bank Building has been offering to buy a "limited amount of Cardinal stock at par." A year ago it could have been bought for a song.

Thus, from an enterprise that was launched in a war year, under the most unfavorable conditions, which battled through the trying times that for three years beset all baseball, the club has become a prosperous one, paid in full, with money in the treasury, a team that has a pennant chance, owning the leading hitter of the league, and with a bunch of live wires pushing it ahead.

* * *

Brighter Than in 28 Years.

THE history of "Cardinal Field," alias "Robison Field," etc., is a dour one, when viewed from the record books. In the 28 years in which it has harbored a major league baseball club, not once has a team risen above third position, and only twice in the long years did teams fly that high—1914 and 1917.

From 1892 to 1900 the league contained 12 clubs, and during that time the teams playing there finished twelfth twice, eleventh three times, fifth twice and tenth and ninth once each. Since this century began, the club has finished last five times and in second division on all other occasions but three. Only three times has a pennant dangled even momentarily before the optimistic vision of the patient local fans.

A Variegated Career Ends.

A COLORFUL story attaches to Cardinal Field, the high lights of which were not, however, furnished by baseball, but by fly-by-night racing and "Coney Island" features, by which the ambitious beer dispenser, Chris von der Ahe, sought to rise in the world.

The early chronicle of the park reeks of beer and trick-horse racing, but instead of adding to Von der Ahe's fortunes, these merely hastened his decline until, late in the nineties, he was sold out—a broken man financially and later an object of charity on the part of the man who as a player had helped to raise him high in the world—Charley Comiskey.

The club floundered along until 1899 when the Cleveland franchise, owned by the high-class Frank de Haas Robison, came here and tried in vain to give the town a winner. It remained the property of the Robisons until sold by Mrs. Helene Hathaway Robison Britton, now Mrs. Bigsby, to the Knot-Hole Gang for $350,000—in installments, in the spring of 1917.

Hoosiers Claim Kores.

INDIANAPOLIS, June 25.—Indianapolis last night claimed Third Baseman Art Kores from the Toledo American Association Club via the waiver route, according to announcement by Manager Hendricks.

Women Resume Golf Play.

After a three-week interval, because of the State championship tournament held at Bellerive Country Club, the women's weekly golf play of the St. Louis District Association will be resumed today. The competition will be held over the Sunset Hill Country Club course and will include scratch medal play and a blind bogey tourney over four selected holes.

CHANGES IN STOCK PRICES FRACTIONAL; BUSINESS SMALL

Call Money Is Easier—Temporary Advance in Railroad Shares.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, June 25.—The Evening Post, in its copyrighted financial review today, says:

"Evidently most of the necessary preparations for the week-end had been made yesterday in the call money market. Today's rate did not go above 11 per cent and eased off somewhat afterward, whereas yesterday's afternoon rate of 14 per cent was maintained up to the close. Next week will provide a somewhat interesting test of the money situation.

Price Changes Fractional.

"In the stock market the now habitual inactivity continued. A temporary advance in some of the railway shares and a temporary decline in some of the copper shares attracted only perfunctory interest. Most of the day's net changes were fractional. Reports of gold on the way to New York from London continued, including $2,000,000 expected to arrive Saturday. This is presumably the consignment bought for New York at last week's London sale.

"Foreign exchange moved in favor of Europe. Sterling recovered nearly 1¼ cents, and there was a moderate rise in French, Italian, Belgium and German rates. The comment of exchange dealers on the market's position was pretty unanimous to the effect that very little exchange was offering, and that bids on actual transactions would almost invariably move prices up. There was no change in the silver bullion market at London, where yesterday's price of 50¼ pence remained. This is the first day since last Friday on which there has not been either a sharp advance or a sharp decline. From that day's 48¾ pence the price rose to 50⅝ on Saturday, to 51½ on Monday and to 50½ on Tuesday; then declined on Wednesday to 51⅝ and yesterday to 50¾.

Increase in Exports.

"The $55,000,000 increase in last month's export trade, as compared with the month before, is partly explained by the statement of agricultural exports as wired from Washington. According to these figures, the total of such shipments in May was $18,000,000 greater than in April, the increase being mostly due to $43,600,000 increase in breadstuffs and $10,200,000 in meat products, offset by a decrease of $40,000,000 in cotton. The increase in grain export values is different from what there was reason to expect, but the decrease in cotton conforms to expectations. In comparison with May, 1919, it is interesting to observe that cotton exports increased $10,200,000 in value, despite an already known decrease of 81,600 bales in quantity; but last month's price for cotton ranged $35 to $60 per bale above that of the same month a year ago. Exports of meat products in May showed continuance of the greatly reduced foreign demand; they were less than in May, 1919, by $43,700,000, or 46 per cent. Their shrinkage during the 11 completed months of the fiscal year has been $269,600,000—which gices some idea of the possible scope of changes in Europe's purchases of foodstuffs in the United States as her own productiveness is restored or she gets in touch with other foreign producers."

Wall Street News and Comment

—SPECIAL DAILY—

By a Special Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, June 25.—High rates for money continued today to weigh upon the Wall street markets and restrain initiative in the direction of higher prices. But, on the other hand, the stock market once more showed that it was thoroughly hardened to the present money conditions and that nobody who held stocks was inclined to sell them out because for a week or so longer borrowers of call funds will have to pay more than usual for their accommodation. The street received with equanimity the marking up of the call loan renewal from 8 to 9 per cent and was quite indifferent, as it had been yesterday, to the subsequent bidding up of the price of new call money. As is well understood, the causes for this week's rise in money rates are of only passing importance. First, checks received by the Internal Revenue Collector for the second installment on income taxes are now being presented for payment and to meet these withdrawals the banks have had to call in some of their stock exchange loans. Second, preparations already have begun for the first-of-July interest and dividend payments, these preparations involving further diversion of credit away from Wall street. Third, banks facing a call from the Comptroller of the Currency are anxious to keep their position as strong as possible and are, therefore, reluctant to make fresh loans.

All these influences combining to put money rates up will, of course, disappear after the first few days of July. The stock market is satisfied to bide its time until call funds are more readily obtainable. Stocks are too strongly held for a temporary money stringency to be the occasion of weakness. The daily fluctuations are small and apparently unimportant, yet it is very noticeable that the leaders of the list—meaning by this the stocks which are best situated regarded earnings and the business outlook of their companies—are steadily gaining, and that their net rise, even during the last week, has been substantial.

* * *

Rates and Wages.

The stocks which made the best showing today, as they have right along, were the equipments, Crucible Steel, Industrial Alcohol, the Mexican oils, Ohio Cities Gas, Phillips Petroleum, Pittsburg Coal and the tobaccos. The rails, which began to look better yesterday, continued their improvement and, as the day went on, fairly divided interest with the industrials. They were relatively more in demand than on any day for a long while, and, with one or two exceptions, were decidedly stronger. There was a report that the Interstate Commerce Commission was ready to hand down its decision in the freight rate cases and that this would be announced immediately after the award of the Railway Labor Board, which is looked for early next week. Inasmuch as everybody is hopeful that the roads will get nearly, if not all, the increase asked for, this story brought a good deal of fresh buying into the railway group, especially the low-priced issues.

It will be remembered that the last time the big advance in railway wages was made the announcement of a big rate increase was made simultaneously. This was when the Government was running the roads. It is known that the wage decision will come next week, probably early in the week. Therefore, the report that the Interstate Commerce Commission is getting ready to announce its verdict is not at all diffifcult to credit.

Despite the fact that loans made today carry over Monday, funds were in better supply toward the end of the session. The rate did not get above 11 per cent, and in the last hour came down rather sharply. Sterling exchange hung around yesterday's level. It was confirmed that more gold was on its way from England, but the exact amounts of the various shipments were not made known.

* * *

Low-Priced Rails.

The low-priced rails had a decided spurt on the report which seemed to have considerable basis that the Commerce Commission's decision on the rate increases would be handed down early next week. The trouble with the junior railway shares has been that too many outside speculators bought into them a month and a half ago, at the time when nearly every broker's letter which went out from the street was recommending their purchase. In consequence, stocks like Rock Island, the Missouri Pacifics, New Haven and Stl Louis & San Francisco became overbought. The more active traders who had gone into these stocks threw them over in order to buy the industrials. It was this switching which occasioned the apparent heaviness in the railway group through the greater part of May and June. There was no change in the real sentiment toward these stocks, which is just as strong today as ever, that they have very large possibilities, provided the Interstate Commerce Commission gives the rate increase.

* * *

Mexican Petroleum.

Mexican Petroleum got above 180 today, on covering purchase by bears interspersed with buying which in certain quarters is labeled "good." The situation in Mexico is now said to be to the liking of the big oil companies operating there, due to the fact that the new Government has given definite promise of reforms in its treatment of these companies. New laws are about to be put on the statute books regarding the drilling of new wells. It can be said that at least 75 per cent of the stock of Mexican Petroleum is held in the treasury of Pan-American and several big holders of the stock are not willing to sell, which makes the floating supply of Mexican Petroleum stock very small indeed.

* * *

The Bond Market.

A better market for railway bonds, especially the convertibles, was a natural accompaniment of the improvement in railway stocks. The market for strictly investment bonds is so entirely under the influence of money conditions that it is doubtful whether even the best sort of rate increase would have much effect. But the convertible bonds and railway issues of the speculative rank would benefit equally with railway stocks. Among these speculative issues those who make a study of comparative values think that the St. Louis & San Francisco income 6s are one of the cheapest on the list and are selling out of line with railway preferred stocks like Rock Island second preferred. The increasing popularity of all Mexican securities since the change in administration again was reflected in the dealings in the United States of Mexico external 5s, good-sized blocks of which changed hands at 34¼. The Belgian loan was heavily dealt in at 98, up a half point from the issue price. These bonds among all recent flotations have undoubtedly been the most strongly placed. Chile Copper 7s were adversely affected by the weakness in the copper stocks. They were down nearly a point from yesterday. The fluctuations in Liberties were trifling.

* * *

Ohio Cities Gas.

The expansion in the earnings of the Ohio Cities Gas Co. shows a remarkable change in the company's affairs as a result of the development of the oil industry. For the fiscal year ended March 31, gross business of the Ohio Cities Co. exceeded $54,000,000, compared with $6,000,000 in 1917, the year prior to its entrance into the oil business. At present about 95 per cent of the company's gross business is derived from oil operations.

BULK OF TRADING ON CURB PROFESSIONAL

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, June 25.—Interest again was lacking on the curb market today, and the bulk of the trading was between the professional operators who operated on both sides. Inside interests did little except keep bids slightly under the selling prices and there was no outside participation. Price movements continued irregular and were confined within narrow limits.

Moderate pressure was in evidence against North American Pulp and Paper and a demand was lacking that stock yielded a substantial fraction around midday. Submarine Boat was firm on small buying orders.

United States Steamship, Indian Packing and Wright-Martin were steady.

Simms Petroleum was probably the active leader in the oil list. In the early dealing fair buying orders caused a good fractional advance, but profit-taking sales brought about a later reaction. International Petroleum, Ryan Oil and one or two others were lower. The remainder of the list held steady, with dealings small.

There was less activity in the mining shares and price fluctuations were more narrow than in weeks.

Bonds were dull, but held about unchanged.

CORN FUTURES RECORD FURTHER DECLINES

July corn closed more than a cent lower on the Merchants' Exchange today, recovering a part of the nearly 3c break of the early market. Primary markets again reported lower cash grain prices. Buying by put shorts comprised much of the support. Oats closed fractionally lower. Because of the fact that any adverse weather now might seriously impair the prospects for oats, there has been no desire shown to sell oats heavily.

July corn opened ⅜c lower, and September ⅝c to 1c down, on further liquidation of the coarse grain. Then shorts covered some and a reaction at Chicago due also to shorts and buying against sales to East, brought prices to slightly over previous day's close.

The weather map showed generally unsettled conditions, with not much change in conditions. The indications early were that cash corn at primary markets aagin would sell lower today. Some cars were said to have been carried over last night; and arrivals today were 73 cars.

A report was current that a large local operator was expected to deliver July 1 85,000 bushels of cash corn taken in on May contracts.

Local receipts today were 80,400 bushels of wheat, including 39 cars local and 28 through; 124,800 bushels of corn, including 73 cars local and 23 through; 50,000 bushels of oats, including 21 cars local and 4 through; 663 tons hay, including 367 tons local and 296 through.

Secretary Mohler of the Kansas State Board of Agriculture estimates, from incomplete returns from County Assessors, that the acreage planted to wheat exceeded 10,000,000. The estimate of 110,000,000 bushel crop is unchanged.

Kansas Corn Outlook.

The corn acreage is estimated at 5,928,000, or 26.5 per cent larger than that of last year, but smaller by 14.7 per cent than the average planting of the preceding five years. The condition of the crop on June 15 was 80.2 per cent of normal, or 4.8 per cent higher than a year ago.

The oats acreage is put at 2,215,000 bushels, or 664,309 larger than last year's. Production forecast is for 19,778,000, an average of 24.8 bushels per acre.

The barley acreage is made 798,000, or 50.9 greater than last year's.

"Owing to more favorable climatic conditions, there has been great improvement in all crops," says the weekly crop report of the American Steel and Wire Co. "This is particularly noticeable in corn and cotton. Reports on wheat, taken as a whole, are also more favorable. There are no serious reports of water or drouth damage. Forage crops are in good to excellent condition and livestock is doing well, although there is a tendency to decrease their numbers. Potatoes are reported as doing well, with a large increase in acreage in some sections."

Cash Grain Market.

Cash wheat was steady. Cash corn was 1c to 5c lower. Cash oats were 1c to 1½c off.

Sales quotations were: No. 1 red winter, $2.80; No. 2 red winter wheat, $2.78@2.79; No. 1 corn, $1.81½; No. 2 corn, $1.80@1.85; No. 3 corn, $1.78@1.79; No. 1 yellow corn, $1.81@1.82; No. 2 yellow corn, $1.81; No. 3 yellow corn, $1.80; No. 4 yellow corn, $1.76; No. 6 yellow corn, $1.70; No. 1 white corn, $1.90@1.91; No. 2 white corn, $1.90; No. 3 white corn, $1.83; No. 4 white corn, $1.76; No. 2 white oats, $1.20; No. 3 white oats, $1.18½@1.19; No. 4 white oats, $1.15; No. 3 oats, $1.15@1.17.

CHICAGO CORN MARKET UNSETTLED AT THE CLOSE

CHICAGO, June 25.—Rather general commission house selling weighed down prices in the corn market today. Bearish sentiment was based largely on apparent likelihood of continued liberal receipts, together with absence of any urgent shipping demand here. Shorts did most of the buying. Initial quotations, which varied from unchanged figures to 1½c lower, with July $1.75½ to $1.76¼ and Sept. $1.67 to $1.67¾, were followed by moderate rallies and then by a decided setback all around.

Oats were weak with corn. After opening unchanged to ⅞c lower, including September at 84½c to 84⅝c, the market tightened somewhat, but soon sagged lower than before.

Declines in the value of hogs and grain made provisions heavy. Support was lacking.

Subsequently the July delivery continued weak as a result of selling on the part of industries and elevator interests, but Sept. and Dec. advanced because of shorts covering.

The close was unsettled, 2¼c net lower to 1c gain, with July $1.74¾ to $1.75, and Sept. $1.67⅝ to $1.67¾.

In the later dealings activity developed in lard, spreaders buying September and selling July at $1 difference.

FRECKLES

Now Is the Time to Get Rid of These Ugly Spots

There's no longer the slightest need of feeling ashamed of your freckles, as Othine—double strength—is guaranteed to remove these homely spots.

Simply get an ounce of Othine—double strength—from any druggist and apply a little of it night and morning and you should soon see that even the worst freckles have begun to disappear, while the lighter ones have vanished entirely. It is seldom that more than an ounce is needed to completely clear the skin and gain a beautiful, clear complexion.

Be sure to ask for the double-strength Othine, as this is sold under guarantee of money back if it fails to remove freckles.

THREE PARTIES REPRESENTED IN NEW GERMAN CABINET

Chancellor Fehrenbach Announces Names of Those Accepting Portfolios.

By the Associated Press.

COPENHAGEN, June 25.—Konstantin Fehrenbach, German Chancellor, succeeded in forming a Cabinet comprising representatives of the Centrist, Democratic and German people's parties last night, according to a Berlin dispatch to the National Tidende. Those accepting portfolios in the new Government include:

Carl Heinze—Minister of Justice and Vice Chancellor.
Dr. Wirth—Finance.
Herr Koch—Interior.
Herr Gessler—Defense.
Gen. Groener—Transport.
Herr Scholl—Commerce.
Johann Giesberts — Postmaster-General.
Herr Von Braun—Labor.

Heinze, Wirth, Koch, Gessler and Giesberts were members of the Fehrenbach Cabinet formed on June 21, which resigned immediately after formation when the Majority Socialists refused to support it.

ALLIES "NEVER SO UNITED"

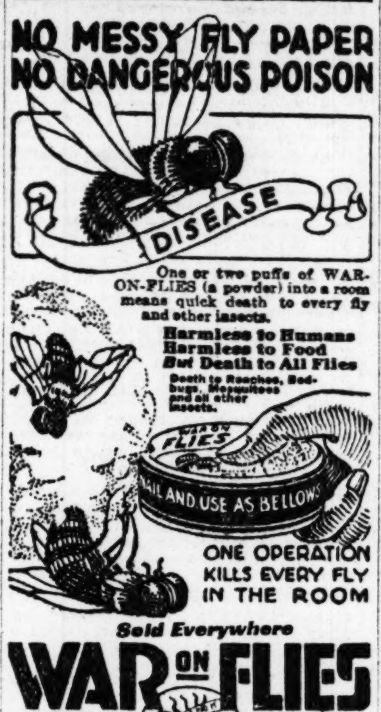

Millerand's Declaration Brings Cheers From Deputies.

PARIS, June 25.—Most cordial relations exist between France and her allies, said Premier Millerand in the Chamber of Deputies today.

Questioned regarding "divergencies between France and the allied nations," the Premier declared amid applause from the entire house: "Never has the union been closer than now between England, Italy and France."

THE SAFEST 7 PER CENT

Its Income Sure and Always Worth Par

In our judgment, Union Electric Light & Power Company 7 per cent preferred stock is the safest 7 per cent par investment now offered in Missouri. The Company's preferred stock, outstanding or on sale, totals $3,000,000, out of a total capitalization of $36,000,000. Seven per cent dividends on $3,000,000 of preferred call for $210,000 a year. The Company's dividend earnings are at the rate of SIX TIMES $210,000 a year.

Every dollar of Union Electric's $36,000,000 bond, note and stock capitalization is backed by more than a dollar's worth of State-appraisal, State-regulated, income-producing public service property, kept always in good condition.

Union Electric preferred stock has a prior claim over the $11,000,000 of common stock, on both dividend earnings and assets.

It is easy for Union Electric to maintain a cash par market for its preferred stock, through our Securities Department, because this stock is always worth par, and is always in demand at par.

Union Electric's business is PERMANENT. It is the BASIC electric light, heat and power industry of the Greater St. Louis district, covering an area, including the City of St. Louis, of more than 1000 square miles, with over 1,000,000 inhabitants.

Union Electric's general labor contract with a strong co-operative union—the EMPLOYES' MUTUAL BENEFIT ASSOCIATION—on a basis of liberal wages plus profit-sharing under fair and satisfactory working conditions, makes for stability; it attracts and holds and enlists the interested co-operation of high-class workers in giving the public good service at low cost.

Union Electric's 117,000 customers are prosperous, liberal-minded people. They know the Company during past years has always voluntarily reduced rates whenever possible; they have therefore always been willing to pay whatever rates the State regulating authority found necessary to assure fair wages to the Company's employes and a fair return to its investors.

For men and women with taxable incomes of less than $20,000 a year 7 per cent, WITH THIS DEGREE OF SAFETY FOR DIVIDENDS AND PRINCIPAL, is a high rate, even in these times.

Issuance and sale of the preferred stock now offered to the general public was authorized by the State, to finance the growth of the Company's public service system.

DIVIDENDS: $7 a year in cash on each $100 share; payable $1.75 every three months.

PRICE: $100 a share for cash; $102 on a ten-payment plan, under which buyers draw 5 per cent interest on installment payments, and can withdraw all payments, WITH INTEREST, any time before final installment is paid.

SALES OFFICES: Room 201 Union Electric Building, 12th and Locust streets, St. Louis, and Union Electric's offices in Franklin, Perry, Jefferson, St. Charles and St. Louis counties.

MAIL ORDERS: Bank draft, certified check, post office or express money order should be sent with mail orders. Prompt delivery of shares will be made by registered mail.

ANSWERS TO QUERIES

As we have no information bureau, it is impossible to answer queries by mail or telephone. Query for Sunday must be mailed a week beforehand.

H. C. H.—Practically all publications use good children's stories.

Z. O. O. P.—Tom Sauk Mountain is near Arcadia, in Iron County, Mo.

E. O. G.—See answer to J. M. R., which appeared in this column on June 22.

ANXIOUS.—There are many methods of teaching music, possibly as many as there are teachers.

MRS. J. H.—Your son, who is a Mason, should be able to get the information concerning the Eastern Star for you.

GEO. MACK.—Cape Girardeau is in Cape Girardeau County, of which Jackson is the county seat. A marriage license secured there, if of interest, would probably be published in the St. Louis papers.

MRS. T. S.—Banana syrup is made by cutting the fruit in slices, placing it in a jar. It is then sprinkled with sugar, and the jar covered, which is then enveloped in straw and placed in cold water and the latter is heated to the boiling point. The jar is then removed, allowed to cool, and the juice poured into bottles.

N. R.—To remove finger marks from books pour benzol (not benzine or gasoline, but Merck's "c.p." crystallizable) on calcined magnesia until it becomes a crumbling mass, and apply this to the spot, rubbing it in lightly, with the tip of the finger. When the benzol evaporates, brush off. Any dirt that remains can be removed by using a piece of soft rubber.

IMA WHITE.—The appointments to West Point and Annapolis for the year have been made and the examinations held. Other appointments will be made when there are vacancies. A negro, J. H. Blount, was nominated for Governor at the negro Republican convention in Arkansas. The Secretary of State, however, refused to certify the nomination. The negro Republicans then bolted, and in their own convention nominated Blount, who is now running for that office independently.

A. V. S.—The following is the poem, "Rock Me to Sleep," by Elizabeth Akers Allen:

Backward, turn backward, O Time, in your flight,
Make me a child again just for to-night!
Mother, come back from the echoless shore,
Take me again to your heart as of yore;
Kiss from my forehead the furrows of care,
Smooth the few silver threads out of my hair;
Over my slumbers your loving watch keep—
Rock me to sleep, mother—rock me to sleep!

Backward, flow backward, O tide of the years!
I am so weary of toil and of tears—
Toil without recompense, tears all in vain—
Take them, and give me my childhood again!
I have grown weary of dust and decay—
Weary of sowing for others to reap—
Rock me to sleep, mother—rock me to sleep!

Tired of the hollow, the base, the untrue,
Mother, O mother, my heart calls for you!
Many a summer the grass has grown green,
Yet, with strong yearning and passionate pain,
Long I tonight for your presence again.
Come from the silence so long and so deep—
Rock me to sleep, mother—rock me to sleep.

Over my heart, in the days that are flown,
No love like mother-love ever has shone;
No other worship abides and endures—
Faithful, unselfish and patient like yours;
None like a mother can charm away pain
Slumber's soft calms o'er my heavy lids creep—
Rock me to sleep, mother—rock me to sleep.

Let it drop over my forehead to-night,
Shading my faint eyes away from the light;
For with its sunny-edged shadows once more
Lovingly, softly, its bright billows sweep—
Rock me to sleep, mother—rock me to sleep!

Mother, dear mother, the years have been long
Since I last listened your lullaby song;
Sing, then, and unto my soul it shall seem
Womanhood's years have been only a dream.
Clasped to your heart in a loving embrace,
With your light lashes just sweeping my face,
Never hereafter to wake or to weep—
Rock me to sleep, mother—rock me to sleep.

MEDICAL QUESTIONS.

(Answers prepared by a physician of authority. Health and sanitation questions of public interest only will be considered. Diagnoses or treatment of individual cases will not be given. Questions that cannot be publicly discussed, if showing evidences of sincerity, will be answered when accompanied by stamped envelope.)

ANXIOUS MOTHER.—Your baby is not underweight, if anything she is a little above weight. You are feeding her correctly. Keep on as you are doing, gradually enlarging her diet.

HAZEL.—Salt in a bath is bracing and invigorating to the skin. If you have a constant temperature, you are sick whether you feel so or not. In such a case consult a physician.

A READER.—Touching the top of the wart daily with a wooden tooth pick moistened with oil of cinnamon will often cure it. In the obstinate ones use trichloracetic acid, carefully, as it is very caustic. The latter comes in crystals, one of which may be dissolved in a drop of water.

W. O. W.—Cramps are common occurrences with swimmers, especially those who do not swim regularly. It is caused by unusual use of the leg muscles, the muscles being used differently than in walking. Continue swimming, but go slowly for a while, until the muscles adjust themselves.

Z. O. O. P.—The following is an excellent tonic: Tincture of capsicum, 6 drops; tincture of nux vomica and tincture of colombo, 1 ounce of each; tincture of cinchona compound, enough to make 4 ounces. Take a teaspoonful in water after meals. Milk should be the basis of the diet for a 2-year-old baby, together with some farinaceous food, bread, a small amount of animal food, beef or mutton, beef juice, eggs and fruit.

I know that my retirement will make no difference in its cardinal principles, that it will always fight for progress and reform, never tolerate injustice or corruption, always fight demagogues of all parties, never belong to any party, always oppose privileged classes and public plunderers, never lack sympathy with the poor, always remain devoted to the public welfare, never be satisfied with merely printing news, always be drastically independent; never be afraid to attack wrong, whether by predatory plutocracy or predatory poverty.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE.

Prohibition, Priest and Hay.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

How long must big, broad-minded men, masters of their own bodies and souls, controllers of their own lives, and ambitious to do the right thing always by their fellow men, when taking a voice in making the country's laws, how long, I say, must we be forced to do the bidding of narrow-minded, misguided, fanatical prohibitionists, among whom is Charles M. Hay? I have followed your wonderful editorials on prohibition, and was always deeply impressed by their inspiration, profound wisdom and farsightedness. I read with great admiration Judge Priest's inspiring arguments against tyrannical prohibition laws, and I read Charles M. Hay's hackneyed, weak-kneed arguments in favor of taking away the innocent glass of beer from every hard-working citizen of these United States, for, like all of his clan, Hay finds it impossible to separate the many phases of the liquor question, and confines himself to condemning what may be bad, and to championing what may be good, and surely a glass of real beer in these warm days is good. Why can't these prohibitionists leave the wisdom of drinking or not drinking to each individual person by putting it to a vote of all the people?

Hay says our jails are empty. They are empty of men who have over-celebrated the arrival of a new-born babe, or their wives' going to the country, but if the big crooks could only be caught, each city would have to build additional jails. Hay tries to tell us good results of prohibition, but he does not produce the records of the drug stores whose sales of drugs and dope are ever on the increase under so-called prohibition. Can Hay tell us why prohibition does not prohibit? Will he admit that there is no prohibition except for the poor man? Will he account for the large number of saloons still open, and which always will be open, and in many of which the surreptitious drink is still served for the man who is lucky enough to have the price? Is Hay an admirer of laws that take away the poor man's beer, and enable the rich man to have all the private stock he wants? Must perhaps 50,000,000 of people in these United States be deprived of a little personal liberty so that a few inebriate wards dare not be occupied, but the drug-fiend wards can be full?

There isn't a man in the United States today big enough or broad-minded enough to intelligently handle the liquor question. Europe can teach us many things in this respect, and the well-regulated European cafe, where a man can always get good beer and wine, is the solution and the only solution to the whole question of personal liberty.

Prohibitionists and politicians are fond of telling us the liquor question is settled, is a sealed book, and should not be reopened. Your editorial, recently, that it was a very live corpse, was certainly timely. It is the livest corpse in America's prohibition cemetery today, for where one person in 10 may be interested in a League of Nations, nine out of every 10 are interested in seeing a sensible, safe and sane law passed, permitting us to have our beer and wine, whenever we want it. Let's do away with laws that cater only to the minority, and substitute laws that will make for a contented population, not a discontented one.

Opportunity for Musicians.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

During the past two weeks I accidentally came in touch with a couple of young men who were nonprofessional musicians and who were trying to sell their instruments because they had no opportunity to play. I was very glad to be able to tell them that if they desired to play they would be given every opportunity by simply going down to the First Regiment Armory, Grand and Market, and inquiring for the band. These young men were very grateful for this information, as this was just the opportunity for which they were looking.

It has therefore occurred to me that possibly through this column other young men in the same quandary might learn of this opportunity and the band will be very glad to have them, and they, on their part, would appreciate the opportunity of playing in a good band with plenty of good music, where everything is furnished absolutely free of charge. If they actually care to join the band they would receive pay for all rehearsals attended. If they did not care to join, they would still have the opportunity to play and would find themselves very welcome.

There is an additional advantage at this time, as the band is to be taken for a two weeks' camping trip at Nevada, Mo., where everything, including transportation, will be furnished absolutely free of charge, and musicians will receive full musicians' pay for the two weeks in camp.

Kindly bringing this to the attention of young men who might happen to be in the same position as the two whom I accidentally met. All they would have to do is to walk into the armory any Tuesday evening at 8:15 p. m. and ask for the band and make themselves known.

AMATEUR MUSICIAN.

POSSIBLE DEMOCRATIC BLUNDERS.

Whatever the national Democratic convention may do, in wisdom or folly, it is manifest that there are certain things it cannot do without inviting disaster.

We do not know what the mind of the President is concerning his renomination, which is just now a live topic of discussion; we do not believe he has any intention of seeking a renomination for a third successive term. But we say without qualification that the renomination of Mr. Wilson would be a stupendous blunder. The renomination of the President would submerge all the issues now before the country in two—Mr. Wilson and the third term. If the President should happen to be renominated through a wave of frenzy, the convention might as well condense its platform into two issues—Wilson and the third term—that's all.

We yield to none in recognition of Mr. Wilson's service to the American people and the world. He has notable achievements in material and spiritual progress in his record, but in this after-the-war crisis the worst thing a great party could do would be to concentrate its campaign on the defense of a person and the support of an innovation against which there is a strong body of public opinion in all parties.

Mr. Wilson may be entitled to canonization as a saint in the Democratic calendar, but not to the papal chair in a political vatican.

The nomination of Attorney-General Palmer would be no less disastrous. Mr. Palmer is not only a reactionary, but a dangerous reactionary, whose policy, if continued, would plunge the country into anarchy. Moreover, he is a foolish reactionary; he has committed grave mistakes—he is a reactionary blunderbuss. His red nightmares and unwarranted raids, with arrests of innocent persons; his extreme policy of repression and of enforcing repressive war laws has alienated judicious and liberal elements. He has forfeited all labor support.

We believe it would be a serious blunder to inject the personal issue into the campaign by forcing Mr. McAdoo to rescind his wise decision not to be a candidate. Mr. McAdoo is a man of ability and integrity, but he is handicapped for the presidential race.

It would be a blunder, with fatal possibilities, to adopt a peace plank so narrow that it would alienate all those who favor the League of Nations, but do not support the peace treaty precisely as written at the Versailles conference. The League plank should be broad enough to invite the support of all who are sincere friends of the League and want the United States to participate wholeheartedly in its guarantees of justice and peace.

It would be a grave mistake to ignore the assault upon local self-government and individual rights embodied in Federal prohibition laws and the assaults upon rights and liberties embodied in other suppressive laws and advocated policies of using force and suppression to put down the right of opinion, speech and assemblage. The Democratic party cannot afford to abandon its professed principles.

It would be a fatal blunder to ape the compromises of the Republican convention on vital issues touching industrial relations, profiteering, taxation and other domestic problems. The Republicans have the inside track on reaction and compromise.

UP-TO-DATE LONE JACK.

Confining himself to an actual list of community calamities, Mayor King of Lone Jack, Mo., reasons convincingly that the blowing up of the local electric light plant, the quitting of his job by the jitney bus driver, the departure from the midst of them of the sole barber and the robbery of the local bank—all in a short space of time—indicate the secret arrival of a jinx in town and a high-pressure distribution of his malign influence. But it is to be observed that 25 per cent of Lone Jack's ills is due to preventable accident and 25 per cent to crime of unusual magnitude and daring, while 50 per cent is due to labor troubles.

Life within Lone Jack is only typical of the larger life outside of Lone Jack. It is a cross section of a status prevailing in the entire country; indeed, throughout the world. Lone Jack is just up to date.

GAMALIEL'S "PROGRESSIVES."

Senator Boies Penrose of Pennsylvania, lifelong foe of machine politics, Nemesis of steam-rollerism in pristine or perfected form, has whispered a few words that will hearten the radical forces both west and east of Suez. "Philadelphia Red," as the emotional and eccentric Senator has been dubbed, declares that the San Francisco convention "will be the worst bossed political body that ever assembled in this country." Contemplating the toothless spectacle the crusaders of these times must look elsewhere for an oriflamme. The crimson Penrose has looked and seen.

The psychical pioneers who are ready to dare unexplored regions and uncharted seas may turn confidently to the recent choice of the untrammeled selectors at Chicago. There was a parliament where spontaneity rose to its occasion. After watching the shuffling futilities of the Old Guard for almost a week the rank and file mounted the dais and placed at the head of the ticket the incomparable Gamaliel. The nominee of that free Chicago assemblage shall be the candidate of forward-looking men everywhere, declares the Philadelphian. There is no dissension in the ranks. Henry Allen, speaking for the Utopiates of the West; Penrose, speaking for their kindred of the East, speak the same language.

Autocracy, bossism, the whole shriveled ritual of the reactionaries, must go. The dictatorship of the proletariat looms in the offing, piloted by the peerless mariner of Marion and manned by daredevil Marionettes. So says Penrose.

A LONG RECORD OF RASCALITY.

No man now living can speak more authoritatively of the Republicanism of Missouri than Herbert S. Hadley, the sole Governor of that party in a generation, and, in fact, the only surviving Republican incumbent of any of the higher offices within the State's gift.

Mr. Hadley, a truthful, straight-thinking man, long occupying a position in which he was acquainted with all the inner workings of the party organization, says that the transactions of the invisible politics, in which Gov. Lowden's money was used in large sums, were not merely sporadic, exceptional, fortuitous transactions. He charges that they belong to a class of habitual, ordinary, usual politico-financial transactions in which the Missourians implicated were only following a long line of precedents set by themselves.

Missouri is neither a Northern nor a Southern State, but it seems that in its relations to the national party, Missouri Republicanism is to be classified with the Republicanism of hopeless minorities in the "rotten-borough" Southern states. That is, the influence of the more than 300,000 Republicans of Missouri in the work of national ticket making is to be controlled and bartered for and unworthily dissipated by a few factional leaders, just as is the influence of Republicans in those Southern states where the party casts so few votes as scarcely to entitle it to a place on the ballot.

In 1908 the same hands that reached for and eagerly clutched the Lowden money this year received $15,000 to turn Missouri to Fairbanks. When they found that in the overwhelming sentiment in that year for Taft they only imperiled themselves by urging Fairbanks, they "threw down" the Indiana man, but kept the $15,000.

These same hands distributed—or retained—$50,000 from the Taft organization in 1912 to suppress the Roosevelt sentiment in the State. Of 1916, ex-Gov. Hadley says:

> They tried to organize and sell the Missouri delegation to Senator Weeks, as this year they tried to sell the delegation to Gov. Lowden.

The scandal is one of amazingly long standing. The opinion of every Missourian, barring those smirched, must be that of Mr. Hadley. If these acts are condoned and tolerated the rank and file become accomplices in them. The G. O. P. housecleaning party at Sedalia has made a good start. It has expressed the sentiments of the scandalized electorate and indicated ways in which a betterment is to be sought. What was done, however, will amount to little unless those there are joined by the party organization as a whole.

It is high time to drive from party positions of power the men who have trafficked in Missouri's influence. Notice must be served on future Republican candidates for the presidency that if they intrust money to these men's hands it will be as ill spent as the money intrusted to them in the past. Turn the rascals out. They are bigger rascals than was supposed.

A farmer sold a wagon load of new potatoes in St. Louis the other day for $198. That's what a Democratic administration has done for the hardy tillers of the soil.

THE BOARD SHOULD ACT.

President Wilson's reported message to the Railroad Labor Board urging immediate decision in the wage controversy has apparently miscarried. It has not yet reached the board. But as a matter of patent fact no such communication should have been necessary to hasten the board's conclusion. The circumstances of the case argued eloquently for the utmost promptness compatible with justice.

The members of this board can be under no misapprehension as to what was expected of them in this issue. Apropos, it is permissible to recall that when their names were sent to the Senate the pressure of public opinion was so great that the Senate, against the judgment of some of its members, certified the appointments. That action, it was frankly acknowledged, was taken because of the emergency nature of the case. The question of an advance in railroad wages had to be determined. It had been under consideration, in one way or another, for more than a year. The patience of the railroad brotherhoods, in the face of repeated disappointment, and in the face, too, of ever mounting living costs, had been warmly commended in high places—by nobody more enthusiastically than by Walker Hines, who, upon retiring as Director-General, praised the loyalty of the railroad workers and expressed the hope that their requests would be complied with.

It was under such auspices that the Railroad Labor Board was created and organized itself for this task. More than two months have passed since it commenced its deliberations. Meantime the loyalty of the railroad brotherhoods has been subjected to fresh and severe tests which required their leaders to brand as lawless the strikes of fellow workers. Those tests have been met adequately, but there is no blinking the fact that the patience of the brotherhoods is at the breaking point and the capacity of their leaders to exercise further authority is all but exhausted. The crisis of a general railroad strike confronts us.

The Railroad Labor Board should act.

THE PROBLEM OF MAN POWER ON THE WESTERN FRONT.

JUST A MINUTE

Written for the POST-DISPATCH by Clark McAdams

JUST A MINUTE AT WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—It is rather sweet to hear Democrats down here talk about Vice President Marshall. Most of the Democratic Congressmen and Senators, they say, would like to see the Vice President get the nomination at Frisco. It is not often anyone says anything for a Vice President, but they like Marshall down here. He has borne with the vice presidency bravely. He has never spoken of it except amusedly, and he has always gone among men here as the least of those whom the people have sent here. He has known his place. He was Vice President, and Vice President he has been. The disposition to feel that Mr. Wilson has been something more than President has done something by way of contrast for the man who has accepted meekly his own humble role and in meekness performed it. Probably none of these people believe the meek really shall inherit the earth; but they would like to see Marshall get the nomination. Thus far, they think, the beatitude might be confirmed; and if any sort of boom for him develops at Frisco it will have behind it almost all of those who have been associated with him in Washington through the past few years. He has made of humility a great virtue, which is what it was designed to be. At a time like this, when so many men affect wisdom and so many men speak in a loud tone of voice, people naturally turn to one who makes no pretense to wisdom and habitually speaks with the softness that turns away wrath. Nevertheless, they say in Washington that the Vice President has one of the best minds in the party. His is a light that burns brightly, if one but look under the bushel beneath which it is hidden. It is nice to hear all this about Marshall. It helps one to know him, who has remained unknown. It helps one to see him, who has remained unseen. Whether he ever gets the nomination or not—and he probably won't—we shall at least have the satisfaction of knowing that in the deafening march of events he still has escaped that fate of which the poet said:

Full many a gem of purest ray serene
The dark unfathomed caves of ocean bear:
Full many a flower is born to blush unseen
And waste its sweetness on the desert air.

People with souls and not much else left after paying their income taxes would feel better about it if they could see the beautiful building Cass Gilbert has built in Washington for the income tax unit of the Revenue Department. It is so lovely that one's resentment of the income tax dissolves at thought of putting even one's last cent into such a hopper. If you have any idea there shall not always be an income tax, or that the Republican party is going to get us out of it, or that sometime we shall have our pin money back, you will be disillusioned when you see the income tax building, which has been built to stand for thousands of years. It is the most permanent looking structure in Washington. They must have thought we would always need it, or they would not have let Cass design it in such stolidity. It is pretty hard to make out whether what we all paid this year paid for it or not. Probably not.

They say in Washington that Gov. Cox is too wet and too much identified with wetness to get the Democratic nomination. One gets a different perspective on the dry issue down here. At home, where wet sentiment is much more plentiful than anything to drink, one wonders why Congress votes dry every time it gets a chance; but there is no mystery about it here at Washington. Every wind that blows about the national capitol derives from the desert. Anything else is to Washington politically impracticable. To hear Washington tell it, Cox would carry the big cities—and that is all he would carry. We may think in the big cities that the liquor issue isn't settled, but they don't think that at Washington. In the opinion of Washington it is settled so one-sidedly that the sooner we realize it and turn to something else the less time we shall waste. Palmer, too, is considered here to be out of it. Champ Clark is out of it. Bryan is out of it. Bryan, they say, has no international mind, which is what one must have now. He is as hopelessly provincial as Borah and Johnson. Whether we will or no, we are going into international politics. The Republicans saw that. They refused to let Wilson become the oustanding figure in history he would have become had we accepted the peace treaty and gone into the League of Nations under his leadership. That is all there was to the fight in the Senate, so Washington says. Bryan fell for it. The man who could not see that we had to go into the war also could not see what the Senate was up to. He is the deadest of all the dead cocks in the Democratic pit. The President's position is sound, so his friends say. He will accept the Hitchcock reservations, which interpret the covenant; he will not accept the Lodge reservations, which nullify it. He will not turn foreign relations over to Congress, which has just shown what it would do with foreign relations. He amended the treaty after the first suggestions of its critics. He had the Monroe Doctrine mentioned; and he adopted Root's suggestion, though Root himself, under political pressure, subsequently repudiated the covenant. Are we mystified by the President's position? Washington is not—not Democratic Washington. The Republicans mean to ratify the treaty when they get into power. They only don't mean to give Wilson credit for it. They see that the United States cannot stand alone, nor do they mean to oppose our own wisdom to the united wisdom of the 20 odd nations already in the league. So there is your campaign issue, the thing the President himself wished to have submitted to a solemn referendum of the people.

DOGS ALLOWED, BUT NO BABIES.

From the Atlanta Constitution.

WANTED—To give away or exchange for one or two poodle dogs two beautiful babies. Almost compelled to live in this beautiful city for at least 12 months, and it seems impossible to rent a place in which to live where they do not object to children. Address Z., 304 Constitution.

The above advertisement was inserted in the Constitution's want ad column a few days ago by a man connected with one of Atlanta's large motor car accessory houses. Between the lines of cold print is a hard-luck story of house hunting similar to those told by many others.

The man came to Atlanta, Nov. 1, 1919, from a North Carolina city, where he reluctantly left his wife and babies until he could secure a place for quartering his household. And his family still remains in North Carolina, for his efforts have been unsuccessful.

Maid of the West.

O, gray-eyed maiden of the West,
What is it that you see
Upon the ocean's tranquil breast,
Where soon the sun will be:
Is it a dream of long ago
Stirs in your memory?

An ancient dream of Faery mounds
And stately Faery men,
And Faery minstrelsy, that sounds,
Half-heard, throughout the glen,
Where bright the mountain streamlet flows
And leaping, flows again.

But now the light is fading fast,
White mist the valley fills;
While Night her kerchief gray has cast
Across the purple hills,
And God at evening stills the fret
Of our too childlike wills.

THE IRISH PROBLEM.

From the London Nation.

THE first step is to suspend all exceptional laws, the next to cut down the army of occupation, and simultaneously to make a clean sweep of all the men, from Lord French to the Castle spies, who are associated with the present orgy of coercion. We would send some conciliatory nonpolitical personality temporarily to direct the administration, Mr. Justice Sankey, for example, charged with the single duty of making an atmosphere of conciliation in which sane decisions could be taken. Then let elections follow in the whole island, under proportional representation, to form a Constituent Assembly. When it had got to work and chosen its guiding committee, the time would come for serious argument. The imperial connection cannot be imposed. If it is to endure, it must be freely accepted, as the result of negotiations in which a British Government enters into treaty with an Irish Assembly. We should have to concede much, in finance, in trade, in political prestige. We might have to forego a tribute—we get none from the dominions. We might have to bargain over a commercial convention. We might have to give, what the dominions enjoy, a place in the League of Nations Assembly to Ireland. The one fatal thing to do would be to declare at the start that the Republican solution is ruled out. If Ireland feels free to adopt that form of suicide, a dozen cogent reasons will at once begin to assert their compelling power over the Irish mind. Her mind is closed, or seems to be closed, to these reasons today, only because we ostentatiously maintain the connection by force. British statesmen made the Ulster problem insoluble by declaring in advance that they will never use coercion to keep Ulster within a home-rule Ireland. They make an equally grave mistake when they declare in advance that they will always use coercion to keep Ireland within the empire. Ireland must be free to decide and she must feel herself free.

INDIA IN A FERMENT.

From the San Francisco Chronicle.

INDIA is in a ferment. The British Raj is facing the most serious condition it has had to deal with since the Sepoy mutiny. Hindustan is filled with agitation, strikes, plots and more or less open warfare against the Government, and her northern border is kept in terror by the depredations of the mountain tribesmen and the imminence of a new attack by the Afghans. For once Mohammedans and Hindoos are united against the British governors. It has long been English policy to play these two elements of the population against each other, but that has failed in the face of the general hatred of British domination. The agitation over the caliphate has been seized upon by the Hindoo revolutionaries to bring the Mohammedans into their plots. Indeed, the Hindoos are largely responsible for the strength of Mohammedan feeling over the humiliation of the Sultan, which they have carefully fomented and have now brought to a high pitch since the Turkish treaty has made the degradation of the power an accomplished fact. The turmoil has been increased by propaganda engineered by the Russian Soviet Government, which has found the Indian situation made to order for an attack on Great Britain. The seat of Bolshevik plotting in India is Kabul, where the soviet has found the new Afghan Ameer a ready instrument for its schemes to drive Britain out of Asia. Instigated by the Bolshevik mission in Kabul, the Ameer made an attack on India a year ago, only to be rather severely handled, but he is now said to have received promises of extensive military and financial aid from the soviet and to be nearly convinced that he can make a successful war on India.

The BRIDGE by JENNETTE LEE...

THIRD INSTALLMENT.

HE shook free from the question. She had never interfered with business. After the first month, when she had put quick, searching questions about the money that was building the foundry, she had never talked business. She withdrew into herself. She left him to go his way alone. And the personal allowance he placed to her credit in the bank remained there, almost untouched. For the house and for the children she spent his money freely. . . . He had never been sure.

She turned her eyes to him.

"What is it, Carter?"

The question hung on a breath.

Then he looked at her.

"Tom's in trouble," he said, quietly.

She leaned forward, with parted lips——

"Tom! O!" Her hands unclasped and leaped to him.

"What has he done?" The quiet of her face was broken.

"Misappropriation of funds. Stealing's another name for it." His voice was harsh.

"How much is it?"

"Do you mean—you would shield him?"

"O, I don't know! Could I?"

"Yes." He looked at her with deep eyes. "Yes, we can shield him." He said it gently. "We can take his sin on ourselves."

She leaned forward. "You mean you will let them think—— You will say you took it?" Her look flooded him.

He met it with a slow smile. "Do you think anyone would—believe me?"

"No—O, no!" She sank back with a catch in her breath. "No one would believe you could steal!" She laughed a little bitterly.

"They would only say I was trying to shield the boy." He spoke dispassionately.

"Then how can we—take his sin on ourselves? That is what you said—'take his sin on ourselves'!" She reached out her hands to him. "I will do it—gladly!" she whispered.

"And I," he responded. He was looking at her with deep eyes.

"Then what is it? What must we do?" She glanced at the curtained door. "He will be here." She moved anxiously.

"Not till 5," said Carter Baldwin. He got up aimlessly, as if to free himself.

"We must change the securities before Burnham comes." He glanced at the clock.

"And he will not know?"

"He will not know. No one will ever know—but you and me—and Tom."

She stared, bewildered.

"But, you said"——

"That we would take it on ourselves. Don't you see, Mary, that I am a criminal—a worse criminal than Tom—if I shield him? I am president of the bank. They trust"——

He broke off and the bank became still. Down the street they could hear the whirring of a motor coming near. She turned her head.

"It is Sue."

The girl came in, radiant. She glanced from one to the other.

"All ready?"

Her father's eyes surveyed her proudly—her gentle, laughing face, her clothes worn with the ease of wealth. And suddenly he saw that the clothes she wore could not have been bought with the allowance he made her, generous as it was. Tom had been kind to his sister.

The girl came in, radiant. She glanced from one to the other. "All ready?"

She was looking at him, smiling quizzically.

"Do I suit you?"

"You are all right!" He drew a long breath and laughed awkwardly. She was all right. Whatever Tom had done for her, she had taken with sisterly freedom. She did not guess how the money was come by.

"You're all right!" he repeated. "Run along. You will miss the game."

He shook his head. "Affairs of state. You and mother go on together."

She turned to her mother.

But the woman was not looking at her. Her eyes were on her husband's face, and there was an eager look in them—as if a young girl waked from sleep and saw beside her the youth of dreams. She bent forward to him.

"I think I will stay with you, Carter." She spoke half pleadingly.

"All right." The tone was careless. "Run along, Sue. You'll probably overtake Enright. You can give him a lift."

The girl turned with a half pout. "I wouldn't have waited—if I had known."

"We didn't know ourselves, child!" said the mother. "Your father had to stay—for business."

"But you could come."

The woman shook her head—the tremulous smile still played upon her lips. "I think I will stay with father," she said.

The door closed behind the girl, and the high, cool stillness of the bank was around them. He glanced at the clock—10 minutes to 5.

She stirred. "You said you wanted my bonds."

She opened her purse and took out a small, flat key, and held it to him.

He eyed it grimly. He glanced again at the clock.

"It will not take long?" she urged.

"No, it is simple." His lips were dry. He moistened them. "We'll put your bonds—$40,000 worth—in the box of the First National Securities and return a block of stock to the Savings box where it belongs. Then everything is straight—when Burnham comes." He looked at her with set lips.

"Is it—as simple as that?" She half whispered the words in the empty room.

He nodded. "Tom has been doing it right along. Only he has spent the forty thousand you will put back. It's been missing from one box or the other. You will not lose your money," he added harshly after a minute. "I shall make it up to you—when I have time to turn things over."

She put it aside, impatient. "He must have his chance!" A look of sternness crossed her face, blotting out its gentle sweetness. Her eyes met his in a long, full look.

"He must have his chance," she repeated slowly. "He never had a chance!" She was breathing quickly.

He came closer to her, as holding her burning gaze.

"What do you mean?" he asked hoarsely.

"He was conceived in sin! You"—— She looked off, covering her face with her hands.

He sat down beside her. A great burden seemed lifted from him.

"Mary," he spoke softly. "You knew—all these years—you have known!"

There were only low, trembling sobs in the stillness of the bank.

An unusually interesting story by HENRY C. ROWLAND, Complete in three installments.

The Man Who Loved and Lost

By SOPHIE IRENE LOEB.

A PATHETIC letter comes to me from a man who was madly in love with his wife. He treated her badly and did not appreciate her or her wants until he lost her.

He wants me to write something about it to warn others. He says:

"I love her yet, but her love for me is dead. All because I was a know-it-all and realized it too late.

"We were married very young. I had a job and that was all, for I had just returned from border service. Then came a period of quarreling; bitter lovers' quarrels they were.

"The World War was on, it was getting time for me to go. She wanted me to go, and I wanted to do my bit. So she went to business college, studied hard, found a position and she made good.

"That was the beginning of losing her, for I did not recognize a business woman's rights to independence until too late.

"I went to war. She came to camp intending to find work in the town nearby, but it was too lonesome there and I had to let her go home, for she pined away before my eyes.

"The armistice was signed. I found work. It was a good position. I strove for success. But I forgot that a woman wanted pretty things."

Evidently the woman wanted to continue work so as to help him and to have "pretty things," as he calls them. But he would not have it so.

He advises young men like him as follows:

"And now that her love is gone I know the pain of wanting. Be good to your wives and remember that they have separate wants and compromise with them and you'll both never feel the pain of wanting too late.

"And if you have a pal that's true and you ever quarrel, should you think you are right, fight hard but part friends and meet friends."

If it does not detract from their home duties and there are no children who are neglected, I can see no reason for the husband objecting to the wife's earning money, especially if the man cannot provide as well as he would like.

He is quite right in his statement that "men and women have separate wants" and the big thing is to compromise.

The best things of the world are built on compromise. And certainly married life must have this element more strongly developed than any other.

BURGESS BEDTIME STORIES

Two Unlike Little Cousins.

By THORNTON W. BURGESS.

'Tis well we are not all alike;
'Twould often be most vexing.
To rightly give each one his due
Would be, I'm sure, perplexing.
—Danny Meadow Mouse.

WHEN Peter Rabbit and the others arrived for school the next morning they found Whitefoot the Wood Mouse and Danny Meadow Mouse waiting with Old Mother Nature. Safe in her presence, they seemed to have lost much of their usual timidity. Whitefoot was sitting on the end of a log, and Danny was on the ground just beneath him.

"I want you all to look well at these two little cousins and see how unlike two cousins can be," said Old Mother Nature. "Whitefoot, who is quite as often called Deer Mouse as Wood Mouse, is one of the prettiest of the entire Mouse family. I suspect he is called Deer Mouse because the upper part of his coat is such a beautiful fawn color. Notice that the upper side of his long slim tail is of the same color, while the under side is white, as is the whole under part of Whitefoot. Also those dainty feet of his are white. See what big, soft, black eyes he has and notice that those delicate ears are of good size.

"His tail is covered with short fine

"I suppose that means that you do not sleep as Johnny Chuck does in winter," remarked Peter.

hairs instead of being naked like the tail of Nibbler the House Mouse, of whom I will tell you later. He makes his home in the Green Forest, but out in the Far West in places where there is no Green Forest he is found on the brushy plains. He is a good climber and quite at home in the trees. Tell us, Whitefoot, where you make your home and what you eat."

"My home just now," replied Whitefoot, "is in a certain hollow in a certain dead branch of a certain tree. I rather suspect that a member of the Woodpecker family made that hollow, but no one was living there when I found it. I have made a soft, warm nest there and wouldn't trade homes with anyone. I have made my home in a hollow log on the ground, in an old stump, in a hole I dug myself under a rock, and in an old nest of some bird that was in a tall bush. It was a very good home. I made a roof for the nest and had a little round doorway on the under side. Once I raised a family in a box in a dark corner of Farmer Brown's sugar camp.

"I eat all sorts of things, seeds, nuts, insects and meat when I can get it. I store up food for winter, as all wise and thrifty people do."

"I suppose that means that you do not sleep, as Johnny Chuck does in winter?" remarked Peter Rabbit.

"I should say not!" exclaimed Whitefoot. "I like winter. It is fun to run around on the snow. Haven't you ever seen my tracks, Peter?"

"I have, lots of times," spoke up Jumper the Hare. "Also I've seen you skipping about after dark. I guess you don't care much for sunlight."

"I don't," replied Whitefoot. "I sleep most of the time during the day, and work and play at night. I feel safer then. But on dull days I often come out. It is the bright sunlight I don't like. That is one reason I stick to the Green Forest. I don't see how Cousin Danny stands the sun

HOME SUGGESTIONS

WOMEN seem to like the new vestees and guimpes without sleeves that have taken the place of the blouse to wear with a suit. The vogue promises to be lasting, as it is a point of economy as well as comfort. And then some of them are so dressy in the sheer organdies and nets with fluffy frills. They are being featured in the shops and the exquisite shades of orchid, yellow, rose and blue are especially in demand.

When cooking asparagus which has long stems, place stalks upright in the lower part of a double boiler, partly fill boiler with water and invert the upper part of boiler as a lid. This gives ample room for the heads of the asparagus to stand without breaking or cutting them into shorter lengths and they cook in the steam.

In pressing silks or woolens, be very careful that the iron is not too hot. Use only medium heat, as too high a temperature discolors and rots the goods.

Wash out silk stockings, socks and underwear frequently; it prolongs their service. Never allow them to stay soiled for any length of time as the perspiration and dirt destroys the fabric.

Mrs. Solomon Says---

Being the Confessions of the Seventh-Hundredth Wife.

By HELEN ROWLAND.

MY Daughter, hearken unto the Revolt of a Bachelor, who perceiveth his Peril, and walketh warily amongst women.

"Help, help!" cryeth the Bachelor. "Now is the hour of my confusion! Now is the season of mine eternal vigilance!

"For lo, all the world conspireth to lead into Bondage, and to fasten a ball and chain upon my feet!

"Behold, one by one, I witness the downfall of my friends; and they seek to lure me with them, and entice me to their weddings!

"I am arrayed in a long-tailed coat, and decked with a foolish flower, and made to lead frilly damsels down the white-ribboned aisle, and to sit beside fluttering dowagers at the bridal feast.

"Lo, I dare not clasp a maiden's hand, lest there be a HOOK within it; I cannot permit her arms to encircle my neck, lest she place a YOKE thereon.

"For, this is the season of folly and flirtation and silly sentiment, when even the moon and the waves, and the perfumed winds, and ALL the elements are banded together for a Single Man's undoing!

"Go to! Go to! Ye Snares in Petticoats, ye Temptations in Tulle and Talcum!

"Oh, ye match-making matrons, I will bring you ices, and sit beside you between dances, and hearken unto your servant problems; but think not to talk to me of your Daughters. For I shall not listen!

"Verily, verily, all my words shall be discreet, and all mine actions cautious and self-restrained.

"I shall insulate my vanity against you, and put my sentiment away in camphor, and my affections in cold storage, until the season of the Love-moth hath passed.

"Yea, though I may lose my heart an hundred times, I shall NOT lose my head!

"Therefore, waste not your wiles and your smiles upon me, for 'Preparedness' is my slogan, and my motto is:

"'Give me one more year of Liberty—or give me death!'"

It is estimated that American women spend about $500,000,000 on clothes each year.

Ibanez On "American Women"

"Your Girls Are Delightful.
"Splendid Wives, Devoted Mothers.
"Good to Look At; Interesting to Talk To."

BY FAY STEVENSON.

"THE American girl is delightful.

"She makes a splendid wife and a dwoted mother.

"She makes a good business woman and a clever professional one.

"She can do anything from baking a pie to entertaining in the finest reception rooms.

"She is as particular about her political views and current topics as she is with her fashion papers.

"She is an allround 100 per cent woman, good to look at and interesting to talk to."

Now you know what Senor Vicente Blasco Ibanez, the Spanish novelist who came here to study America and its people, attended the Chicago convention and is soon to return to the other side to write a novel about us, thinks of American women.

"I could write 300 pages on the merits of American women alone," Senor Ibanez told me as his face lighted up and he spoke freely of what he liked about us. I asked him what quality would best represent her as "American born."

Senor Ibanez removed his monocle from his eye, let his cane rest lightly on his left arm, handed his straw hat to his interpreter and thought a moment. He speaks English quite well now, although an occasional French, or Spanish word will creep in when he becomes excited.

"I will tell you what I find most typically and strictly American in your women," said Ibanez after a few moments of deep thought. "It is their frankness. There is no air of mystery about the American girl. She is frank, open-hearted, says what she thinks and wishes you to have her direct line of thought. This is not true of the European woman, of course, who likes to hide behind the veil of mystery and keep you guessing just what she thinks.

"The American woman is a devoted wife," continued Senor Ibanez. "In America I have noticed that the average wife is what you might call the 'mother type' concerning her attitude toward her husband. She realizes he is busy, lives in a hard, money-making age, and it seems to me that she is exceptionally kind and considerate of his nerves. She does not expect to be his little doll-baby wife, but a helpmate who is willing to bear her share of the work.

"I have, of course, noted that there is a spendthrift type of wife who apparently goes through her husband's bankroll and makes him sink or swim, who cares only for the society limelight, but the average woman, what you would call the home-maker, who lives in an apartment or perhaps the suburbs, is an ideal woman. She thinks first of her husband, then her children and her home and with it all she is not so domesticated that she cannot find time to read and attend lectures."

"What do you think of women in politics and the part they played at the Chicago convention?" I asked.

"The American woman has a clear brain," was the prompt reply. "She is as clever as her father or her brothers."

"And the business woman? What do you think of her?"

"The American woman is a wonder in the business world. She has success written in her face and on everything she does. No matter whether she enters the professional or business world she has so much energy and gives so much of her vital forces and energy to her work that she is bound to succeed.

"And she is so clever in combining her work with matrimony," continued the Spanish novelist. "She seems to be able to build up a large practice as a lawyer or a doctor, write 'best sellers' and still keep her home life happy, frequently bringing two or three children into the world and always winning the love and admiration of her husband.

"But it is for her allroundness, her 100 per cent ability to make a pie, lecture or entertain as a charming hostess that I most admire her," concluded Senor Ibanez, "and her strong desire to devote just as much attention to the columns which are given over to political news and editorials as to the fashion papers."

Activities of Women

French suffragists favor the surtax on single women as well as bachelors.

Mrs. Arthur Hamilton, daughter of Sir Charles Fairlie-Cunninghame, is training for an attempt to swim the English Channel in August.

The women delegates and alternates from New York to the Democratic convention in San Francisco will travel in a special train.

The educated women in Czecho-Slovakia are without a doubt the most progressive along these lines of any of the European nations.

Esther Kaplan, aged 13, of Kansas City, Mo., did six problems in 47 seconds that took an adding machine demonstrator one minute and 40 seconds to do.

Mrs. Annette A. Adams, Federal District Attorney of San Francisco, just appointed by President Wilson as First Assistant United States Attorney-General, is the first woman in the country to hold such office. She will have charge of the enforcement of tax and custom laws, the war risk, pure food, quarantine and Adamson acts, and also will have supervisory control over Federal prisons.

Uncommon Sense

By John Blake.

Push Will Help You More Than Pull.

PULL, in the vernacular, means influence. There is no denying that it is often helpful.

Out of your own acquaintance you could name 20 men who owe their positions to it. But what do they amount to? Nothing.

If you have pull enough to help you get a start in life, use it. Starts are not easily come by. Any honest means you can find of getting on is worth taking.

But always remember that pull will get you nothing but a start. The minute you are on your way, you must travel on what you have got, not on what anyone else can give you.

The friend who helps you to a start will soon come to regard you as a nuisance if you lean on him after that.

He did all that could be expected of him when he recommended you for a place, or gave you one.

Your value, remember, consists in what you can do for other people, not what they can do for you.

Your work must show a profit, or nobody will purchase it. If you are the helpless sort, always depending on others for suggestions and assistance, there is no profit in you, and you are merely a drag on industry.

It is of course always possible to get started without pull. If it were not, about three-quarters of the men in this world would never get started at all.

You can, if you are determined, break into almost any business and make your way, even when most of the people in the business, as they will be, are trying to keep you out.

But diffidence is common among all beginners. It is likely to be your handicap. If it is, do not despise a pull. Get one if you can, and use it for all it is worth.

But use it only to do the breaking in. Once broken in forget it, or it will be a vexation to you and to your associates all your life long.

And, whether you began with a pull or not, always be ready to help others when you can. They may need a pull, too, when they are beginning. It is only decent for you to aid them. But after that you will do them a kindness if you let them make their way with no further attention from you.

Lift Off Corns!

Doesn't hurt! Lift touchy corns and calluses right off with fingers

Apply a few drops of "Freezone" upon that old, bothersome corn. Instantly that corn stops hurting. Then shortly you lift it right off, root and all, without pain or soreness.

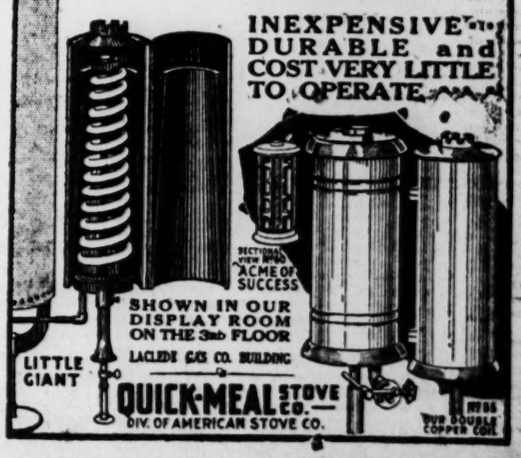

Hard corns, soft corns, corns between the toes, and the hard skin calluses on bottom of feet lift right off—no humbug!

MORE TRUTH THAN POETRY

By James J. Montague.

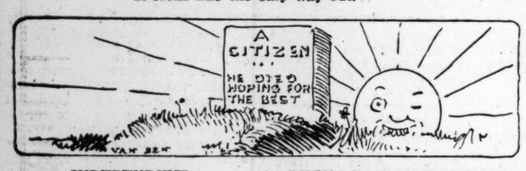

JUST A SUGGESTION

When milk is a quarter a bottle,
And strawberries five cents apiece;
When you get a new raise every two or three days
And must pay it—or chuck up your lease,
You can turn to a lower priced diet,
And also, of course, you can move,
And if you stand pat and don't run like a rat,
Conditions, perhaps, will improve.

When clothes cost a hundred a garment,
And garments don't last very long,
You can go and buy all of your clothes in Bengal
Or—nearer and cheaper—Hong Kong.
Or even dispense with all clothing,
In the sunshine of Zanzibar town.
Just live for a while on that fair smiling isle,
And prices perhaps will come down.

If the coal that you need for the winter,
Goes up to a hundred a ton,
You can build an igloo like the Eskimos do,
In fact like they always have done.
As soon as the coal man discovers
No customers call at his shop,
He will have to sell coal or he'll go in the hole,
And prices may possibly drop.

Of course in pursuing this practice
You will probably give up and die;
In which dismal event you will not care a cent
If prices are low or are high.
We merely submit this suggestion
With heavy misgiving and doubt.
It may not be sound, but as far as we've found
It looks like the only way out.

Convict Labor

The restless individuality of the American soldier, who was always seeking a shorter way to do things, made him appear to the French and British as hopelessly undisciplined.

A unit of the Seventy-eighth Division, pressing on under shell fire in the battle of the Meuse-Argonne, finally stopped under orders to dig in as fast as possible. In a moment dirt was flying along the whole line.

Out in front, however, just behind a slight natural mound, one doughboy lay motionless with his rifle slanted toward the enemy.

"Make a hole! Make a hole!" yelled the Lieutenant, coming up.

"Sh-h! Don't excite my contractor," the doughboy replied.

Over the edge of the mound the Lieutenant saw a German prisoner feverishly digging almost at the end of the doughboy's gun.—Home Sector.

Good Will.

A professional beggar of Chicago expressed his surprise at finding a colleague in an unaccustomed part of town.

"What are you doing here, Bill?" he demanded. "I thought your stand was near the bridge?"

"Oh," explained the other, "I gave that to my son as a wedding present."—Harper's.

The Number.

He lay by the roadside, groaning and writhing with pain. A policeman came up and asked him what was the matter.

"I ate one—I ate one," moaned the sufferer.

The policeman was puzzled at first, but quickly grasped the situation.

"Poison!" he muttered. All poisons have antidotes. Therefore, it was necessary to discover which poison the sufferer had taken in order to administer the right antidote.

"Well, what did you eat?" gently inquired the Constable.

"You blithering ass," retorted the sufferer. "I didn't eat anything!"

"Then why did you say 'I ate one?'"

"Because I—81 is the number of the motor that knocked me down, you idiot!" yelled the victim.—Toronto Mail.

Oh!

"Did your husband die a natural death?" asked the Low-Necked Widow.

"No," replied the High-Browed Widow. "He was motocuted."

"He was what?" demanded the Low-Necked Widow.

"He was motocuted," replied the High-Browed Widow. "He was killed by a motor car,"—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Just Like Mushrooms.

"Colonel, you are considered a connoisseur of good liquor."

"So some say."

"It is very simple. If the liquor doesn't kill you, it's good."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Laura: No: busy curiosity. Her curiosity is never idle.—Stray Stories.

Paris and Jackson.

Before the army draft blew Sam Johnston away from his pleasant job as chauffeur in Jackson, Miss., that city represented to him all that was metropolitan. Sam came home not many weeks ago from a tour of duty in a labor battalion in France, however, with new standards of comparison.

His employer, questioning him about his travels, asked him how he liked New York.

"Well, boss," he said, "I don't like New York so much. Hit aint' nothing like Jackson." He paused a moment and added, "But Paris, now, Paris hit do favor Jackson."—New York Evening Post.

Always on the Contrary.

It is impossible to please the neighbors. If you take good care of your child they say you are keeping him too close, and if you turn him loose they say you are letting him run wild. If you punish him occasionally they declare you do nothing but beat the little fellow, and if you don't punish him they say they would like to have charge of him for about five minutes.—Kansas City Star.

Professional Interest.

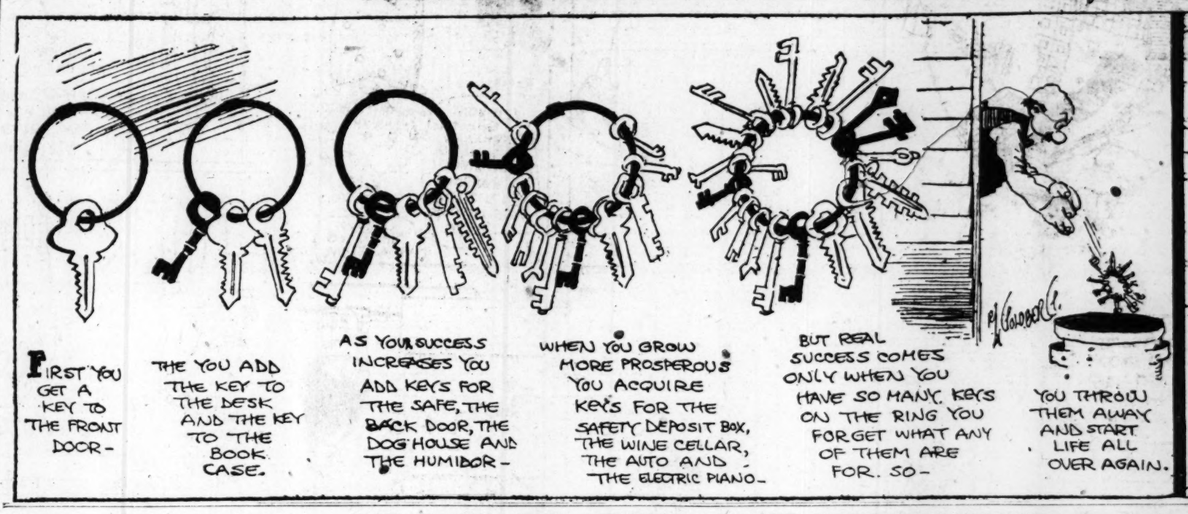

The following amazing incident occurred at a hairdresser's in a small town in Lancashire.

Customer: Well, Shears, what did you think of the Bishop's sermon Sunday? I saw you in church.

Barber: Yes, sir, I was there; but to tell the truth, there was a man sat in front of me whose hair wanted cutting so badly that I couldn't hear a word.—Edinburg Scotsman.
